CITY AND VICINITY.

To-Day's Probabilities.

Winds shifting to east and south and increasing in force; fair to cloudy weather, followed by rain in southern and snow in northern Ontario by night. Not much change in temperature.

Bandsman Sprained His Ankle.

"B" Battery, in their winter uniforms, had a march out this morning. While walking along King street bandsman Stevenson sprained his ankle and had to be carried into the British American Hotel, thence to the barracks.

Securing a New Office.

The room in the City Building, lately occupied by the City Assessor, was vacated yesterday and will shortly be occupied by the Chief of Police. A door has been cut between it and the police station proper. The abolition of the office of Sergt.-Major precedes the change.

Two Afternoon Fights.

There was a lively fight on Princess Street yesterday afternoon between two dogs, one a full-blooded bull and the other a fierce looking Newfoundland. They were separated. A few minutes afterwards a couple of men had a collision. The police were called out, but the combatants had disappeared.

Who Knows Anything of Him?

John Cunningham, late of the 85th Regiment of Foot, writes to the Mayor from Freemantle, West Australia, and asks if information can be given as to the whereabouts of his brother, Alexander Cunningham, of Enniskillen, County Fermanagh, Ireland. It is thought he is a resident of this district.

And Not Secure the Man.

Police Officer Hinde telegraphs to Chief Horsey that the man of whom he was in pursuit at Buck Lake has not been secured, having left for the United States over a week ago. The fellow was charged by Lakbley, of Elgin, with several offences. The constable will be paid for his time and service in the back country.

A Rather Cool Joke.

Dr. Goodwin, Professor of Chemistry, Queen's College, got off a good joke the other day. The experimental room was quite cold, and the doctor, noticing that some of the students had a wintry appearance, said he was about to examine the class, and he had no doubt that so as of them would be warm enough before he got through with them.

The Book in Type.

The printers are now hard at work composing the type for the book to be shortly published giving a full and concise history of the Salvation Army work of Capt. Abbie in Kingston. It will be spicy. The price will be low so that all can buy it. An excellent cut of the little lady will be given on the frontispiece.

He's Building the House.

A young gentleman, a favorite among the ladies in the neighborhood in which he resides and well known in the city, has purchased a part of the Macaulay farm in Kingston Township and is now erecting upon it a residence to cost $1,200. Mr. S. Chapman has the contract. When our genial friend gets the cage finished he will, we presume, proceed to capture a bird.

The Golden State.

McMillan Bros., the San Francisco photographers, have their travelling branch now located at Perdale, California, a place as pretty as its name, we hope. They were delayed five weeks in Smith River, no small annoyance. They report a general "boom" as still existing there. Land is selling at from $100 to $150 per acre. English capitalists are buying up the redwood timber lands, building mills and running railroads.

He Did Not Want the Clothing.

Last summer the railway station house at Harrowsmith was entered and the contents of a trunk belonging to R. B. Harris, of Parham, purloined by a lad named Walker, sent to the Central Prison. With the money stolen by him Walker bought a suit of clothes. Mr. Harris was in the city to-day, conferring with the Chief of Police. He did not want the clothing and was anxious to know if he could recover their value.

Gray's Comic Almanac for 1884.

This popular publication (fifth year) comes to us in all the glory of an illuminated cover. It is full of fun, being profusely illustrated with humorous cuts. The "Essays of little Tommy," given in that precocious youngster's own handwriting, with pictures by himself, are unique specimens of comic work; the weather predictions are sure to amuse, and the general miscellany is excellent. We advise every one of our readers to secure a copy.

ANOTHER LADIES' ATTACK.

ANNUAL BAZAAR IN CONNECTION WITH BRUNSWICK-AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH—A VERY PLEASANT EVENING.

Attendance of the People—Sale Nets Between $300 and $400—A Bright and Attractive Scene—Men With Light Hearts and Lighter Pocketbooks—Blue Cloth in Good Value—A Programme of Music that Pleased Everybody.

The ladies of the Brunswick-Avenue Methodist Church have scored another great success in the bazaar line. Yesterday they opened their annual sale in the Victoria Music Hall, which had been carefully and picturesquely arranged for the occasion, and the patronage of the people netted them between $300 and $400, which will be applied to the parsonage building and furnishing fund. The Ladies' Association is composed of a great many active workers, whose toil has been usually attended with success, and whose accomplishments in the shape of permanent improvements have been of the most creditable character.

