IS IT SO HARD.

Is it then so hard to die?
Life hath not so much treasured bliss
Above the cold parting sigh
Death in love hath to withdraw.
Now it cometh cold to Do.
Lull in some dear chamber dusk!
While the loved ones tearfully
Move around with silent, hushed tread.
Then we shall be sleeping long
Underneath the mould let the tears,
Is it then so hard to sleep,
After all the wakeful years?

What should make us fear or fail?
That we never wake again?
What is death but day shall pass?
Is it not sure end of pain?
Perfect slumber, perfect rest,
No more hold, nor touch, nor sense,
No more hopeless, weary quest,
No more failure of life's tense.
No more to-day hands to reap,
No more waking make tears
Is it then so hard to sleep
After all the wakeful years?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

BID APOLOGIZE.

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—I am surprised at seeing in your paper a letter from Timothy Lawrence on to the case of Mrs. Green against him in which he denies making an apology or expressing any regret. His denial is absolutely untrue. He did apologize and he did express regret and he did so in presence of the solicitors and of the Police Magistrate and Chief of Police. Upon his doing so and paying the costs of court the case was withdrawn.

Yours &c.,
GEORGE GREEN.
Kingston, Sept. 22nd, 1883.

A WORD FOR THE MAJOR.

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—Anonymous correspondents in both Whig and News have unfairly censured Major Moore for relating incidents about clergymen that came under his personal observation during his voyage across the ocean. I have a natural knowledge of worm casts than those which the Major told us about. I have seen a Presbyterian clergyman playing cards at a social gathering of men, where smoking, drinking, billiard playing and gambling were in full progress. I have seen a Church of England clergyman drink his whiskey toddy and grow fuddled over it. I have heard a Methodist clergyman relate a filthy and profane story, the offspring of a gin shop. Any one of the foregoing is worse than what we heard from the Major, nevertheless they are facts well known to many persons in this city.

No sensible person will say that odd exceptions affect the general purity of the clergy, but everyone must admit that individuals who disgrace their sacred calling ought to be exposed. The Major makes no attacks on clergymen as such, but he despises and wages war against hypocrites.

VERITAS.
Kingston, Sept. 24.

THE ARTILLERY COMPETITION.

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—Whoever supplied the information about the artillery held on page 3 issue of yesterday was not very well posted. Next after the Montreal Field Battery 466, comes the No. 1 Battery Provisional Brigade, Guelph, 446. The third being the Welland Battery with only one point less in their score, 444. Corporal Light, Hamilton Field Battery, takes the individual prize with the high score of 49 out of a possible 50. The Kingston Battery shot well, making the large score of 430. It is sweet to hear that the badge fiend was not bitter in every way than under the old system.

Two batteries of Ontario fired this year for the first time on equal conditions and over the same rings, that at the Woodbine Park, Toronto, than which a better could hardly be wished for. All agreed in considering this new system a great improvement, reducing as it does favoritism in the conditions of the practice to a minimum. Under the old arrangements the competing batteries had to take the same chances of a few hours' rain on the day during their training which was chosen for the practice.

—Yours truly,
A GUNNER.

Sept. 22nd, 1883.

NEED OF A DRY DOCK.

The Editor, British Whig.

SIR,—It is not often that I trouble you with a communication, but the present demands that you should know what is going on and get ideas about matters that concern the welfare of our city and harbour. You are aware that the prop. Pressie was sunk somewhere near Brockville several days ago. She was brought here and on Saturday last the proprietors of the old Empire Foundry Dock tried to dock her and failed. In consequence the Pressie had to be towed to a foreign port. Now, sir we have only to look to Owen Sound some few years ago, and see what it did when the question of a dry dock came before the people. What did they do? They granted a bonus of $15,000 and gave the site for the dry dock free. They have to-day a dry dock suitable for all purposes. Again Collingwood came forward when a dry dock was spoken of and granted a bonus of $50,000 and a site for the buildings. But what was the subject of a fashion few, when the Power Dry Dock Company asked the city not for a bonus but to take stock to the amount of $150,000. Why they went amongst the voters on the day the vote was taken, and the by-law was defeated by a small number. Such parties call themselves the workingmen's friend in election times. The consequence is simply that we have no dry dock to repair vessels like the Pressie, and they will be obliged to leave here and go elsewhere to be repaired. This is a great loss to the workmen and the city generally. It is time that steps should be taken to complete this work, which is of so much importance to the interest of our city. I hear that of the dock in question were in working order, which could not cost a large amount compared with the benefits derived therefrom, the Government will grant a bonus of 2 per cent. per annum on the general outlay for twenty years.—I am, Sir, respectfully yours,

A WORKINGMAN.
Kingston, 24th Sept., '83.

MEDICAL HYPOCRITE AGAIN.

The Editor, British Whig.

