REMINDERS

FRIDAY

ENTERTAINMENT of Alma Mater Society 7.30 p.m.

CITY AND VICINITY.

LETTERS of "Brien O'Day" and "Tax payer" appear to morrow.

PROBS.—Cloudy to fair weather to slightly lower temperature, probably followed by snow.

SPRING ASSIZES.—Mr. Justice Osler will preside at the Assizes, to open in Kingston on Monday, April 4th.

AT KING'S drug store, market square, Rimmel's toilet vinegar, Murray & Lanman's Florida water, Coudray's French lavender, Hooper's lavender, Lubin's perfume.

GRAND LODGE.—Mr. B. Froiland, of Kingston, has been elected Secretary of the Grand Lodge, O. F. B., which met in Guelph. Next year the annual meeting of the Lodge will be held in Gananoque.

ASSESSMENT BILL.—The City Solicitor this morning received a telegram to the effect that the bill to confirm the last city assessment had passed the Private Bills' Committee. There is now no doubt that it will pass the Legislature.

MARKET TOLLS.—Mr. Meredith in the Legislature yesterday said toll gates were a relic of barberism, and that the Government could abolish them as well as the market fees. Mr. Mowat said the matter had not escaped the attention of the Government.

THOROUGHLY REPAIRED.—The schr. "B. W. Folger" is being thoroughly overhauled at the Portsmouth shipyard. Twenty-five men are at work upon the vessel. Her owners desire to have her rated as high as a rebuilt schooner can be. Some $3,000 will be spent upon her.

THE SCHR. "GARIBALDI."—This vessel, ashore near Cornecon, is said to be pretty well covered up with ice and snow. A short time ago thieves broke into the cabin and stole crockery and other utensils. Her captain and John Nelson have suffered severely with their frozen feet.

"ALVIN JOSLIN."—The combination of which "Alvin Joslin" (Mr. C. L. Davis) is the star has been playing very successfully in the west. At Belleville the performance caused a great deal of laughter. The papers say the organization has been improved and that the scenery is especially attractive.

DID NOT LEAVE.—The officials of the Dorchester Penitentiary did not leave for home yesterday, but the guards and keepers took their departure. Those who remained in the city made an extended visit to the Penitentiary, where their observations may be of advantage in the management of the newer institution.

HANDSOME VALENTINES.—The valentines this year are more gorgeous and costly than ever before. Elegantly painted cards, bordered with cardinal, or gold fringe and illustrated and illuminated by Prang, are among the novelties. There are also fans, little books, English cards and various other devices, ranging in price from fifty cents to $8 or $10.

BOOKS FOR THE POOR.—At the meeting of the School Board last evening Mr. Waldron introduced the subject of having children attending the public schools supplied with books when their parents are too poor to provide them. There is no doubt that the law sanctions such a proceeding, the only point open to question being as to who should act for the Board under the circumstances. The matter will be reported upon at the next meeting.

A SUBDUED WOMAN.—Bridget Donnelly is the only Kingstonian confined in the Mercer Institute or Reformatory at Toronto. In years gone by she would, with amazonian pluck, knock Kingston policemen about in one—two—three style. Now she is a tame, subdued, woman. She struck one of the woman attendants at the Institute and defied incarceration in a dark cell. But two of the fair keepers conquered her by main force, and she had to serve out her solitary term for bad conduct. Her spirits since then have perceptibly drooped, and she feels that she is now a dishonored gladiator.

ALDERMANIC DUTY.—Yesterday "Fair Play" put in a defence of the brokers' shops against the charges of Aldermen Allen and Gaskin, and attacked the respective businesses of these gentlemen. We presume these Aldermen would not themselves object to the system of inspection which they proposed in the Council, and neither should the honorable and careful brokers for whom "Fair Play" responds. They should, indeed, prefer a reasonable inspection as a security to themselves against sharing the blame of others. Aldermen who have the courage to advocate measures against a class for the public good are deserving of public thanks instead of being made the subjects of special attack.

WIND WAFTS.

From Various Sources and on Various Themes.

The police reading room has received a batch of newspaper literature from Dean Lyster.

The sleighing has become wretchedly bad. It is even worse in the country than in the city.

—Ice boating is glorious amusement just now—if one does not object to a thorough drenching.

—A correspondent of the Picton Times warmly advocates the erection of a life saving station at Consecon.

