Caused Work for a Time.

This morning the Corliss engine at the Locomotive Works broke down. The cylinder was blown out, the piston broken and other damage done. Owing to the accident it is expected that the men employed in the big workshop will receive a vacation for several weeks.

Rented His Farm.

Edward O'Reilly, of Wolfe Island, owns a valuable farm of 320 acres near Portage La Prairie. He has just rented it for four years at the following figures: First year, $1,975; next three years $1,200 per annum. The farm is in a highly improved state.

Sent Up for Five Months.

Harcourt Leon was not convicted of the theft of a silver sardine box from Dr. Richey. The woman could not swear that he was the man who left the tankard at her place. Leon was sent to goal for five months on a charge of vagrancy.

Yesterday's Storm.

A very heavy gale blew yesterday from the southward. About 3 o'clock it reached a climax. The water was very turbulent, and as the waves struck the wharves they were sent clear over them. The only serious damage reported is the wreck of W. McKenzie's raft in Cataraqui Bay. The timber was well scattered, but not lost.

Promenade Concerts.

Last evening "B" Battery Band asked for the use of the City Hall, free of rent for their promenade concerts. There was demurring at first, owing to the fact that the band was neither a religious nor charitable institution; but when it was pointed out that the city was under a compliment to the band the Aldermen with one voice declared in favor of the request. One condition is, however, that the concerts be conducted so cheaply that the public can attend them.

Dr. Wilson and the Army.

Dr. Wilson has been interviewed in Toronto. He says "a statement has got abroad which I wish you would contradict flatly, that is, that I am going to join the Cowley Fathers at Boston. A suggestion that I should visit there was made by a clerical friend of mine, but I never entertained such a notion. Their views are so different to my own that I would not think of going to them." Capt. Abbin asks us to say that on Saturday night she did not receive a telegram from Dr. Wilson as recorded in the News. She did not hear in any shape from him on the night in question. The telegram received at the Temple was from a dear friend in the United States.

Kingston Cotton Mill.

A Montreal importer stated to the Globe correspondent of last Friday that the Kingston Mills, not finding an outlet either at auction or by selling direct to retail merchants, had shipped 100 bales to England, and the President of the Kingston Company is represented as expressing the opinion that the whole product could be sold there to advantage only as in Canada at present. Mr. D. Morrace said the question of shipping had been frequently discussed and not long ago a gentleman from England offered to undertake the agency for the sale of Canadian goods in Manchester. Another, a dry goods merchant here, thought it would be like sending coals to Newcastle.

Dr. Sullivan's Lecture.

We are sure we have only to mention that Dr. Sullivan is to lecture to-morrow evening in the Collegiate Institute at 8 o'clock in order to secure a large attendance. The subject of his lecture is the "Physiology of the liver and kidneys." No more interesting subject could have been chosen. To make it perfectly clear his nine illustrations will be used. There will be also some very fine photographic transparencies used, and these will show the microscopic anatomy of the organs and illustrate the supposed formation of their secretions. These transparencies will be illuminated by the oxy-hydrogen lime light, and were prepared expressly for the Dr's. lecture to-morrow evening. They are such as have never have been shown to a popular audience in Kingston, if in Canada, and Dr. Sullivan is just the man to popularize lectures on medical subjects by his well known wit and ready command of language.

A dastardly attempt was made on Sunday to scuttle ex-Mayor Comstock's fine steam yacht Alfani as she lay at her moorings in Tunnel Bay at Brockville. A hole was partially bored in her bottom. Mr. Comstock has no idea who the party is, but will pay $100 to find out.

The Hero lay storm-bound at Prince's Cove yesterday afternoon. In going out from Adolphustown wharf two lines were broken, four and five inches respectively, and the coil had to be sawn off a leg to avoid injury to the steamer's wheel. Kingston was reached about midnight. On the return she arrived at all ports on regular time. All the steamers on the Bay were late yesterday. It is said to have been the biggest blow ever known on the Bay of Quinte.

Division Court Day.

The first interesting case was Draper vs. Barry respecting a note made by Barry to Bernard C. McGuire. Defendant denied the signature of the note. Judgment renewed to the 11th of next month.

J. & W. Fisher vs. Jos. Turley, hotel keeper, at Belleville, for $100 balance of account. At the last court judgment was given for the defendant, with costs at this court on a new trial with jury. Judgment was given for plaintiff for $97 with costs.

