outside of the Exhibition grounds? Must the suggestion pass without conhas already notified us of what has been done to keep up the excitement and in . duce people to remain not for one day but several of them in the Queen city. Now come the announcements in con nection with the Quebec Provincial Exhibition, to be held at Montreal simul taneously with the Ontario Provincial at Kingston, and when we contemplate them we are forced to conclude that whatever attraction our show may prove to the western people it cannot compete, with the great eastern event and draw the people hither. Among the Montreal specialties are a banquet, parade of the firemen, military review and matches display of Japanese fireworks, aquatic carnival, swimming feats of Capt. Boyton and Webb, athletic sports, rowing exhibition of Edward Hanlan, bicycle tournament, electric light and horse racing. Kingston cannot spend theusan is of dollars like Torento and Montreal in such a way, but it is incumbent upon our Council and citizens to do something in the mature of public entertainment. It is said, apologetically, that the city has completed all it guaranteed to do so far as the Exhibition accommodation is concerned. Does the responsibility of our civic rulers end there? Have they no , anxiety to sustain the credit of the city? Why do other places bid high for at tractions that are calculated to bring crowds together if not to the advan tage? Some of our Aldermen and citizens say they de not favor -pecialties. that nothing must interfere with the Fair! Is it imagined that visitors will go to the Fair grounds on Monday morn ing, and spend the whole we in there? Will they not, as a matter of fact. out short their visit. if, away from the Exhibition, they are left to mope and become victims of enum. The specialties do not hurt the show; they, as a matter of fact help it materially. Now we shall say no more on this subject. We have pointed out what we consider the duty of the hour. Its performance can not be undertaken by any one or half dozen of individuals. There must be unity of action on the part of the whole people, ander the direction of the Connoil, and only in this way can the good name of the city be sustained change of tone is not what we want, but a change of feeling. What Kingston is capable of doing was demonstrated ou , the occasion of the Vice Regal visit.