DEAR SIR,—I see by to-night's paper that another poor unfortunate man met with a threshing machine accident near Shirley's Bay, by which he lost his foot. I learn also by the same notice that Dr. Bowen, of Shirley's Bay, amputated the limb. Now the part of this paragraph referring to Dr. Bowen represents the whole extent to which I advocate "unwarranted criticism" in my speech before the Canada Medical Association and which, among other reforms suggested, was so warmly repudiated by certain learned gentlemen present. The newspaper has simply told in thousand and one teachers that Dr. Bowen amputated Mr. Dillon's limb; the public know thereby that Dr. Bowen can amputate limbs, and those in his vicinity, or who live nearest to him, who may unfortunately require such an operation, are convinced that they need not send miles away to some other place to get a surgeon when required for such a misfortune. I hold that Dr. Bowen receives from such a notice only what is due to him. The public at large are the gainers and nobody is wronged by it, notwithstanding that such a notice is a direct violation of the straightlaced code of medical etiquette. Now-had Dr. Bowen advertised that he was prepared to amputate limbs, excise tumors, &c., in the most approved method, or at the lowest rates; or had it been stated that the doctor had performed his work with remarkable dexterity or uncommon skill, or had similar comments been made thereon, I should most unhesitatingly condemn such a course. Both "advertising" and "puffing" I denounced at the meeting, but a simple statement of the fact I held was not objectionable and certainly ought to be permitted by our codes when suggesting the propriety of certain reforms.

We are taught to believe that the press spreads knowledge. If this be its function surely then to spread abroad the knowledge of where and by whom the unfortunate sufferers can obtain the most speedy relief should form no inconsiderable item in its multifarious duties. I know well that objections can be raised against such notices, but I know also that such are daily finding their way into the public prints, and hence I ask, would it not be better to have this matter free to each medical man's own jurisdiction by revoking the ban that is now recorded against it and removing it from the black catalogue of crimes against medical etiquette? Hoping to see the doctrines and practices of our eminent and honourable profession daily adapting themselves to a more perfect accordance with each other.—I remain, yours truly,

THOS. R. DUPUIS.
Sept. 22nd, 1883.

BILL NYE'S HORNETS.

Last fall I desired to add to my rare collection a large hornet's nest. I had an embalmed tarantula and her parchment-lined nest, and I desired to add to these the gray and airy home of the hornet. I procured one of the large size after the cold weather and hung it in my cabinet by a string. When warm weather came something reminded me of it. I think it was a hornet. He jogged my memory in some way and called my attention to it. Memory is not located as to where I thought it was. It seemed as though wherever he touched me he awakened a memory—a warm memory, with a red place all around it.

Then some more hornets came and began to make up old personalities. I remember that one of them hit on my upper lip. His thought it was a rosebud. When he went away it looked like a gladiolus bulb. I wrapped a wet sheet around it to take out the warmth and reduce the swelling, so that I could go through the lighting doors and tell my wife about it.

Hornets hit all over me and walked around on my person. I did not dare to scrape them off, because they are so sensitive. You have to be very guarded in your conduct toward a hornet.

I remember once while I was watching the busy little hornet gathering honey and June bugs from the bosom of a rose, years ago, I stirred him up with a club, more as a practical joke than anything else, and he came and lit on my sunny hair—that was when I wore my own hair—and he walked around through my gumming tresses quite a while, making tracks as large as a watermelon all over my head. If he had not run out of tracks my head would have looked like a bust of summer squashes. I remember I had to thump my head against the smoke-house in order to smash him, and I had to comb him out with a fine comb and wear a waste-paper basket two weeks for a hat.

Much has been said of the hornet, but he has an odd, quaint way after all that is forever new.

A CASE FROM DESERONTO.

At the police court, Belleville, a case of alleged indecent assault was heard by Police Magistrate Holden. The parties interested reside in Deseronto. The prosecutrix is a young married woman and the defendant a lineman in one of the mills there. The latter called on the 7th inst. at the house of the plaintiff to make an inspection of the premises. He was met at the door by a married woman who resided there, and from her he learned that the lady of the house was at home. The defendant made an examination of the house and asked if there were any repairs necessary upstairs. He was answered in the affirmative, and at once proceeded to ascend the steps. The prosecutrix—the lady of the house—it appears, was still in bed, and when the visitor entered her room she sprang out on the floor. This is when the alleged assault was committed. The defendant claims that he merely tapped her on the shoulder and said "You don't rise very early." She says he threw his arms around her waist and made one or two attempts to kiss her. The defendant pleaded guilty to common assault after the evidence was taken, and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $18.40.

Hostetter's Asthma Syrup.

The greatest medical wonder of the world, warranted to speedily cure Horses, Sheep, Cattle, Hogs, Dogs, Fowls, Canaries, Pigeons, Rabbits, Squirrels, Monkeys, Parrots and all other creatures; guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. 25 cents per box. For sale by J. C. King.

W. J. Green, druggist, of Newbury writes:—"Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is just the thing for Summer Sickness. I sold out my whole three boxes last summer. There was a good demand for it." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is infallible for Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach and Bowel Complaints.

In Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters we feel we have a specific for Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Indigestion. You are foolish if you suffer, and do not try it. For sale by all Druggists.