Keating vs. Ainstead. Interpleader. Adjourned till next court.

Fisher et al v. Martin Staley suit for $94.75, balance of account. The original account amounted to over $400. Judgment of the court was—no jurisdiction.

M. Spoor vs. McCullough et al, and D. Fraser v. McCullough et al.—A. McRae was garnishee in both cases. Judgment was given for plaintiff, the garnishee paying money into court.

Dr. Fee vs. I. H. Radford, suit on a note for $110.75. Settled, each paying his own costs.

T. H. McGuire, Q. C., vs. McGirt, suit for $10. Judgment given for plaintiff with costs.

There were only two judgment summonses, one a commitment made for 30 days.

A Modest Valet.

Last evening a number of young fellows assembled in the basement of the Jubilee Methodist Episcopal Church regardless of the rain. Nearly all denominations were represented. An enjoyable time was spent in singing popular hymns. Mr. Brokenshire playing the accompaniments. The singing proved to a demonstration that the city choirs have not embraced all of the best voices by any means. The success of the school is established beyond a doubt. They will meet every Monday evening at the same place, and ultimately form an independent choir.

They Wouldn't Pass It.

Ald. John Carson is sometimes quite a funny fellow. He has been called Capt. Abbin's pet, and when he has brought in a petition from her he has usually been cheered. Last night he had placed a surprise, and was about to introduce the following resolution, but when he got half way through it the Board broke up in confusion:

"That a vote of thanks be passed by this Council to Capt. Abbin Thompson for her labors and the good she has done while in this city during the last ten months."

A GRAND OPENING.

THE LADIES OF ST. MARY'S KIRK A GREAT EXHIBIT—WARM RECEPTION OF THEIR FRIENDS.

Decoration of the City Hall—The Handsome Gifts of Particular Friends—A Fine Spread in Ontario Hall—Entertaining the Bishop and Drinking His Health—A Worthy Cause Well Subsidized.

In Kingston there has been many entertainments, and we might say many ways of aiding charitable institutions, but none has of late years taken the attention of the people of Kingston more earnestly than the bazaar now being held in the City Hall for the benefit of that good and charitable institution, the House of Providence. Early in the summer many of the young ladies of St. Mary's congregation took the affair in hand. They were encouraged so much by the citizens, and they are now enjoying the fruits of their labors. The different Committees went to work energetically, and by a visit to the Hall the observer will see that they have left nothing undone to make this bazaar eclipse any of their former efforts in this line. The Hall was thrown open last evening at 7 o'clock, and on entering the spectator was dazzled with the splendor of the decorations of the different departments then under the management of a host of charming young ladies. From the ceiling hung streamers of red, white and blue, and in a circle were the many tables laden with the gifts of friends. At the door one is met by the untiring John O'Brien, who acts as general director of the bazaar, and by whose request the visitor is shown every object of interest to be seen. To the right of the Hall is a candy table, presided over by the Misses Marrow and Kelcy, who seem to be doing a good business; on the left is the bouquet table, presided over by Misses Birmingham, Brophy, Harty, Noble and McNeil. There are a two elephants, originally designed by Mr. Greer and said to resemble Jumbo. Voting will take place here as to which is the most popular college—the Medical, Queen's and Royal Military.

A VALUABLE COLLECTION OF GOODS.

Table No. 1.—Presided over by Miss Lynch, Mrs. Dr. Hickey, Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. I. Noble. Among the most prominent gifts are a magnificent celebrative clasp, from Miss Lynch and Mrs. Davis; a 5 o'clock tea-table, Mrs. Walsh; two elegant cushions, Mrs. Dr. Hickey; a pretty fire-screen, and cushion with a coat of arms worked in beads, Miss Doran; a handsome clock in a glass case, R. Gardiner; toilet articles and fancy work, Miss Gardiner; fancy table, Mr. McNaughton; elegant dressing-gown, Mrs. Macrow; panel in chenille work, and two beautifully dressed dolls, Mrs. Mrs. John Ward; velvet cushion and panel, Mrs. W. Power; lamp, H. Wade; agate tea-pot, McKelvey & Birch; trunk, W. Armstrong; cuddly of bed, W. R. McRae; splendid ottoman, T. Doolan; mantle, Mrs. I. Noble; silver gilt and china vase, T. Hanley. Gifts were also received for this table from Mr. Spangenberg, Misses McManus, Carberry, and Mrs. P. McDonald and others.

