The regular meeting of the Kingston last evening. The President, Mr. T. H. McGuire, occupied the chair. In a speech which he delivered he briefly re: viewed the course of events in connection with the Irish movement since the previous meeting. The period, he said. had been marked by a series of successes. The verdict of popular opinion had been expressed favorably in the United States, resulting in the recall of Mr. Lowell In Canada the almost unopposed passing of the Costigan resolutions through both Houses was a subject of congratulation, as showing the hold Irish matters were taken on the public mind. He eulogized Hon. Edward Blake for his able speech in support of the resolutions. Finally, within the past week the British Govern. ment had suddenly ceased its coercive policy, released the imprisoned mem. bers of Parliament, practically admitting by the reasons given for their present change of front that the Government was wrong in