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters are not an Alcoholic Stimulant, but a purely Vegetable Medicine, Carminative and Tonic in its action and invaluable in all affections of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Consumption.—A cause well known in connection with this disease, which accounts very large for its natural color by a few weeks use. Sold at 25 cents a bottle by all druggists.

THE ATHLETES' DAY.

Genuine Sport in the Park on Saturday Afternoon—Football Contest Won by Kingston.

We are pleased to note that decided interest is manifested in manly sports by the young men of our city. We hope that this interest will be fostered and that before long Kingston will become noted for its athletics and athletic competitions. "Let me see the stuff your youths are made of and I can tell what kind of men they will make," said an eminent man some years ago. Had he been on the Cricket Field on Saturday afternoon he would have been pleased. In many of the larger cities Saturday afternoons are devoted to sports and we would be glad to see such a thing here. We have the material for any kind of game. When we have military, civil and collegiate club competitions of very interesting characters could be easily had.

A GAME OF BASE BALL.

In a portion of the park the Baker-Farren combination played base ball. They gathered an interesting crowd of spectators. They were rivals instead of partners. Baker pitched curved balls for his side, his facial contortions and twist of the leg being quite laughable. Farren couldn't twist his leg so he pitched "straights." Trees served as bases and the fair females of the Company cheered the players and kept the score. Mr. Baker's side were victorious, the score being 10 to 4 runs. The pitchers talked all the while in a comical way, Baker in a Dutch dialect and Farren with a rich Irish brogue.

ON THE CRICKET GROUNDS.

The Cricket Club practiced, and lawn tennis players had two screens. Interest chiefly centered in the football match, which occurred according to the Rugby rules. The teams were "B" Battery vs. Kingston Civic Club. The Batterymen were the heaviest in build by a long odds, but they could not get away with the Kingstonians. The play was rather rough, and such pushing and shoving, racing and sweating we have seldom seen. The men's jerseys did not look very graceful when the game was over. The play continued for one hour without goals being secured. Kingston, however, made four touchdowns to the three of the Batterymen. Another match will be played.

A QUOIT MATCH.

At the quoit match played on Saturday for the silver quoits given by the Captain. Thos. McCormick won the first three times, and received one from the President. The following are the scores for the other match: First ballot—Hinde, 21; Pennell, 18; Miller, 21; Matthews, 18; Hall, 21; Watson, 19; Quigley, bye. Second ballott—Hall, 21; Miller, 18; Quigley, 21; Hinde 18.

Quigley and Hall will play off. Hinde and Hall have held the quoit twice. If Hall now beats Quigley it will be his. The club are arranging for a competition during the Fair week and for the entertainment of the Belleville Club.

FOOTBALL NEWS.

Rugby football in the Province promises to be interesting this fall on view of the contest for the Ontario Challenge Cup. The executive of the Ontario Union will have matches decided by a scale of points instead of by goals and ties as at present. The first team in the championship contest must be played on or before Saturday, October 13. Kingston Royal Military College v. Queen's University will be played in Kingston. The winners will play against each other until only two clubs remain.

Things are looking bright for the Central Football Association this season. Most of the Clubs are organizing for the fall contests for the Association championship. The territory of the Association extends from Toronto to Kingston and includes the Universities.

The Clubs are divided into groups. Each Club must play two games with every other Club in the group. These contests must be over by the second Saturday in November. The date has been purposely placed late in the season to give the Universities and Colleges opening in October an opportunity of taking part.

The Club of each group winning the highest number of goals in these contests will be styled "Group Champion Club." The various group champions will then be drawn against one another for the Association championship. J. C. McLeod is a Vice-President of the Association.

GOOD LIGHT.

With the long evenings before you good light becomes a positive necessity. Every person recognizes this and for this reason Polson & Co., Princess St., the well known druggists have purchased a full season's supply of the celebrated water white American oil. Price same as common Canadian oil sold by other dealers. Remember the name Polson & Co., the druggists.

The Greatest Blessing Conferred

is a preparation of carbolic acid, vinegar and tar also called McGregor & Parlin's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, old, sore or bruise when all other preparations fail. Call at Chown's Drug store and get a package. Twenty cents is all it costs.

The Princess of Wales has set the fashion of wearing hair of flowers, artificially dyed to produce novel effects. Any desired shade, procured in a few minutes easily and cheaply by Diamond Package Dyes. Ask for a 10 cent package at your druggists', Hinde.

The most miserable mortal on earth is probably the confirmed dyspeptic. Burdock Blood Bitters cure Dyspepsia and all diseases of the Stomach, Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Do not trust an' cheap kind, but calibrate the proprietors for proof.

Will infuse with new life the weakest invalid.

The Habits, occupations, vices and unnatural modes of living which seem to follow evolution have the effect of depleting the human system of its necessary supply of iron, and science having determined this, was bound to find means to re-establish that supply. It was an important and difficult task; but it has been accomplished. In the SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS which have so quickly secured the endorsement of medical men as well as the public generally.

Iron in combination with other vital Tonics is found in a proper form for quick assimilation, and the opinion of the oldest medical men who have examined this preparation is that it is the best thing of the kind ever invented.
