MEMORANDA
HAYWARD FESTIVAL AND CONCERT AT VICTORIA HALL AT 7 P.M.

MUTUAL METHODISM

With much fear and trembling the delegates of the various Methodist bodies in Canada met in Conference at Belleville for the purpose of commencing an organic union, which for about 40 years has been agitating the adherents of the various bodies.

The union will take effect next year. In the meantime there will probably be an interchange amongst the various bodies. Sociability can remove the last traces of feeling, and in July next being the various bodies together as a grand and harmonious whole.

A NEW MAGDALEN

The Kingston News is shocked beyond measure, we find upon being directed back a day or two, at the "poor persecution" of Sergeant Major Bell, and we are treated to a homily upon the duty of settling such things in private.

WELCOMING THE GOVERNOR

The United Methodist Conference has done an act and not an example which Canadians will not be slow to appreciate—the early preparation of an address of welcome to the incoming Governor General, the Marquis of Lansdowne.

In their next session. The London Illustrated News tells us that at a dinner lately given in the Town Hall, Oxford, by the Palatine Club, the Liberal Club of that ancient university, the toast of the House of Lords was acknowledged in "a thrilling, willing and largely dialectical speech, by the Marquis of Lansdowne."

CRURCH OPENING

The Presbyterian Advance at Sharbot Lake—A Large Attendance at the Services.

Wednesday was a red letter day at the picturesque village of Sharbot Lake owing to the opening of the new Presbyterian Church, erected mainly through the efforts of Mr. Louis Perrin, a student of Queen's College.

At 4 o'clock a bell rang as a signal for the people to assemble in the church, but it would not work. The afternoon was too gloriously fine, the scenery too grand, and the other pleasures too numerous to give way in attraction before a meeting in a warm church.

Two things that marred the enjoyment of the delightful day—the first, the fearful amount of drunkenness and profanity on the part of the railroad navvies at Sharbot Lake. The sweating and fighting was simply awful, and here and there by the roadside could be seen a man dead drunk.

THE MUSICAL TRAIL

The concert was a great success, the Church being nicely filled. Rev. Mr. Holden occupied the chair and introduced a lengthy programme which was highly appreciated.

Clerical Swindler. Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 17.—About two years ago Rev. F. C. Hughes arrived in this village, and with winning ways and smooth tongue caused the citizens to believe he was a most proper person.

He was given the freedom of St. Peter's church and preached a good sermon. He was considered to be a very nice man by the people. On Monday he was without funds, so called upon some of the vestry to endorse a check for him, but without success.

As a last effort he approached the Rev. Charles Balkes, the regular minister, and Mr. Balkes promptly endorsed the paper, and Hughes subsequently had it cashed at the bank. Subsequently Mr. Balkes discovered that the check was not good, and was obliged to pay $50 for his signature.

Efforts were made to find the fugitive minister, but without success. His agents visited Niagara, and as a consequence a haul approached one of the prominent manufacturers at the Falls, who furnished him with some very nice furniture for the vestry room of the church, St. John's, of St. Catharines.
