Commissions in the Army-Mope Expressed by Adjutnot tieneral Powell-List of Prize and Honor Men-Spiendid Graduating Class-Departure of Capt. Hankey.

There was a large and fashionable assemblage at the annual closing of the Royal Military College yesterday after noon. The event was extremely interesting and the Cadets acquitted themselves as well, perhaps better, than on many similar occasions. Col. Powell, Adjutant-General of Militia, was present as inspecting officer. The Minister of Militia desired to be present but was called suddenly to Winnipeg.

Col. Powell was attended by a brilliant staff, consisting of the officers of "B" Battery and those attached there to, of the 14th P.W.O. Rifles, and Royal Military College. The morning part of the programme was confined to rid ing and signalling, which were performed efficiently. Then came the construction of a bridge upon casks, and then the Artillery drill. The first was a reprosentation of the work of a field battery, on the green in front of the College. Several volleys were fired, the artillery men retiring the while with their guns The Cadets, in this branch of the service, handled themselves skilfully

THE COMMANDANT'S OBSERVATIONS. The Commandant said: "The graduating batch I am pleased to say has been equal, as a whole, to any of its predecessors in industry and natural ability and in the completeness of the course of theoretical instruction. In knowledge of practical military subjects it is certainly superior. The graduating batch has been fortunate in having greater facilities than its predecessors for instruction, in equitation consequent upon the increased establishment of horses in the Royal School of Gunnery, and in military engineering consequent upon the receipt of additional military stores. PLACES IN THE IMPERIAL ARMY. The four commissions in Her Majes ty's regular army, offered annually to the Cadets, have been accepted as fol-