A VERY ATTRACTIVE AFFAIR.

Table No. 2.—Presided over by Mrs. McGowan and Miss Mowatt. It contains many beautiful articles, including a life-size picture of Parnell and the principal members of the Land League, presented by Mrs. McGowan; two fine dolls, handsomely dressed in satan, one bearing the name of Mrs. Langtry, presented by Miss Fahey, Princess Street; a bureau, by a friend; a handsome lamp chair, by Father Twohey; four handsome cushions, by Mrs. McGowan, and a curtain by Mrs. Phillips.

A VARIETY OF ELEGANT THINGS.

Table No. 3—Presided over by Mrs. D. Corrigan, Miss E. Eggleton and Miss S. Corrigan. Noticeable on this table is a handsome work box, by Mr. J. Kennedy, of Portsmouth; a piano cover, Walsh & Storey; a beautiful crochet, worked, Miss M. Hagan; a cushion, Miss M. Corrigan; a handsome cruet, Fr. Twohey; a silver napkin ring, Robertson & Co.; a tidy, Mrs. O'Tierney; a bird cage, McMahon Bros.; a Mail of Fun, handsomely dressed, smoking cap and fancy work, Miss M. Hagarty.

EXHIBIT BY THE CHILDREN OF MARY.

Table No. 4—Presided over by the Society of the Children of Mary, and they ought to feel proud of the splendid exhibit, including a gentleman's handsome foot rest, presented by Mr. Jackson; a marble top card table, Mrs. E. Folger; a plush cushion, Mrs. Creighton; a handsome bannerette, Mrs. C. F. Gildersleeve; a beautiful fire screen, expressly ordered from New York for the Society, Mrs. William Harty; a $20 gold piece, Mrs. James Swift. On this table is the massive "Mother Shoe," sitting in which is little Miss Coughlin. The scene is greatly admired. There are many other beautiful articles too numerous to detail.

THE CLERGY'S HANDSOME DONATIONS.

Table No 5.—(Father Twohey's table) This is really a gem and admired by every person. It is presided over by Misses McNeil, N. O'Connor and Mrs. Beaupre. Over the top of this table is a fine picture of His Lordship Bishop Cleary, the frame of which is the work of Mr. Lewis Gourdier. It is carved in walnut and reflects great credit upon his workmanship. There is also a double set of china from the Bishop; a foot stool, by Fr. Twohey; a handsome dressing case, Dr. Sullivan; fancy table, Miss Swift; a musical castle in glass case, a beautiful article and the fancy of all who have seen it, by T. Gardiner; a picture of Pope Leo, Rev. Hallward; a dressing case, W. J. Wilson; ladies' side saddle, M. Dolan, and many other valuable articles. Here there is also a fine drawing of Rev. Father Twohey, the best we have seen of the rev. gentleman. It will be put up for competition between the pupils of the Christian Brothers and the young ladies attending the Convent of Notre Dame. The pictures will be a valuable gift to whoever is the lucky one. Mr. Drennan also presents a handsome music portfolio.

A SPECIAL COLLECTION.

No. 6—Presided over by Mrs. Bowes, Miss Lizzie and Miss Sean. Here there is a handsome table from Mr. Jas. Reid; a table, Mr. Rogers; a table, Mr. Lawson; a lamp, by Mr. Swan; a dinner set of china, Miss Donnelly; a clock, Smith Bros.; a silver cup, Bowes & Bissonnette; the table, a pretty item and a pair of parasols, Miss Lacroix; a shawl, Mr. Bissonnette. These ladies deserve special mention for the great energy they have displayed.

ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE SPOTS.

Table No. 7.—This is the last but not the least attractive table in the hall. It is presided over by Mrs. Capt. McDonald, Mrs. Quigley and Mrs. Murphy. These ladies have worked hard to make the bazaar what it is sure to be—a great success. The fish pond is calling, and anyone going near it is sure to be pleased with the many fine articles presented for sale. Among them are two gorgeous hanging baskets, the present of a lady from New York, a steel engraving of the late Bishop O'Brien, and an elegant chair by Father Twohey; a chest of tea, by W. Rigney; a large album, T. Nolan; a fine fire screen Mrs. Sergt. Brougan; a table cloth, Mrs. Linton; a large doll, (Nora Creina) Mrs. Daley, and another called the "Little Widow," Mrs. Capt. McDonald; a handsome quilt, Mrs. Nolan. On the top of the table is a large washer. Altogether this table is worthy of a visit even if one don't wish to purchase. It reflects credit on the ladies who have it in charge.

