Canada First of this week promises that in its next issue there will appear an interesting article on Queen's University, to be written by a gentleman connected with the institution. The students and their doings are to receive special attention from the writer.

Mr. E. Holton, M. P., and J. J. Mc Laren, Q.C., are the candidates for the Presidency of the Montreal Reform Association. The voting will take place next week, and as there are between nine hundred and one thousand mem bers, local politicians take considerable interest in the result.

A summary of the President's Message is forwarded by telegraph. It contains items of interest to Canadians as well as Americans. His Excellency approves of many of the recommenda. tions of Departmental chiefs, but whether Congress will do so remains to be

The Quebe: Government effer for colonization purposes 5,400,859 acres o land, divided into farm lots, nearly half of which is accessible by good roads, and more than two-thirds are fit for settlement. The price of this land varies from 2) to 30 cents an acre. On eight of the great celonization roads every male immigrant over eighteen years of age and colonist may obtain a free grant of 100 acres.

It is stated that next ve . the Grand Trunk will complete its double track drawn, was to the following effect from Toronto to Mentreal, and that the workshops will be removed from Brockville: Our Council should make a note of this. If ever we are to have the loop line, se often agitated for, it must be when the new track is being laid past the city. Other places are endeavoring to secure the workshops. Kingston ought to have them, and may be favored by the Grand Trunk Company if offering some indusement.

It has been decided to hold a Libera Convention to discuss matters of Provincial concern, on January 3rd and 4th, 1883, at Toronto. The event is one waich we have suggested and deem most important on the eve of a general election. The party is pretty well harmo mized on the questions on which the people will be asked to vote and decide the future or fate of the Government but it behoves Mr. Mowat's friends and supporters in the city to meet at an early date and select candidates to worthily represent the city at the Convention. The Liberals will undoubted ly triumph in the next election, but they must not be ever confident : they must be prepared for any emergency.

THE ARREADS BILL. The Arrears' Bill has failed to produce a'l the effects expected of it, but late e sblegrams shew that it is more favour ably regarded by the tenants, and that baossands of them desire to take advanbage of its provisions. Many can ill afford to make immediate payment of their dues, but they have an inducement to do so, namely, a refund from Government sources in proportion to their remit tarces. It is estimated that by the end of December the candidates for Govern ment beanties will number 80,000, that $30 grants will amount to $3,000,000 and yet it is said that without an exten sion of time in which to perfect their plans and increase their earnings nearly 150,000 mere must be defaulters Isfigences have been, unfortunately, at work | having a tendency to consteract the results aimed at by Mr. Gladstone. We very much question the friendliness of those who advise a continued conflict with the Government, with prevent some who can and will not comply with an enactment designed to specially benefit them. It cannot be denied that much good has come out of the Land League agitation. Relief messo res were hacried by it, and the Arrears of Rout Act is one of them. An interesting point has, however, now been reached, one at which talk is useless and action, properly directed, of greatest value. The Nationalist party and its American friends are posted to the new duty that in rolves upon them -the application of such money as they can command to the payment of arrearages in order that wasn the time for appeal has passed the condition of the pensantry may be improvid. "Of the million and a grarte." of dollars reseived by t'i. n'i Lungue mext to nothing," says the N v York Sun. "has been applied to this prossance is there apparently any intention of using the sum remaining in the treasury for advances to poor tenants of the amount called for by the law. There are but a few weeks left in which to act, yet even in that time much might be done by the sincere well-wishers of Ireland to prevant the Arrears' Act from becoming a wasted opportunity and bitter disap-

METHODIST UNION The union of all the Methodis, Churches in Canada is now probable There has been a reconciliation of opinions upon points which at first seemed to be impossible; in the attainment of a grand object sacrifices have been made, and that which has been a delightful dream promises to become ere long an inspiring reality. The Union Committee, which has been holding protracted sessions in Toronto, is composed of the most eminent representatives of the Charches whose future depends so largely upon its deliberation. Those men have known the views of the Conferences at which they were appointed, they have this Emulsion his weight was increased obtain only a just result that will comhad the opportunity to debate the interests concerned from every stand point, they have made mutual conces. sions and reached certain agreements which all the circumstances would justify, which must command the support of the subordinate bodies when the question of union comes before them in an official way. There was much discussion in regard to the General Superintendency. The report of the Commit tee on this subject recommended

In association with such President he shall conduct the ordination services, and they shall jointly sign the ordination parchment, but all other duties pertaining to the Presidency of the Annual Conference shall be vested the President elected by that body, and in the absence of the General Superintendent he shall conduct the ordination service and the parchments. There was considerable discussion respecting the duties of the General Superintendent and the length of time he should be required to serve, some contending that his tenure of office should be but four years, some that he should be eligible for re election, some or twelve years. Rev. Dr. Dewart, in opposing the clause as quoted, made the statement that anything that inter fered with the Annual Conferences would not be reserved by the Canada Metho dists, whereupon Dr. Aylsworth pointed to the changes to which the Methodist Episcopal Church were asked to submit -the name of the Church, the name and duties of the Bishop, his tennre anordination, the Annual Conferences, the ordination of the desconate, the presid ing eldership, the ordination of local preachers and the Stationing Commit tee. Half a dozen resolutions were mo ed, but that which finally prevailed. favour of which all others were wit report and a compromise amendment