—But six Picton hotel keepers have been licensed to sell liquor. The fee has been advanced from $150 to $200.

—The monetary assets of the Belleville Board of Education amount to $7,419.73, and their liabilities to $334.42.

—A meeting was held at Calaraqui to-day, at which various county and township questions were pointedly discussed.

—The Sergt.-Major of police thinks the country must be more prosperous, the calls of tramps not being so numerous.

—Upwards of seven thousand teams have crossed on the ice between Prescott and Ogdensburg during the last seven weeks.

—The K. & P. RR. Company propose to renew the crib work of their track facing the harbour and outside of the market battery property.

—"Grammaticus," a local teacher, criticised the School Inspectors somewhat sharply, and received a rough handling in return. See Wednesday's Mail.

—William Taylor, ex-member of the Horse Guards, states that he received this morning the first genuine cheque for an instalment of his long sought money.

—A lisping man was heard to remark in respect to the thaw: "Of all the thaws I ever thaw, I never thaw a thaw thaw tho cuthedly thingular ath that thaw thawed."

—Donald Ross, the wrestler, wanted to take part in the wrestling scene in "As You Like It," when Mrs. Scott-Siddons was playing in Boston. The management didn't like it, however.

—Levi Varney, of Bloomfield, has kept a record of the weather for the last twenty-three years, and reports that the temperature of January was colder than any corresponding month since 1857.

—The Finance Committee met yesterday to consider the financial question affecting a change in the disposal of the city's prisoners. A sub-committee to-day made researches into the statistics at the Court House.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. P. O'Leary is lecturing upon Irish affairs in Toronto.

Dr. Young, who has been dangerously ill, is much better to-day.

Mr. Parnell's mother addressed a large Land League meeting in Brooklyn on the 9th.

The London Advertiser suggests the appointment of Mr. Meredith for the vacancy on the Ontario bench.

Mr. Simpson, Collector of Customs, Montreal, has had to resign his interest in the co-operative association recently started.

Mr. G. M. Kinghorn has been elected a director of the Lawlor Sewing Machine Manufacturing Company, Montreal.

Mr. F. W. Jarvis, of Ottawa, the Canadian Gilchrist scholar of 1879, has just died in Edinburg, whither he went for a three years' course in arts.

Mr. A. McKillop, the blind bard of Megantic, is visiting the city, and will remain here for a few days the guest of his poetic friend, Mr. Evan McColl.

The Princess Louise, accompanied by several friends, is now expected to start for Canada on Thursday, May 12th, but it is probable that she will return to England in November.

Texarkona, Arkansas, the home of Dr. J. McMahon, a native of Kingston, is growing rapidly, as indicated by the extension of railways, manufactures, and other business concerns.

Dr. Smith addressed a missionary meeting at Belleville on Wednesday. He said the Presbyterians had this year to raise $40,000 for home missions and $30,000 for French Canadian missions.

Thousand Island Park.

The stock of this company having changed hands during the past few days the popular resort next season will be under new management. The responsibility of the change is largely due to Revs M. D. Kinney, of Oswego, who purchased for himself and others a majority of the stock of the association, Messrs. H. Copley, P. B. Grant and Rev. J. F. Dayan selling to him and resigning as trustees. The management will do its utmost to fulfill the expectations of the hosts of friends and parties of the park by making it the most attractive spot on the St. Lawrence River. A Watertown contemporary wisely remarks that upon a broad and liberal policy, well planned and executed, there is no good reason why the park may not have a good future. By the change Rev. J. F. Dayan will no longer act as Secretary of the Association. It is generally believed that Rev. I. S. Bingham will take his place.

A Gay Season Ending.

The Lenten season draweth near.
In triumph crows old chanticleer;
And turkey gobbler winks at fish
Who soon shall grace the dinner dish.

Only four more weeks of fun and frolic, then must a goodly portion of the gay throng put on the metaphorical sack cloth and ashes and forsake the gaiety of the social whirligig. Feasting must turn to fasting; theatre and ball room must be deserted for church and chapel with the coming of Ash Wednesday, and the April showers will have made the grass green ere we shall see those bewitching and wonderfully made articles which the ladies call Easter bonnets. Then Easter week with its gaiety will egg us on toward the sweet summer time with its archery meets, its island picnics, and excursions on lake and river. This winter has been very gay, socially, in Kingston, having eclipsed a host of its predecessors in this respect.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Last Night's Discussion of Educational and Business Affairs.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held in the Board rooms, Wilkinson's Block. There were present Messrs. Fee, J. S. Kirkpatrick, G. R. Waldron, W. Tandy, W. Irving, W. M. Drennan, W. Allen, N. C. Polson and J. Wilson.

