FENIANISM IN SALFORD.

Dynamite Explosion Which Shook Things up Considerably.

On the evening of Friday, January 14, what is believed to be a Fenian attempt was made to blow up the armoury connected with the infantry barracks, Regent road, Salford, where all the rifles belonging to the volunteers had been stored. The barracks stand in the thickly populated district where by far the great majority of the population are Irish. At the back of the barracks is a blank wall, and just within the wall are a number of sheds used as storehouses and cooking places of the regiment, which at present is the 8th Foot. One of the sheds is used at the armoury, and is properly guarded; the next is used as the storeroom for butchers meat. At the time mentioned a loud explosion occurred, which was heard for a DISTANCE OF HALF A MILE.

The explosion took place in the butchers store, which was literally blown to atoms, nothing being left but the bare walls. The roof was blown off, and portions of the debris were scattered over 200 yards. The greatest excitement prevailed in the barracks and throughout the neighbourhood, at the concussion broke many windows in the adjoining streets. A boy named Richard Clark and a woman named Mary Ann Nailin, who were passing at the time, were knocked down by the explosion and badly injured. The woman sustained a compound fracture of the leg and arm, and the boy was so badly hurt that he DIED THROUGH THE SHOCK.

An investigation was at once set on foot by the military and police authorities. Inspector Donoghue, of the Salford police, was soon on the spot with a number of his men; but their labours were so hampered with the thick fog which prevailed, that they were not able to make much progress. He had an interview with the Adjutant of the 8th Regiment, but he declined to give any information on the subject. There is reason to believe that dynamite in considerable quantity was the material employed. There is a great mystery surrounding this matter. It is difficult to imagine how a can of dynamite could have been placed in the shed without the person carrying it being seen, as the armoury is always under the view of two sentries, and they say they have seen no one enter the place. It is thought that, under cover of the fog, some person may have made his way unseen into the barracks.

PLANTED THE EXPLOSIVE STUFF,

and escaped over the wall. Again, it has been suggested that the dynamite might have been placed in the butcher's cart before it entered the barracks, but it is impossible to speak with any authority until the police and military authorities have made their enquiries. After the explosion the gates of the barracks were closed, and placed under a strong guard. No one was allowed to enter unless able satisfactorily to explain his business. The arms of the regiment, together with the rifles of the volunteers stored in the armoury, would make a total of several thousand.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

Warning to Orange Civil Servants Attempt to Smell Out the Tabid Party.

Toronto World.

A World reporter, in an interview with a prominent Orangeman this morning, learned that for some time past there has been an active agitation in progress in Orange circles to establish an Orange or third political party, the members of that body being dissatisfied with their present relation with the Conservative party. The matter having assumed shape, it was expected that some definite action in relation thereto would be taken at the Orange Grand Lodge meeting, which will be held in St. Mary's towards the end of the month. Prominent among the leaders of the new party is Major Jas. Bennett of the Inland Revenue Department in this city, and he being Grand Master of the Orange Order of Western Ontario, is frequently called upon to speak and preside at Orange gatherings. At many of such meetings he has boldly expressed his opinion of Roman Catholicism, and this seems to have given umbrage to Roman Catholic supporters of the Conservatives. The Government, in order to appease the Catholics, and at the same time crush out the new party, consulted with the dictator of the Mail, with the result of having a semi-official warning issued editorially to all Orange civil servants to publicly utter nothing offensive to the Roman Catholic church or its institutions. This article appeared in yesterday's Mail, and has created intense excitement in Orange circles. It was not brought under the notice of the County Orange Lodge last night, but it is expected that the Grand Lodge of Ontario West will have something to say on the matter at its approaching meeting. In the meantime it will tend to widen the breach between the Orangemen and the Conservative leaders, and will further strengthen the hands of the leaders of the new party. The local Orange leaders are unanimous in their denunciation of the Mail's attempt to suppress freedom of speech, and call upon Major Bennett—in his capacity as Grand Master—to inform the Government that the religious convictions of civil servants, who are Orangemen, must not be interfered with.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

A New Suit Against the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A correspondent has been informed on excellent authority that a scheme of great importance is being matured here, the object of which is to break up the foreclosure decrees under which the present stock holders of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad Company came into possession of the property. This scheme has been contrived by John S. Barnes, late President of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, and who, it is understood has purchased all the outstanding bonds of the old St. Paul and Pacific Company which he could find, and as the owner of such bonds he proposes to institute a suit against the Company, asking that the decrees of foreclosure be set aside on the ground of fraud. He also associated with him a number of capitalists, who pretend to think they have a strong case. It is hinted that Barnes is grieved because he was promised a hand in the deal by which the present proprietors of the old St. Paul and Pacific came into possession of the property, which promise was not fulfilled, and that he has taken this way to obtain consolation. It is said that one of the most eminent lawyers in the country has been secured as counsel for the parties, and that he has expressed the opinion that the case is a very strong one. A prominent railroad man who was interviewed on the subject expressed the opinion that there was nothing in the case except fat fees for lawyers.

PYRAMID OF ASSETS OF THE
AGRICULTURAL INSURANCE CO.

Assets January 1st, 1880, $1,137,549.00

Capital, $200,000. Net Surplus, $238,158.91.

THE ATTENTION of owners of Farm Property and Residences is invited to the above Pyramid, showing the uniform and sure growth, during the last seventeen of its 17 years of existence, of a fire insurance company whose charter limits its business to their class of property—the Agricultural Insurance Company, of Watertown, N. Y. The figures represent the amount set apart at the date given for the PROTECTION of POLICY HOLDERS.

Twenty seven years of patient toil has made this the strongest and largest Company doing an exclusive Dwelling Business in the United States, if not in the world. It now issues 40,000 polices a year. No other like Company can show such growth and increase.

The history of this Company proves that a LARGE business, well scattered, managed with prudence, can be done with a very small profit from each risk, and afford perfect security, which will grow stronger every year.

While nine-tenths of the "Mutual" fire insurance companies, and many of the Stock companies, have failed on account of reckless or extravagant management, or doing too small a business, the OLD AGRICULTURAL, by economy, energy and prudence, has every year added a substantial amount to its Assets, for the indemnity of its patrons, and it now occupies a position in the confidence of the public second to no other Company.

From year to year it spreads the base of its Pyramid and gains strength.

EXTRACT FROM CHARTER.—"Article 2. This Company is formed for the purpose of insuring Farmers' Dwellings, Private Residences, Barns and Outbuildings, with their contents, and other property not more hazardous, and is strictly confined to this class of property.