By the way we must not forget the table at the door in charge of Mr. O'Brien. It consists of a very large carpenter's tool chest, filled to the top with all classes of tools. It is one of the finest and most complete sets we have ever seen. It was presented by a friend and is very valuable. It will be raffled for at $10, a chance.

The fish pond is governed by Miss Quinn, and no better could be allotted to the position. Many good baits are given and taken by those who patronize it.

Prosper Bros., cigar makers, have made a hit in showing their favorite "Elk" cigar on canvass. It is beautifully painted and the work of Mr. Prosper himself.

In concluding we bespeak for the Bazaar the patronage of all, and those who attend will be well satisfied by what is to be seen. No person has any idea of the magnitude of the affair until they are dazzled on entering by the brilliancy and great size of the articles on the different stands. Few indeed in this city can remember of anything that has been so attractive and beautiful than the present Bazaar now going on. The Rev. Father Twohey's great perseverance in the cause of charity is well shown by his very many handsome presents to the tables. He was present last evening as well as other priests of the city. The hall will be open every day until Saturday evening.

DINNER IN ONTARIO HALL.

The dinner given last night in the Ontario Hall, in connection with the bazaar, was a great success. Father Twohey acted as Chairman of the evening, and after giving his blessing each one directed his attention to the inner man. The lady waiters were dressed most tastefully for the occasion and took every pains to see that each one at the table was attended to. The following was the bill of fare:

Boiled—Leg of Mutton, Caper Sauce. Chicken a la Creme.

Cold Dishes—Round of Corned Beef. Ox Tongue. Roast Chicken. Sugar Cured Ham.

Roast—Turkey, Lamb. Pork. Apple and Cranberry Sauce.

Relishes—Chowchow. Gherkins. Tomato Catsup. Pickle. Worcestershire Sauce. Mixed Pickles.

Vegetables—Mashed Potatoes. Stewed Tomatoes.

Game—Red Duck, Currant Jelly. Partridge and Grape Jelly.

Entrees—Stewed Kidney and Mushrooms. Cabinet Pie and Sweet Bread. Chicken Salad. Lobster Salad. Oyster Patties.

Pastry—Plum Pudding. Apple pudding.

Dessert—Fruits in Season. Almonds. Raisins. Cakes. White Bread. Brown Bread. Cheese. Celery. Tea and Coffee. Ale and Porter.

About 80 persons occupied seats at the table, including Father Twohey, Brother Hallward, Mayor Livingston, Dr. Sullivan, Chief Harney, Alds. Clements, Dunn, McGuire, Dr. Oliver, Dr. Fluhm, Dr. Hickey, Messrs. J. Meagher, W. Rigney, T. Gardiner, J. Conway, O. Tierney, James Brown, James Swift, Jos. Swift, T. Ronan, Dr. McCammon.

After dinner Father Twohey thanked the gentlemen for their charity, and was sure the sisters of the House of Providence would ever feel grateful to them. After reading regrets from Bishop Jamot, Christopher Fraser, M.P.P., Fathers McCarthy, Spratt, Dr. Dunn, and Mr. Quinn, of Hamilton, he closed his speech, proposing the health of the Queen.

J. Meagher proposed the "Governor-General," to which Mr. Ronan replied, while the "Army and Navy" was proposed by the same person, and Mr. Power, architect, Mr. Powers, shipbuilder, and Dr. Hickey replied.

Dr. Sullivan proposed, in an able speech, "The health of Bishop Cleary," and in doing so spoke of the Diocese as being one of the oldest, and thought it right that such a toast should be proposed, for though the Bishop was far away his thoughts were directed to his diocese and to the work of this evening.

Father Twohey replied in a lengthy speech in which he regretted much the absence of the Bishop. He spoke of His Lordship as a man of charitable views, a man of zeal and piety, and though absent, he still watched over them with a fatherly eye.

Father Twohey then proposed "Success to the Bazaar." He spoke of the Sisters, who were deserving of all that could be given them, and thanked all present for their presence at the dinner. He then called on Dr. Fluhm to reply.