In the absence of Mr. Horsey, called away to attend the funeral of a relative, Mr. J. Wilson was appointed Chairman.

CARETAKERS' ENGAGEMENTS.

Dr. Fee—At what meeting are the caretakers of the different schools appointed?

The Chairman—It is not necessary to re-appoint them annually—under the new rules.

The Secretary—They have not been re-appointed for five years, not periodically. They are engaged at the pleasure of the Board.

MR. WOODS' RESIGNATION.

A communication was received from Mr. S. Wood, submitting his resignation as a trustee for Sydenham Ward—that inasmuch as he would be absent from the city for some time he would be unable to attend the Board meetings.

Mr. Allen advised the Board to take no action upon the communication, until at least mid-summer, when he expected Mr. Woods to return to the city. Other seats had been similarly vacant for a much longer time. He moved, (and the motion was carried) that the communication be referred to the Committee on School Management.

FINANCE REPORT.

The Finance Committee presented their report recommending the payment of these accounts: W. J. Chapman, $5; Shannon & Meek, $10; S. Jenkins, $33.37; do, $184.38; N. McNief, $15.18; Richmond & Bayden, $250; T. Savage & Son, $150; T. McBride, $3.00; T. Lemmon, $21.18; G. Birch, $44.11; Wilson & Davis, $4.50; J. D. Froiland, $2.68; A. Ross, $1; Stacey & Walpole, $23.78.—Received and adopted.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.

The Committee on School Management presented their report, recommending:

Model School—(1) That Mr. Wood's room be furnished with single desks of the same pattern as those in Mr. McArdle's room; and (2) that something be done to reduce the consumption of coal (about 25 tons annually.) The second clause was referred to a Special Committee composed of the Chairman, Messrs. Waldron, Fee, Kirkpatrick, and Wilson.

Louise School—To have two new teachers' desks, a wash stand, and two blackboards.

Queen St. School—(1) To be supplied with a washstand, a teacher's desk, two chairs, and a bell; (2) that the double desks be collected and repaired and put into Miss Davidson's room; (3) that the outbuildings be remodelled. Last clause referred to the Committee on the School to report.

Cataraqui School—To have eight single desks, a tin guard for the stove, a blackboard, a cupboard, a teacher's desk and two chairs.

Inspector's Room—To be covered with oil cloth or some other material.

Water Supply—That the Chairman be empowered to negotiate for a supply of water for Louise School, and that the necessary pipes be laid as soon as the weather will permit.

Mr. Waldron said it was impossible to get an ample supply of good water for the purposes of the school. There were only two wells in the immediate neighborhood which supplied wholesome water. The children should not be required to go about the locality begging for water, especially when the school law said water in abundance should be supplied.

Dr. Fee—Who lays the pipes?

The Chairman—Two or three years ago application was made for water, but at that time the company did not feel justified in laying the pipes for the benefit of the school alone. But the demand has been urgent, and as I am in sympathy with the Board and scholars I will take it upon myself to state that if the Board will pay say $40 for the first year, pipes will be specially laid in order to supply the school with water. When others on the line of street become consumers the rates will be reduced.

Mr. Irving—I do not understand why the School Board should be charged more than an ordinary consumer.

The Chairman—When we (Water Works) go outside our pipe limit we have to charge an extra rate, as in the case of the Orphans' Home. The Company (Water Works) cannot be expected to expend a large sum of money without promise of a reasonable return.

Mr. Tandy—Will there likely be any other consumers?

The Chairman—In the course of time.

Mr. Irving—What would be the rate under ordinary circumstances?

The Chairman—About $25.

Mr. Drennan and Dr. Fee spoke of the probability of the Council erecting a hydrant at the school corner and paying something towards the laying of the pipes to it from Barrie Street. Had any similar case occurred?

The Chairman answered in the affirmative; in the case of the extension of the pipes on Rideau Street to Tandy's foundry, and the erection of a hydrant at Noble's corner, the Council gave a bonus of $25.

