THE MOST INTERESTING SHOW OF THE SEASON-The grand millinery opening at Spence & Crumley's to-morrow. Do not fail to attend.

PREVIOUS, having been awarded three first prizes for tweed suitings he had at the fair, has been obliged to re-order the goods. They are now in his store on exhibition.

THANKGIVING SERVICE-Two weeks from yesterday thanksgiving services will be held in the Anglican Churches, some of which will be magnificently decorated, as usual, for the occasion.

DISMISSED FROM CUSTODY-Aubre Leo Fraser, who was held in Toronto on suspicion of having robbed the Waggon House of a watch and ring, was discharged to-day, the evidence against him being insufficient to convict.

I. C. B. U. BRANCH No. 9.-The regular monthly meeting of this society will be held in their Hall on Monday evening at 9 o'clock sharp. Members desiring to become members should make application at this meeting.

TAKES PAID IN.-On Saturday $7,000 of thirty stakes were paid to Collector Middleton, to-day up to noon $12,000 were received, and by the close of the day it was expected that $16,000 would have been transferred from the pockets of the citizens to the vault of the Treasurer.

DELIVERY OF GRAIN.-On Saturday about 4,000 bushels of grain were delivered in the city. The season was inaugurated by the different agents and buyers in an exceedingly lively manner - so far as tongue movements are concerned. The rush must soon commence and as much as 10,000 may be expected each day.

VISIT TO OTTAWA.-No night Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick, M.P., Director, and Mr. B. W. Folger, Superintendent of the Kingston & Pembroke RR., leave for Ottawa, where they expect to meet Mr. Lamson, Chief Engineer, and Mr. A. Ryan, Superintendent of Construction of the Ontario & Quebec RR. in regard to railway matters.

A BAR ROOM BURGLARIZED.-On Saturday night some one entered the bar-room of a leading hotel, through the window in a private room, and robbed the till of considerable money. The proprietor of the hotel is grateful that he lost no more. Last week he had a large sum on hand and a splendid stock of liquors.

CHERISHED WITH BLOOM.-John W. Thomas is the name of a Pictouian who has been getting into trouble. He has been endeavoring to live and love two women. He was married in 1854 to Rachel Ogden, and removed to Michigan. On the 6th of April last he was again married to Olivia Ainsworth, in Trenton, by the Rev. Mr. Young. The prisoner was committed to stand his trial.

COTS NOT YET PROVIDED.-The Council have not yet provided the cots for the firemen who do duty at the station in their turn. It is any wonder that the young men have become discouraged, that they and their Chief are tempted to resign their positions and thus leave the city without an efficient department. Unless there is a change in the administration of our public affairs the merchants and leading citizens will be tempted to hold an indignation meeting. At the next election some of our Aldermen friends will have difficult accounts to settle.

FRUIT STRAHLING.-In the Police Court report reference is made to one of several boys who were detected in the act of plundering the garden of Ald. Law. Since morning the names of five of his companions, who were stealing after the arrest of McLoughlin, have been handed in, and to-morrow they will be before the Court. Last night also boys broke into the garden of Mr. G. S. Fenwick, and the destruction caused by them is said to have been very great. It is difficult to deal with the young thieves, but the adoption of some stern measures is necessary.

SAIL BOAT ACCIDENT.-On Saturday a couple of young gentlemen from Garden Island, viz., Sandford Calvin, son of Dr. D. Calvin, Esq., and William Allen, son of Capt. J. F. Allen, wrecker, undertook a sail boat race. When they arrived at the turning buoy, opposite the Cameron storehouse, they had to run fair wind to complete the race. Young Calvin had the main sheet fastened to one of the seats, and when jibing the boat a puff of wind struck and capsized her. A skiff went out from the island to his assistance, and found him sitting comfortably in the bottom of the boat. The only thing that troubled him was the fear that his parents would find out about the accident. He is none the worse for his ducking.

WHAT'S THE NEWS?

LARGE ARRANGEMENT OF ITEMS OF Local and General Interest-Group that is Standable. Hunting parties are slipping off to the back lakes and woods, especially at the iron mines.

The Island of Anticosti, is to be sold by auction to settle a lawsuit. It contains over two million acres. A leading business man says there is in this city a decrease in the sale of very costly fashionable goods.

On Saturday the grain buyers had a lively time. The competition of several firms is said to have been "red hot." Mrs. Geo. Rose has purchased a part of the lot on the corner of Barrie and Union streets, and is erecting a brick residence.

The trial, in its review of the cricket season, says "Napoleon and Kingston had had a fair amount of cricket with gratifying results. The duelin statement is the latest item of importance. An outrageous punster says there may be duelin over this matter yet.