Dr. Fluhm thanked him for calling on him to respond to the toast, and said the reason he supposed he was called on was that he knew the workings of the House of Providence, an institution with which he had been connected for nearly seven years. He felt gratified at the work done in the aid of charity and returned thanks on behalf of the Sisters of the House of Providence.

Mr. McDermott proposed the "Corporation," which was responded to by the Mayor, who said he would always do what he could on the said Corporation, while Ald. R. J. Carson reviewed the movements of the Mayor, and Ald. Clements, after wishing every success to the bazaar, said the members of the Council were always ready in the cause of charity.

Alds. T. H. McGuire and Dunn also replied to the same toast.

Dr. Sullivan proposed the "Charitable Institutions," and specially commended all to our charity the House of Industry.

Dr. McCammon proposed "Educational Institutions," which was responded to by Brother Hallward.

Dr. Sullivan next proposed the toast of "The Ladies," and regretted that so many dried up old bachelors should be found. It was not on account of their not having wealth, but because they were too bashful to propose.

Mr. Thomas Gardiner and Mr. John Hickey responded.

Father Twohey then proposed the "Press," to which L. W. Shannon responded.

The credit of getting up such an elegant dinner is almost entirely due to Mrs. Ronan, who worked indefatigably in order to have it a success.

SCHR. EUREKA LOST.

She Goes Down in the Great Gale of Yesterday Afternoon—Her Crew Reach the Shore.

Yesterday at 12.30 o'clock the schr. Eureka, owned by Messrs. Chambers and Chadwick, the former of whom sailed her, left Oswego with 270 tons of coal for P. Walsh, of this city. The wind was then blowing pretty fresh. At 3 o'clock it shifted to the south south-west, very strong. Capt. Chambers said he had to jibe the vessel. The sea rolled over the lee rail and she labored heavily. Off the Main Ducks she sprung a leak and the men were ordered to the pumps, at which they worked energetically for a long time. Capt. Chambers saw that the water was gaining upon them, but caused no alarm by talking about it. About 6 o'clock, when bearing south-west off Pigeon Island light, an attempt was made to beach the schooner, and a man was sent aloft to unfurl the gaff top sail, but in the terrible blow he could do nothing. It seemed to be now quite certain that the vessel

COULD NOT REMAIN AFLOAT

but a few minutes—she was filling fast—and the Captain called the crew to the stern. "Boys," said he, "we must leave the vessel." He made a cut at the ropes holding up one end of the yawl. He missed his mark, but a second blow was successful in severing the binders. A member of the crew cut the other end of the yawl loose and they jumped into it. They had not time to go to save their personal effects. The Captain lost a new suit of clothing and $30 which were in his vest pocket. The others got away with the dress which they were. The Eureka went down shortly after being abandoned and will never be recovered. She was valued at $2,500, was insured for $1,800 in the Thames & Mersey Company, and classed B 2. Capt. Chambers said he and his crew were in the yawl for three hours, and floated with the wind and sea to Simcoe Island. They left the vessel at 6 o'clock and reached the shore about 9 o'clock. They had a dreadful experience, and though naturally brave-hearted,

DESPAIRED OF SEEING HOME

and friends again. They were wet, cold, and almost helpless when they arrived at the home of Mr. Horne, who, with his family, treated the shipwrecked men most kindly. This morning they came to the city from Simcoe Island on the snow Minnie. Captain Chambers says he was on the barque British Lyon when she was wrecked off Long Point, eight years ago; and he was on the George Thornton when she was wrecked in Georgian Bay last fall, but he never felt such a blow as that of yesterday; and his opinion is that of Stephen Tye (his mate), George Belcher and James Singhrue, members of his crew. He says the men remained at their post until the last, that in danger they acted heroically.

What Does it Mean?

What is meant by "Sarsaparilla" in a medical sense? "The sarsaparillas" are the powers of certain glands and organs of the body to hold and distribute the healthful fluids of the system, such as bile from the liver, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates all the organs of the secretions to make pure blood.

Mr. R. A. Harrison, Druggist of Dunnville Ont., writes: "The Triangle Dyes have an immense sale here and give the best satisfaction of any dyes ever sold in this section." Remember the genuine are contained in 2 separate envelopes. Take no other. 10 cents.

The Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it leaves the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

YOU WILL SAVE 20 PER CENT by buying your UNDERCLOTHING from W. REEVES & CO., King St., four doors from Princess Street.