Mr. Polson—To new manufactures?

The Chairman—No; to the Water Works.

On motion the report was adopted clause by clause, and as a whole, the Committee being subsequently empowered to carry out the suggestions contained in the document.

SCHOOL REPORTS.

Inspector Kidd submitted his report of school statistics for January. The number enrolled is 1,602, the average attendance 1,312; number of truancies, 2; number suspended, 5; teachers absent, 17½ days.

The report of M. T. H. McGurl, respecting the night school, was also read. It stated that 13 pupils had been admitted since the last report, the total at the date of writing being 84. The average attendance was "about 30." The conduct of the young men was uniformly satisfactory, with one or two exceptions. He had suspended the offenders but reinstated them on promising good conduct for the future.

Dr. Fee said complaints had been lodged with him respecting the unruly and unmanageable conduct of some of those attending the night school. He had visited the school two evenings afterwards and found it almost impossible to remain in the room because of the suffocation caused by the throwing of cayenne pepper on the stove. (Laughter.)

Mr. Allen—That was because you were there. They wanted to get rid of you. (Renewed laughter.)

Dr. Fee—Not at all; the pepper was not put on the stove that evening. Mr. McGurl said he could not find out who used the pepper, which he (Fee) thought very strange. He would like to know what the Inspector thought of the night school? The speaker considered it a failure.

The Inspector said he had visited the school on Monday evening and found 10 persons present. Others had been there but had gone, the arithmetic class being over. He was not strongly impressed in favour of night schools. The attendance this year was better than usual.

A Member—There has been more fun.

Another Member—There has been more pepper.

The Inspector said some of those who went to the night school were pupils in Mr. McGurl's day classes.

Dr. Fee and Mr. Tandy—This should not be allowed.

Mr. Irving moved that the matters spoken of be referred to the Committee on School Management for investigation.

Dr. Fee could not see why the public night school should not be just as successful as the one conducted so cleverly by Mr. Mills.

The Inspector said two teachers should not be occupants of the one room, as neither felt individually responsible for the care of it and its contents. The room had suffered by the night school.

Dr. Fee—In what way?

The Inspector—In the mornings there has been a strong smell of cayenne pepper, and occasionally there was written on the wall and blackboard obscene language.

Mr. Waldron testified to the fact that the night school was as well conducted this year as at any time. There would be no cure for existing defects until pupils at the night schools were admitted on the recommendation of the trustees.

The motion of reference was carried.

MUSIC IN THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. Waldron dilated upon the desirability of having vocal music taught in the schools, not as it had been attempted before but thoroughly. All the children who could sing should be properly trained, and all at least should be taught to appreciate it. He moved that the Committee on School Management consider the matter and report, announcing the cost in the event of the suggestion being carried out.

Dr. Fee—You're not going to have pianos in the schools? You're getting high toned.

Mr. Waldron explained that the music to be taught the young was only vocal.

The subject was lightly discussed and then referred as the motion indicated.

CHAIRMAN'S SOCIAL.

The Chairman stated that Mr. Horsey, President of the Board, decided the use of the Board rooms for the evening of the 28th inst., for a social entertainment.—Granted.

HIGH SCHOOL ROOMS.

Mr. Waldron moved a resolution to the effect that steps be taken to occupy if possible, three unoccupied rooms in the Collegiate Institute, thereby relieving the public schools of the overcrowding which at present prevails.

Dr. Fee—That's right.

Mr. Waldron said that in the Collegiate Institute accomodation had been provided for classes which were not now in existence, and many thought they should now be occupied by public school pupils. He thought that the Institute building had accomodation for about 250 more than now attended it.

Mr. Irving—Three rooms?

Dr. Fee—What's the number now attending the Institute?

Mr. Waldron—About 60. The occupation of the spare rooms in the Institute might pave the way for an amalgamation of the two Boards.

Mr. Polson considered the fusion of the Boards an impossibility. In the event of any arrangement Mr. Knight would want to have supervision of the school.

Dr. Fee—Mr. Knight told me some time ago that the Public School Board could have the largest room in the Institute, and possibly a couple of others. The teacher, of course, would be under Mr. Knight's supervision.

Mr. Tandy—Wouldn't action of this sort undo what has already been done in regard to school enlargement.

Mr. Allen said the Public School Board had no right to make overtures to the high school. Had the latter been made free there might have been some action taken in reference to it by this Board.