The hall as the Wars representative entered it yesterday afternoon presented the usual bright and festive appearance. The chief and all-important idea was, of course, to make money as fast as possible, but with a due regard for that which becomes a church organization. Leading up to the money-making point, however, there was a great deal of attractive work, and the completion of it elicited general admiration. Two tables on each side, run the entire length of the hall, and these were laden with all manner of pretty and useful things, duly assorted and in the custody of fellow-gifted in speech and so qualified to expatiate upon their merits.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE DAY.

Upon the first table, presided over by the ladies of the Society, were displayed articles of a plain and substantial kind, principally in muslins, cambrics and linens. The sales were very good.

Adjacent was the fancy table upon which was displayed a great deal that is artistic, including panels of aqueous and crewel work, tinsel work, crochetwork on plush, head gearing on satin, fancy tables, toilet tables, &c. A hand painted plaque on brass was one of the handsomest things on the stand.

Several young ladies presided over the refreshment booth. They had fruit, flowers and confections to dispense, and for these the demand was surprisingly great.

A little table on the left of the entrance was crowded with nick-nacks, the production of the little girls of the Church. Their table took the eye of every one.

An excellent tea was spread and partaken of by many. The fare and the service were alike exceedingly good.

Then people purchased as they promenaded, the sales were conducted vigorously by the ladies and young men did soon too, left the place with light hearts and lighter pocket books.

The officers of the Association and those who took the control of the bazaar were: President, Rev. Mrs. Hooker; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. E. Chown and Mrs. E. Adams; Secretary, Mrs. Shaver; Treasurer, Mrs. Gardiner.

CONCERT OF THE GLEE CLUB.

Queen's College Glee Club was present in the evening and sang in a delightful way. The programme was as follows:

1. Turn Back Pharaoh's Army; Mr. Burchett, soloist.
2. Go Down Moses; Mr. McLaughlin, soloist.
3. Little Moses, and as encore piece, Victoria one verse.
4. Three Banning Bumble Bees, an song by the Fisk Jubilee quartette; Mr. Cumberland, soloist.
5. Good Night, Ladies.

The Club, under the direction of Mr. Heath, never sang better. The compliments of the audience were many, and they were all deserved. The vote of thanks moved by Dr. McCammon, seconded by Dr. Skinner, was exceedingly timely and appropriate; it but faintly expressed the sense of pleasure which everyone present felt.

The bazaar occupied but the one day, but that day was a busy one, and very profitable as the plethoric purse of the Association so satisfactorily testifies.

Late Railway News.

The rock cutting on the K. & P. RR. line at Calabogie Lake is satisfactorily progressing. The work will be continued through the winter.

The G. & Q. RR. Co. is suffering a loss in consequence of the sink holes along its line. The road-bed is in a fair shape and navvies are now laying the rails towards Tweed, where the men working from the west will be met. The road where railed, is being ballasted.

The station at the junction of the G. & Q. RR. and K. & P. RR. at Skarbot Lake is nearly completed. It will be a modest looking structure.

The blasting on the K. & P. RR., three miles away, shakes the ground and houses in Renfrew.

An Assault.

At a meeting of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association held on Dec. 5th, the following officers were elected for the year 1884:

President—Michael Brennan.
First Vice-President—J. J. Behan.
Second Vice-President—M. Flynn.
Recording Secretary—J. J. Baggot, (re-elected.)
Assistant Secretary—Robt. McCauley.
Financial Secretary—Owen J. Cleary.
Treasurer—Wm. Shanahan, (re-elected.)
Marshal—Louis Gourdier.
Guard—James Nolan, (re-elected.)
Board of Trustees—Daniel Fitzgibbon, Patrick Daley and G. M. Weber.

The Lodge is in a flourishing condition.

SEGUIN IN OPERA.

"The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" on the Boards—A Brilliant Opera Well Rendered.

A large audience last evening witnessed the production of Johann Strauss' new opera "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief." The court of Portugal in 1820 is portrayed. The kingdom is ruled by the Ministry, headed by the Prime Minister, who is in league with Prince Miguel, who is in league with Prince Miguel, who is in league with Prince Miguel
