

NEVER ABANDON. Though I stand not within crowded rooms...

THEN AND NOW.

Reporting in 1833 and 1883 - A vast difference - The Fortunate of the Press of Kingston.

A LITTLE MORE. Nothing seems to escape the city editor of the present day...

ADVANCE THE PAGE. To the highest state of efficiency. Several years ago it became evident...

pendents send in their reports regularly from all parts of the country...

MORE THAN DOUBLED. Under it, and out of 2,000 letters in the city 1,000 receive the paper regularly...

SWEET MUSIC. Music, with her soft, persuasive voice; music that soothes and charms the angry monarch...

THE POLISHED FREEMAN. The red-shirted freeman could not enjoy his anniversary picnic without music.

Without music, this world would be a soulless sounding-board. There would be no church choirs...

THE HEADS OF GOVERNMENT.

Hon. Wm. Ewart Gladstone; born Dec. 29, 1809. Represented the people for fifty years in Parliament.

Sir John A. Macdonald; never born - grew up like Topsy. Since 1844 he has sat continuously in Parliament...

OLD NEWSPAPERS.

The first paper in America was the Newsletter, of Boston, published in 1704, and continued for 74 years...

The first paper in Upper Canada was established at Newark, by Governor Simcoe in 1793, and called the Gazette or American Oracle.

From 1813 to 1816, the Kingston Gazette was the only paper in Upper Canada. It appeared September 23rd, 1813...

13 days, and landed near the Tebe in Point Barracks site. Within six months Miles left and within a year Kendall sold out...

THE MEN OF '36. The Whig's Advertiser in its First Number - How Many Can the Oldtimers Remember?

EAST AND WEST OF US. The Brockville Recorder has a long history, having risen in 1790. Wm. Paul carried it on until 1846...

Napanee's first paper was the Bee, Rev. G. D. Givens, 1831, which he supported two years later by the Emporium...

Newburg has had two or three papers, the Reporter, the latest, doing it honor. Tanworth too, has had its Echo, now a silent one, alas.

His First Challenge. When the Whig was started affairs of honor were still in vogue. The paper issued a military officer who had treated a lot of ladies at various times in the city...

That fifty years witness a complete revolution in business is here shown. Only three of the advertisers named above are now alive...

THE OLD MILL. Live and die, live and die. And all the weary weary years ago...

THE MEN OF '36. James R. Gibson, looking-glass manufacturer. J. W. Armstrong & Co., dry goods, furn...

THE MEN OF '36. J. G. Rivest, Bank of Upper Canada. Mrs. Phillips, Milliner, White Building. S. R. Caldwell, Market Square, provision...

THE MEN OF '36. John Dalton, book binder. James Linton, auctioneer. John Dalong, Queen street, Royal Saloon. John M. Kay, Store street.

THE MEN OF '36. John Dalton, book binder. James Linton, auctioneer. John Dalong, Queen street, Royal Saloon. John M. Kay, Store street.

THE MEN OF '36. John Dalton, book binder. James Linton, auctioneer. John Dalong, Queen street, Royal Saloon. John M. Kay, Store street.

THE MEN OF '36. John Dalton, book binder. James Linton, auctioneer. John Dalong, Queen street, Royal Saloon. John M. Kay, Store street.

CENTENNIAL ODE.

Oh, Mother of the Brave, E. B. Reynolds of 1836. Out from the lovely land that gave them birth...

Not were there labor van. Here shall their Faith remain. Spotless and true.

Not were there labor van. Here shall their Faith remain. Spotless and true. Here wine and equal laws...

Not were there labor van. Here shall their Faith remain. Spotless and true. Here wine and equal laws. Still shall eye-hold the crown...

Not were there labor van. Here shall their Faith remain. Spotless and true. Here wine and equal laws. Still shall eye-hold the crown. Of Truth and Liberty...

Not were there labor van. Here shall their Faith remain. Spotless and true. Here wine and equal laws. Still shall eye-hold the crown. Of Truth and Liberty. Where'er new homes were given...

Table with 2 columns: Item, Price. Includes Flour, Wheat, Corn, etc.