Mutual Marriage Aid Association of Canada.

Unquestionably the Most Popular Institution of the day is the above Association. AND WHY? Because at comparatively small cost it makes provision for the payment on marriage of from $250 to $1,000.

UNMARRIED PERSONS OF BOTH SEXES and parents are particularly interested in this institution, and should at once look into the plan of operation. [illegible] WALTER D. WOODS, Sec'y, Hamilton, Ont. [illegible]

MY MARRIAGE.

What Trouble a Lack of Confidence Brought—A Foolish Wife's Coquetry.

Lena comes in alone after all; and her bright smiling presence seems to bring a fresh wholesome atmosphere into the room.

"Chris brought me home," she begins [illegible] ignorance of what has happened, "and he is as sulky as a bear. He hardly said a word all the way from Ripley; and I could not persuade him to come in. He is quite queer tonight."

This announcement is received in solemn silence. I dare not look at Bee, and can only stare hopelessly at Lena's face.

"Something must have put him out dreadfully," she goes on, every word as clear as a bell. "He took no dinner, and disappeared immediately after. Captain Delacourt seemed out of sorts too. He said he had letters to write; so Chris had to escort me, sorely against his will"—laughing pleasantly.

"You could not have had a very pleasant evening," I remark; and Lena laughs again.

"Oh, I didn't mind, it rather amused me. Captain Delacourt is going away for good—he told me so himself to-night; and he is just as much out of sorts as Chris. Perhaps they have had a quarrel."

"Perhaps they have," I say in desperation, looking for one second at Bee, who has never spoken since Lena came into the room; and in that one brief look I see an expression coming into my sister's face which makes my heart ache. I know what Clive Delacourt is to her now when I meet the wordless anguish in the startled dark eyes; and I hate him with a hatred that I never thought I could feel for mortal man.

Suddenly I see Lena looking from one to another wonderingly.

"Has anything happened?" she asks. "You all seem so strange to-night."

I look quickly at Bee, and meet an imploring, beseeching glance; so I say, with assumed carelessness—

"How can you expect us to be cheerful, Lena? We have been at home all day—I have a horrid headache too. I think we ought all to go to bed."

Lena looks puzzled still.

[illegible]

Bee turns round from the window, and when she speaks her voice is as even as usual; there is not a tremor in its smooth sweet tone. [illegible]

TH E GALLOWS' SHADOW.

An Irishman's Sad Fate—Pining Away in Prison—Discomfiture of a Friend.

Lackawana, Pa., Nov. 6.—The appearance of Hugh Gilfillan, after an absence in the West for 30 years, has revived a sad, sad story. Mr. Gilfillan came to search for his friend Andrew Callinghan, whom he left here in 1849. Gilfillan and Callinghan came from Ireland and found employment on the New York & Erie RR. Gilfillan tired of his job went to Ohio thence to California where he got wealthy. He returned East to look up his old friend and take him to Ireland. He learns that two weeks after his departure Callinghan and a number of Irishmen were in a saloon and an Englishman named Keys undertook to "clean out" the room. In the scuffle Callinghan stabbed Keys to the heart. Callinghan was lodged in gaol at Milford. He was tried at the Pike County Court in 1849, found guilty of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged. A motion for a new trial was overruled. 1849 was the last one of the term of the Governor then occupying the chair in Pennsylvania, and it expired without the incumbent signing Callinghan's death warrant. His successor declined to sign the warrant. Callinghan lay in gaol, daily expecting to hear of his doom announced until 1852. When placed in gaol he was a strong, robust man, but the daily expectation that he maintained for nearly four years for news of his fate wore him to a shadow. He frequently begged to be taken out and hanged or killed and put out of misery. In 1852 application was made for a writ of error. It was issued and argument resulted in Callinghan's discharge. He was a dying man and lived but a short time.

On learning the fate of his friend Gilfillan declared that he could not return to his native land and carry such tidings of Callinghan's end to his friends. He would return to the West and there spend the rest of his days.

Physicians & Invalids

Can try the Spirometer and consult the Surgeons of the celebrated International Throat and Lung Institute free, by calling at the City Hotel, Kingston, Nov. 15, 16, 17 18th. This instrument, the wonderful invention of Dr. M. Souvielle, of Paris, Ex-Aide Surgeon of the French, which conveys the medical properties of medicines directly to the seat of disease, is the only thing that will cure permanently diseases of the air passages, viz: Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption in its first stages. Crowds are visiting them in every town and thousands of poor sufferers are being cured every year by these celebrated physicians who have offices in London, Eng., Montreal, P.Q., Toronto, Ont., Winnipeg, Man., Detroit, Mich., and Boston, Mass. If impossible to call personally, write for list of questions and copy of International News, published monthly, to 173 Church St. Toronto. Office for Ontario.

Everybody He! Ho!

Read this carefully. If you or any friend are suffering from any kind of pain, internal, local or external, try Polson's Nerviline, the sure pop pain cure. Nerviline is one of the most elegant combinations ever offered to the public for the relief of pain. Pleasant to take, powerful in effect, sure in results, and cheap because the strongest, purest and most certain pain remedy in the world. You can test this great remedy by going to Polson's and King's drug stores and buying a 10 cent sample bottle. Try it at once.

Have You Thought of It.

For four thousand years or more the world groaned, suffered, and fumed about its corns, for there was no positive relief—no certain and painless cure until Dr. Scott Putnam gave to the world his great Corn Extractor. If there is suffering now it is a result of carelessness, for the remedy is at hand. Try Putnam's Corn Extractor. It is sure, painless, and prompt. Beware of substitutes. N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

Testimonial.

Toronto, Dec. 20th.

I have much pleasure in recommending the Galvanic Soles to any one troubled with cold feet, and believe they will prevent a great many complaints which this changeable climate causes.

Major J. W. Selby.

W. J. Wilson, the Pharmacy, agent for Kingston.

A Wrong Opinion.

Many a dollar is paid for prescriptions for some disease that never troubled the patient, and when the sole difficulty was worms, which a few of Freeman's Worm Powders would remove. These Powders are pleasant, safe and sure, contain their own cathartic, and are adapted for children or adults.

A Good Introduction.

J. Kennedy, a merchant in Dixie, about three years ago introduced Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam to his customers by trying it in his own family for Coughs and Colds. Being pleased with results, large sales followed, and it is now the favorite remedy in that neighborhood.

Now that there is a reliable remedy for kidney troubles half the terrors attached to these complaints have been removed. For this let all be thankful, and to Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure award all praise for having thus removed a hitherto considered fatal disease from our path. It was never known to fail. Sold by all druggists.

John R. Vert, says: "McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Indigestion is cheap at fifty times the price asked for it I am a commercial man, and travel continually, and would no more think of leaving home without a bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure in my valise than I would of leaving my team at home and going on foot." Free trial bottles at Chown's Drug Store. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

Maxim.—To be healthy use Crowfoot Bitters. To be wealthy sell them. You will prove yourself wise by keeping them constantly in the house.

Andrew Howe, Esq., of Meaford, says he was entirely relieved of indigestion by using Crowfoot Bitters.