The assessor's returns make Frontenac the banner ward in population, with over 8,000 people; Cataraqui in real estate and Sydenham in united assessment.

Misses Hutchison, Lily Hutchison-Mary Smart, Chaffee, Minnie Brooks and three other young ladies were upset near Brockville on Saturday, but gallantly rescued.

A. Chown has ripe red raspberries in his garden on Queen Street, and one of his employees, W. Holland, has a plum tree in bloom at his lot on Plum Street. This is a good season for vegetation, truly.

The comet is still visible. The tail is nine degrees, or about eighteen diameters of the moon in length, and it wends much towards the far east, which unlike that of the great comet of June, 1851, is roundly off very convexly.

It is expected that a large number of persons will leave to-morrow on the cheap excursion to Chicago. Some seven or eight Kingstonians will leave at the same time for Winnipeg and other places in Manitoba.

It is a settled thing in natural philosophy that a skunk prefers the basement of a church, above every other place, for a headquarters. A Kingston congregation had a fresh illustration of the fact last night.

The N.Y. Sea is pretty blunt. It opines that there was no good reason for President Arthur's portwardward, as Washington is unusually cool and healthy. It sets down "malaria" as a convenient name for excess.

A travelling correspondent of the N.Y. Knickerbocker styles Ottawa "the Neuro-polis," because it is such a septicure. Poor fellow, they ought to build a Chicago or New Orleans up there. Then this "blasted country" might be fast enough.

Somewhat the romance surrounding noted criminals did not gain much by the trial of Minnie Marks to-day. He was a poor wretched prisoner, and nobody seemed to take any interest in his case. No hawk sneaked their ever half a tumber trail.

Rome, over the way, has had to pay $300 damages to a woman injured by the neglect to erect barriers or to display danger signals where work was being done on the street. Some such warning has been hovering over Kingston corporation all season at street crossings in course of reconstruction.

Justice Mackay, of Montreal, is about to retire from the bench, his time having expired. Mr. Pierce Browne is to be entertained by his friends this evening. He leaves in a few days for Manitoba.

Mr. John McDonald, late clerk in P. Browne's grocery, has left for Chicago, where he intends to reside in future. The Rev. Dr. Jenkins will take the duties of Rev. D. J. Macdonnell during the latter's trip to the old country.

Rev. Father Brettagh purposes returning to Trenton and spending the remainder of his life among his old parishioners. Herbert Spencer, confined to his room in Baltimore under medical attendance for a troublesome carbuncle, is improving.

Col. Goodfellow, R.E., and Mrs. Goodfellow, of London, England, registered at the British American Hotel on Saturday. They are visiting friends in the city.

M. E. W. Rathbun and Mr. R. Aylward, of Deseronto, the latter an ex-Warden of Hastings, were in the city yesterday. They went west this morning.

Dr. Henry Wilson, of this city, preached twice yesterday in Christ Church, Belleville. Rev. A. A. Spencer, preacher at St. George's last evening in his stead.

Rev. Mr. McMurray preached eloquently in Queen Street C. M. Church last night. To-night he lectures in Bethel Hall on temperance. He is a fluent and interesting speaker.

The Hon. T. G. Alford, "Old Salt" of Governor's Island, has been overlooked in the nominations in Onondaga County, N.Y., which he has long represented. He was a power in the assembly, but his constituency has tired of him, and a familiar form must step down and out of politics.

Miss Kate Mowat Fraser has received the bronze medal and handsome certificate of the Governor-General for attaining the highest proficiency in the examinations at Notre Dame de Congregation, Kingston, in 1882. His Excellency's prizes are highly regarded and excite a warm spirit of competition and emulation in the schools.

Resignation Tendered. We believe that Capt. Edwin H. Horsey will, at the Council meeting this evening, tender his resignation as Chief of the Fire Department, finding it impossible to efficiently discharge the duties of the dual position of head of the Brigade and Chief of Police. He leaves the situation with a capital record, and the only regret to be felt is that he was not as liberally supported as he should have been in his efforts to perfect a most important branch of the public service. Messrs. M. Bateson and David Hall are mentioned as eligible candidates for the vacancy soon to occur.

A LARGE STORY.

A Little Event Shows One of Great Importance-A Frightful Accident-Exaggeration's Effect. "Have there been any further developments in that case of body finding?"

"In what case do you refer? You propound a conundrum." "The Murray tower affair! Have you heard of it?"

The question was addressed by a prominent citizen to one of the staff of this paper, who, feeling that he had struck a veritable bonanza in news, admitted that he was in a benighted condition and expressed his willingness to be enlightened.

