The worst feature of the Egyptian a religious war. We have it by cablegram that fears are entertained of a temptible twaddle! And yet there are muster, in the face of a force on paper general Mussulman uprising. The general impression is that Arabi is purposely holding back till the False Prophet, El Mehid (the Messiah) arrives with his thousands of fanatical followers. The struggle that must then ensue will be which he uses as he likes, declining to Of the Regular forces, which number send four ironclads to Alexandria. bloody to a degree, and the result of the Holy War may be the convulsion of the whole Mahommedan world. We hope anticipations in this respect may not be realized.

The Americans are immensely delighted over the compliments paid by the British military authorities and press to the sixty marines of the United States gunboats who helped to restore order in the city of Alexandria after its bombardment. Sixty marines do not constitute a very large force, but they cannot be dislodged by treble their number of Arabs, half fed, poorly armed, to do much, but as a matter of fact his dogs sither. completely destroyed the place.

Such an intimation in 1878, the last year in which the Mackenzie Govern ment was in power, would have thrown Sir John and those who re echoed his sentiments into a fearful panic. They would have stamped and torn their hair in rage at all the public meetings, and said. "This thing must be stopped! Why should the Calestials, with their pig-tails and indescribable toggery. come into our country, and, living on half what a white man needs to exist and feel happy, hire themselves out at any price to the ruin of the natives. It's wrong, gentlemen, and if we get a chance will make Canada for the Canadians and no others." The position parties in process of time because changed. The Conservatives succeeded to power. The Chinese rushed into British Columbia by thousands. Sir John says they're wanted to work on the Canada Pacific RR. Mr. Mackenzie could have said the same, for then the Chinese came into competition with none but the railway navvy. It is useless, however, to illustrate Tory mconsistency. There is nothing consistent about the party, not even their relation to the national policy, inasmuch as, after talking to the contrary for years, Sir John recently admitted that it was unfair to altogether blame the Grits for the bad times.

POLITICAL PROBABILITIES.

L' Evenement says Mr. Chapleau enters the Dominion Cabinet, that Mr. Mousseau withdraws from the Federal Ministry and will be called upon to form a new Government for Quebec. The new Quebec Premier will, it is said, have a choice between two combinations, one recalling Hon. Dr. Ross to his Cabinet. and the other inviting Mr. Mercier, Liberal, to form a coalition. To avoid useless elections there will be an exchange of counties, Mr. Mousseau standing for Terrebonne and Mr. Chapleau for Bagot. It is reported that Provincial Secretary Paquet has accepted the office of Sheriff of Quebec, and that the present incumbent, Charles Alleyn, is to be superannuated. Mr. Chapleau's retirement from the Provincial leadership has been rumoured before, but it is now more probably that at any time. The administration of local affairs is not pleasing to his ambitious nature. Besi les, despite the exercise of his ingenuity, he has failed to regulate the finances as be promised to do-making the revenue balance the expenditure—though in his attempts to do se he has increased the taxation of the people to an uncomfortable and it is alleged, illegal extent. Now that he has organized the stitched up. departments, relieving himself of a port. will not be surprising. He wants to use Sir John and Sir John wants to use him. Hon. Mr. Mousseau, however, if sent to Quebec, will not make a popular successor. He cannot keep the party together and tide over a crisis such as is Lower Province. A coalition, of course. would be a happy preventative of trouble. With it party asperities might be largely toned down and public discontent somewhat neutralized; but the Senecal faction will not gracefully assent to any movement failing to ensure the supremacy of the Conservatives in all things pertaining to political patron-