Mr. Polson—Mr. Knight, I think, is willing to abolish the fees.

Mr. Allen—Not for another year. The Board cannot have control of any teacher placed in the high school.

The Secretary—And will receive no allowance for average attendance at it.

Mr. Irving said he understood that the Government was going to change the law in regard to high school. Now they were granted each $750 per annum on condition that they contain, generally, 60 pupils who are learning Latin and Greek. Hereafter optional subjects would be considered, Natural Philosophy, and the Modern Languages.

The Chairman—And the grant be continued.

Mr. Irving—A move is being made in the right direction.

Mr. Waldron withdrew his motion.

CLOSING MOTIONS.

Mr. Waldron moved that the Secretary notify the health officers to have the nuisance removed from the unopened street adjoining Queen Street School—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Anglin, seconded by Mr. Drennan, the salary of the caretaker of Cataraqui School was increased to $210 dating from Jan. 1st.—Carried.

Mr. Waldron moved that on the recommendation of the Trustees the Inspector procure books for children who are too poor to make the purchases themselves. It was pointed out that the law provided for such a contingency. The motion was withdrawn for the present.

On motion of Mr. Drennan the Caretaker of the Model School was paid $8 for extra services recently performed.

The Board adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Butchers' By-Law.

The butchers of the city held a meeting yesterday, which was attended by all the Knights of the Cleaver, and at which an opinion was strongly pronounced against the proposed repeal of the butchers' by-law. The license is a heavy tax upon them, amounting to $700 annually—a handsome contribution to the city revenue and equivalent to the rental of the stalls in the market shambles but they desire that the imposition of it shall be continued and that they receive the protection which the impartial and energetic administration of the law will afford them. They further desire this fact to be remembered—that they were put to considerable expense in altering and improving their places of business in order to meet the views of the Aldermen, as embodied in the by-law passed by the Council, and hence repeal and free trade at this time has, to them, an appearance of injustice. Of course their decision will be duly communicated to the Council and receive consideration from the same Committee to which the petition from the citizens has been referred for treatment.

This morning, through a deputation, the butchers asked the city authorities for better protection, and the Mayor on their behalf has promised to execute the by-laws as far as the facilities at his disposal will admit of.

School Chairmanship.

There have been but six chairmen of the School Board in about a quarter of a century—Mr. Strange in 1857; Mr. W. Ford from 1858 until 1871; Mr. R. M. Britton from 1871 till 1876; Mr. Allen in 1876-77; Mr. Pense in 1878-79, and Mr. J. Wilson in 1880.

SECOND STATE BALL.

A Brilliant Assemblage. The Representatives from Kingston.

The Government House entertainments are always important and attractive. The second ball at it was even more successful than the first. Among those invited from Kingston were: Sir Richard and Lady Cartwright, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Hewitt, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Von Straubenzie, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Strange, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Oliver, Major and Mrs. Taschereau, Major and Mrs. Kennington, Major and Mrs. Walker, Major and Mrs. Jones, Major and Mrs. Fairlough, Major and Mrs. Ridout, Capt. and Mrs. Sankey, Prof. and Mrs. Carr Harris, Prof. and Mrs. F. Day, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Macpherson, Misses Macpherson and Miss Kirkpatrick. Of other old Kingstonians there were Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Worsley, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Irwin, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Cotton, Major and Mrs. Holmes, Capt. and Mrs. Peters, Lieut. and Mrs. Drury, Dr., Mrs. and Miss Yates.

His Excellency was in plain evening dress, and wore on his left breast the star of the Order of the Thistle and St. Michael and St. George. He was accompanied by Capt. Chater, A.D.C., in the uniform of the 91st Princess Louise Argylshire Highlanders. Lord George Campbell wore the royal naval uniform, while lady Campbell appeared in blue brocade a la Princesse with diamond ornaments.

The toilettes of the Kingston ladies, as given in the Free Press, were:

Miss Edith Macpherson, Kingston—Black satin with court train of black velvet embroidered in jet; ornaments, garnets and pearls.

Mrs. Pennington Macpherson—Peach colored silk, with Honiton lace, over skirt trimmed with natural flowers; ornaments, pearls.

Miss A. M. Macpherson, Kingston—Black silk velvet embroidered in moonlight jet; ornaments, diamonds and pearls.