"Well," said our friend, "it appears that on Wednesday or Thursday, as some Freshmen were grappling for sunken timber at Murray Point, or off the Hosiery Mill, they hooked and brought a bag to the surface of the water. It had a curious, even suspicious look, such a remarkable appearance that before casting it back into the depths they decided to investigate its contents. They opened the sack and what do you think they found? You can't guess? The corpse of a little boy, about three years of age, curly haired, dressed in navy blue pants and jacket, down the front of which was a row of bright brass buttons; his feet were encased in cotton socks, on the leg of one of which was inscribed in indelible ink the name 'George,' and on that of the other 'Millan' or 'Milene.' I know no more, but presuming that there is foundation for the story, it is singular that it has not appeared in the news papers."

MUCH AND ABOUT NOTHING. Our representative spent some time in making enquiries about the matter. He was directed towards the knitting mill, but failed to obtain a verification of the statement he had been given. By one he was told that there had been a discovery of something near the cotton mill, and in the neighborhood the questioning was resumed, but with the same result. The police, who should be the first to learn of peculiar happenings, heard of no body finding. Later on a circumstance was narrated, and the inference is that from it all the extravagant gossip originated. A week ago yesterday two men, strangers apparently, while walking along the beach at Murray Tower, were seen to throw a parcel into the water. Some young women and boys were anxious to know of what it was constituted, and so the former carried by the way and the latter, as the men disappeared, fished out the bundle and removed all the mystery surrounding it. It was but a roll of much soiled, much worn clothing, which no longer useful, had been cast aside. There is no doubt that this is the finding, of which, several days subsequently, exaggerated and sensational reports were current. They will now receive a quietus by our explanations.

The Arrival of Dantin. Last night or early this morning some eighteen tons of duilin arrived here on the prop. Europa. It was shipped by the Hamilton Powder Company at Montreal, via the Kingston and Pembroke RR., to the rear of this century, for use in mining and railway cutting. Now duilin is not considered so dangerous as some imagine. It does not, we are informed, explode on concussion like nitro-glycerine, which requires to be most gingerly handled. It is, however, regarded as an article whose presence is feared, and hence police officers were especially detailed to see that it was not landed where, in the event of accident, it could create destruction and panic. There was some little difficulty about its delivery, but ultimately, we believe, it was transferred from the boat to the cars at the Pembroke dock, and hurried off to sight. If the landing of a few tons of duilin provokes such a sensation how alarming must be the suggestion that a factory for its manufacture should be established in Kingston or vicinity.

Highly Imprecious Condition. The highly imprecious condition of a prisoner and the kindness of counsel at the Assizes here this term has recalled to mind the ingratitude of the four men charged in a few years ago with the murder of a resident of Sherbrooke, Mr. McGinnis, executed himself bravely in defending them and materially aided in their acquittal, in a case, too, bearing strongly against them. At the time they were profuse in their gratitude as well as in promises of their fealty which they were not prepared with at the trial. Yet not a word of any kind has since been received from them. It is often difficult to decide whether there is any honor in the criminal class, at least beyond a very small percentage. Perhaps, upon second reflection, the four prisoners concluded that their lives were not worth the exertions put forth in their defence.

Installation of Officers. The officers elect of Hiram Lodge, No. 342, A. F. & A. M., Wolfe Island, were installed on Saturday evening by W. Bro. A. Malone, assisted by W. Bro. D. Hole, of Elysias Lodge; W. Bro. John Niles-W. M.; W. W. Horne-S. W.; A. Robinson-J. W.; W. Bro. R. C. Irvine-Chaplain; D. Cattanach-Treasurer; Jas. Kyle-Secretary; S. Chubb-S. D.; W. G. Woodman-J. D.; W. Bro. H. O. Hitchcock-D. of C.; James Horne-Steward; John Davis-Seward; W. G. Woodman-L. G.; and John McCaul-Tyler.

An Old Kingstonian. The death occurred on Wednesday last at Ingersoll of Mr. Joseph Thirkell, a former resident of Kingston. He was once jointly with the late Mr. Strachan, (father of Mr. John Strachan, Kingston Post Office), proprietor of the Kingston Foundry, the late Mr. Bruce taking his place upon his retirement. Mr. Thirkell was also for a long time an Alderman in Kingston, and for twenty years past has been Past Master of Ingersoll, where he won that same credit for uprightness of character and good citizenship so eminent in his life here. Regret and sympathy are freely expressed in many homes at the loss.

COURT OF ASSIZE.

PROCEEDINGS DRAWING VERY NEAR A CLOSE-DISPOSAL OF THE MIN. MISFEASANCE CASE. A Wrecking Civil Suit-Noted Declared Not to be Civil of Assize-The Jury Not Long in Reaching a Conclusion.