The question of who shall compose the Annual Conferences was not find settled vesterday, but it is not expecte that there will be much, if any, modification in the report of the Special Committee to shis effect : That the annua Conferences shall be attended by tra velling preachers in full connexion and one layman in proportion to three clergymen; that the annual Conference shaft ballot for a Chairman and Secretary in the usual way; that the lay delegates shall deliberate and vote with the ministerial members as one body except during the election of candidates fer ordination and examination of min interial character, but no layman shall be under 25 years of age, and serve for more than seven consecutive years The Methodist Episcopals and Primi tive Methodists are desirous of a larger bay representation; the Canada Metho dista think the report liberal enough this respect. PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE Summary of the Representa tions to be Made to Congress Beduction of Taxation.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The President's

message and the report of the Secretary all Standing Committees of the same. (3) of the Treasury were sent to the printer last night. The secrecy of preparation intendent when present at the Annual has not altogether availed in serving its purpose. There is authority for giving out a summary of the message. The message last year covered 82 pages in a printed pamphlet. The message of the present year will not cover more than 25 of such pages, and is prebably a column less in mewspaper space. The message reviews the more important matters appertaining to our foreign and diplomatic intercourse. The President ventures to hope that the apparent obstacles confronting the efforts of our Minister to Chili, in the interests of peace, may eventually be overcome to the credit of this Government and the satisfaction of the hostile powers. The President does not intimate an unfavorable attitude towards the assembling of the International Peace Congress, but prethat his term of service should be eight fors that its character and object shall have been the subject of more thought ful consideration by the representatives of the people. The President suggests advisability of measures looking to the SOLVING OF INTERNATIONAL DIFFIGULTIES by arbitration. The message says arrangements have been progressing for a ommercial treaty with Mexico and the departure of the Commissioners will not be long delayed. Mention is made of several copyright and international reaties, notably with Spain and Belum. President treats briefly, the matre of imprisonment of American citizens English tails, and acane riedges the eparation accorded by the English Goverament. The President reviews the perations of the treasury. The surclus revenue was $145,544,000; the total acrease in net revenue over the previous year is $42,748,000; the total net revenue $403,525,000; balance in trade our favor, despite the increased im orts, nearly $26,000,000. The Presi ent congratulates the country upon its resperity, favors a rigid economy in mblic expenditures and a reduction of nternal taxes. He endorses the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury that the tax on distilled spirits, obacco and fermented liquors be renegd to a minimum, consistent with ribelent revenue, to meet largely in art the ordinary demands of the Govruneut. IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Touched On. London, Dec. 2.-Parliament was prorogued to-day until Feb. 15. The Queen's speech, closing of the session, says she continues to hold amicable relatious with all foreign powers. Not, withstanding the failure to conclude a commercial treaty with France there has not been any general decline in the dealings between the two countries. She expresses graticute to the British and Indian forces for their work in the Egyptian campaign. The recent events in Egypt have enhanced her obligations in regard to its affairs. She will study to discharge her duties so as to maintain international engagements, uphold and consolidate the privileges which have been acquired, and promote the happiness of the people and the prudent development of their institutions. The Queen says she will endeavor to avoid any measures likely to tend towards disturbing the tranquility of the east. She feels confident that her arms and the result of her cornsels will commend themselves to the approval of the Powers and her allies in their several relations to that interesting region The Queen says the growth of the revenue of Great Britain has been seriously retarded, but by a cause which, in itself, is to be contemplated with satisfaction, that of the diminution in the exchequer of duties on intoxicating liquors. She anticipates distress this winter is some parts of Ireland. She refers with deep pain to the assassinations that have been rife in Dublin. There is a special call of duty upon the authorities to exercise with firmness the powers with which they are entrusted. The social condition of Ireland at large, however, has markedly improved, which improvement she hopes will be maintained. Her Magesty returns thanks for the passage of the various measures relative to Ireland and other measures to the advantage of the people.

The Next Governor.

The rumor has been revived that Sir John Macdonald will be appointed to succeed the Marquis of Lorne as Governor General on the expiration of His Excellency's term of office. The Marquis entered on his duties in November. 1878; he has consequently another year to complete his term. The Ottawa Free Press says : Although we differ in party politics from Sir John Macdonald we would hail his appointment to the position of Gevernor General with unfoigned pleasure. The selection of him for that important office would be accepted by the people of Canada as a recognition, in the first place, of the claims of eminent Cana dians to the highest place in the gift of the Crown in America, and also as a worthy acknowledgment of the services which Sir John has undoubtedly rendered to the empire during his long career as a leading politician in a colony which he, with others, has been instrumental in advancing far on the path of national development. The Effect of the Judgment.
