THE TORY BRAG.

All the protests that can now be | legally fyled against the June elections are in, and we find that of Liberal and Conservative there have been equal numbers, sixteen on each side, or a total of thirty-two. Because there are not more petitions against the election of Government supporters "the inference is drawn that the charge of correption made against the Ministerial candidates. is utterly unsubstantial, a mere excuse always resorted to to account for the crushing defeat of the Liberal party. Such at least is the Montre distrette's philosophy, and to the average reader it will not appear very logical. The Liberals only protested the elections in connection with which flagrant viola tions of the law occurred; they do not desire the faction fights which, it is anxious for The whole 134 seats water at Albany by the way of Oneida apprehensions were felt for a while for have hitherto failed, and not the slightclaimed by the Conservatives might be Lake would save the trade by furnish the safety of the church, and undoubt. est reliance can be placed upon the sentation of protest: land not dispose of 1 questions in dispute. A great deal has been said about a circular said to have] been issued by Mr. Blake advising pun information respecting defects of the present law in order that he may in possible have them corrected by early legislation. Bluster pleases the Tories and does the Liberals no harm. We are not so hypocritical as to suppose that there was nothing irregular in the condeveloped by the Pory agents and perpetrated with the countenance if not the authority of the Dominion Government.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Quebec has had another visitation, from fire, and our telegrams announce that $100,000 worth of property has been reduced to ruins. Public feeling is divided in expressing sympathy for For some time the press have been prethe sufferers and censure upon those paring the people for the issue, and whose negligence to provide reasonable protection is highly culpable.
