

PUBLISHERS NOTICE. The Whig is published daily except on Sundays and public holidays.

Daily British Whig.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The Salvation Army has celebrated its eighteenth anniversary. At the last anniversary there were only 700 corps and 700 officers.

APPLYING THE STRAP.

The public mind seems to be wonder fully excited over the tawing which a school teacher gave to a refractory boy some days ago.

It will be noticed by the report that a great deal has been said about the strap, which was passed around the boy's neck and fastened to his arms.

The trustees of to-day are more considerate than those of a decade ago, and perhaps they have justification.

JAQUES CARTIER EXHIBITION. To-day polling is in progress in Jacques Cartier, the candidates being the Premier of the Province of Quebec, Hon. Mr. Meunier, and Mr. Deschamps.

Mr. Meunier did not dare to face the issue until Hon. Mr. Chaplain took the stump in his interest, though it is doubtful if the partnership be as helpful as some suppose it is.

The question with the children is not whether Mr. Chaplain is a persecuted, poor man, or whether he is what he is represented, but simply how strong a following can be secured.

Mr. Chaplain is not, moreover, in a position to do Mr. Meunier a great individual service, but he knows how to use the electoral machine, and that is the most important item in the political candidate at the present juncture.

LATE LOCAL NEWS.

A Suburban Disaster. Devoir J. Graham, of "B" Battery, 2nd Bn. mounted on Feb. 20th, and was a native of New Brunswick.

HELLER TRUMPED.

Taking the Boys in—Demanding Their Money—The Forfeiture of a Bond—Police Detectives.

Last night W. R. Heller, of Ottawa, under the name of Heller, was arrested to give a wonderful sight of hand exhibition in the City Hall.

The exhibitor had a present for each one, but the local agent did not pass them out, probably because he did not know they were for distribution.

There was trouble and commotion in Spence & Creweley's on Princess Street, all day and for a very good reason.

To describe the colors would be difficult. A lady remarked that the most fashionable shades were hunter's green, sea-green, crushed pumpkin, brown, orange, and blue.

The monthly department is well supplied. The chief girls will be four-handed, with machine, and Mother Hubbard children. Other novelties are made from materials.

Written from the Detective. The following was the petition circulated by W. Barry and signed by 110 merchants and professional men.