The case of Radford v. Marchant's Bank was terminated on Saturday noon after occupying the best part of four days, and wearing the court and all connected with it. The jury had nine questions submitted to them, and on those they found: That the Bank became the purchaser of the Broken-shire horse power manufacturing business, and that its manager, Mr. D. Fraser, informed the plaintiff that it had become such purchaser; that the plaintiff brought a horse power upon an implied warranty; that it was not reasonably fit for the purpose for which it was intended; that the bank claimed that they were not subject to any implied warranty, but His Lordship ruled that they were; that the plaintiff sued it for the purpose for which it was manufactured; that the plaintiff depended entirely upon the representations of Mr. Fraser in making the purchase; that Mr. Fraser had authority to tell the plaintiff that the bank had purchased Mr. Brokenshire's business, was manufacturing horse powers, had them for sale and recommended them highly; that the plaintiff did not make the horse power without his changes; that the bank gave an express warranty that the power was reasonably fit for the purpose for which it was manufactured; that the plaintiff offered to return it in the condition in which it was when he bought it; that it turned out to be utterly worthless; that the plaintiff in a Division Court suit stated that he had not received value in the purchase of the power, and that a deduction on the original cost should be made; that the bank guaranteed the power actually to work a lay press; that the bank were dealers to the extent of putting together and selling horse powers upon which they employed Mr. Brown to work; that the power was worth $125; the repairs $50; the time as the horse was $35; that the contract between the parties was partly written, partly verbal; that the damages for plaintiff were $265, whose counsel was Mr. E. H. Smythe.

THE ASSIZES. ALBION F. NEELEY. The defendant was indicted for an unlawful and malicious assault on Francis W. Irwin, occasioning him serious bodily harm. The defendant is the late agent of the Sugar Sawn Machine Company here. In August last he was replaced by the prosecutor, Irwin. The alleged assault was committed in the yard of the Company on Princess street, Negley was cleaning the Company's horse. Mrs. Negley was holding a child near the horse and the horse seized the child in its jaws. Mrs. Negley screamed, Negley beat the horse with a carry comb. Irwin approached with a shovel in his hand, and he says, was assaulted by Negley striking him three times in the face, knocking out two teeth, an other was lacerating his jaw. The damages done to Irwin was considerable, Dr. Sullivan testifying that it must have been a tremendous blow which inflicted such an injury. Irwin gave evidence that no prosecution was given to him by Negley.

For the defence Mrs. Lee, who was washing clothes in the yard, and Miss Josephine Rochefort, a young girl, who was nursing a child of Mrs. Negley's, testified that being in the yard they saw the whole transaction and that Irwin approached Negley with the uplifted shovel and was in the act of knocking him down with it, when Negley to defend himself, assaulted Irwin.

The Judge made a clear and intelligent criticism of the evidence. He commented at some length upon the plea of justification. Suppose, said he, that the defendant was assaulted, and suppose he found it necessary to do something in self defence, is there ground for the opinion, judging by the evidence, that he did more than was necessary for self protection? A man, apprehensive of attack, may use more force than he intended, and it is not easy to sit down quietly and say he did or did not do more than was necessary. The jury had only to decide whether he did or did not go beyond the bounds of self defence, and to acquit or convict him as the evidence suggested.

The jury were out not more than ten minutes. They said the defendant was "not guilty." After entering the verdict upon the record His Lordship dismissed Negley, but not before he had addressed to him a few words of advice. The Chief Justice said the jury had taken a very proper view of the case, but the occasion should be a warning to him to be less violent in the future should he become involved in a difficulty such as that which the Court had investigated. Mr. B. M. Britton, Q.C., for the Crown; and Mr. McIntyre, Q.C., for the prisoner. Negley was very ably defended.

THE QUEEN VS. MINNIE MARKS. The prisoner in this interesting case, is "Minnie" Marks, somewhat celebrated in the criminal lists, charged with the theft of a gold chain from the Johnston jewellery store in this city. Mr. Britton, County Attorney, prosecuted, and Mr. T. H. McGinnis defended. Nine challenges of jurors were made, the prisoner meanwhile watching the proceedings with an interest unusually great even among prisoners at the bar. He seemed completely absorbed in every movement of the officers and counsel. His anxiety may be well understood, however, since he was a complete stranger here and had no friend or sympathizer in court save his counsel. It was pretty lonesome, no doubt.

Mr. Johnson deposed to the visitation of the prisoner to the store; to the negotiations for the purchase of a gold chain on September 19th last; the chains were counted before they were taken from the case and after their return to it, when the fraud was detected of a plated chain being substituted for a real gold one worth $21. The prisoner asked after witness' father, and was told that he was dead. He left with his comrade, after remarking that he would be back in the afternoon. The chain
