CITY AND VICINITY.

At King's drug store, market square, imported white castile soap, Genoa castile soap, cocoa nut oil soap, tar soap, carbolic soap, and sand soap.

Probs.—Fresh to brisk southerly to westerly winds, fair to cloudy mild weather, with light falls of snow in some localities, followed by fine and colder weather.

Enlarging their Premises.—Messrs. D. McEwen & Co., to-day signed the contract for an addition of 40 x 40 to their business premises. Messrs. Newlands and Chatterton have the contract.

Military Representation.—The civilians having given proof of their histrionic ability, attention is being directed to the entertainment which will be given by our military friends on Monday next. No doubt it will be good.

Valuable Presents.—Rev. T. S. Glassford, of Richmond, Ont., was the recipient from his congregation of several valuable presents, including a purse of $40 and a coon skin overcoat. Mr. Glassford is an old graduate of Queens' College.

St. Paul's Annual Tea.—In the list of those who will kindly assist at St. Paul's concert this evening, in Victoria Music Hall, the names of Mrs. Rothwell, Miss Burton, Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Pomeroy should appear. Don't fail to go to-night.

Concert.—The concert to be given on Friday evening by the Glee Club of Queen's University promises to be a successful affair. Already the sale of tickets has been very large. The programme will be one of unusual merit, we are assured.

A Fortune for a Face.—Mr. Charles H. Day, the agent of the Forepaugh show, offers a premium of $10,000 for the loveliest lady in the land, the money payable in pro rata weekly instalments to the lady contestant who shall be adjudged the most beautiful candidate.

Fine Sample.—A sample of lead ore, picked up on the line of the Kingston and Pembroke railroad and weighing about 650 pounds, the property of Col. Flower, arrived last week in Watertown and is now on exhibition in that city. There is a large proportion of silver in the ore.

Zululand.—The police have had presented to them, as an addition to their library, a book descriptive of Zululand, its wild sports, etc., won at a foot ball match last summer at the Thousand Island Park by Masters H. C. Cunningham, W. Skinner, T. Machlister, J. M. Farrell and H. Farrell.

Indecorous Conduct.—St. Mary's Cathedral was never more crowded on the occasion of a wedding than it was this morning. Some persons indulged in indecorous conduct to such an extent that Father Twohey felt called upon to remind them that they had assembled in a church and not a theatre.

Prudent.—Old Mother Shipton prophesied two hundred and seventy years ago that the world would come to an end in eighteen hundred and eighty-one. This fact has been weighing on the Golden Lion so that he has determined to sell everything close upon actual value, and transfer his vast wealth to the planet Jupiter.

Parlor Concert.—Last evening a parlor concert was given at ex-Ald. McRossie's residence in aid of the Rev. Mr. Crosby's mission (Indian) in British Columbia. The company was large and select. Music, readings, recitations and charades constituted an enjoyable entertainment, the proceeds of which amounted to a considerable sum.

Prison Escapes.—Even American prisoners in gaol at Paso del Norte, Mexico, shot the guard and ran away. The guards pursuing fired upon the prisoners who returned the fire. Three prisoners were killed. The others surrendered. Two guards were seriously wounded. There was more excitement in this affair than in the Kingston escape.

Agricultural Commission.—Those composing the Agricultural Commission have laid before the Legislature their report, so bulky that it has been divided into six volumes, in which the subjects are fully classified. The work is very complete, and as gives the Government an ample return for the large amount of money expended in connection therewith.

Fined.—The Police Magistrate gave judgment this morning in the cabmens' cases. He held that the by-law was applicable to the entire city and that under it he could punish the cabmen whose offences had been further aggravated by their violation of the rules of the company. This being their first appearance before him he imposed a light fine, $1 and costs, or 10 days' imprisonment in the county gaol.

WIND WAFTS.

From Various Sources and on Various Themes.

—The Western mail was nearly two hours late to-day.

—The Rome Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad is to be relaid with steel rails.

—The revenue from billiard and Opera House licenses for the past year amounted to $260.80.

—The Council will likely offer a reward for the apprehension of those who have broken and stolen street lamps.

—The latest slang from the popular song might be paraphrased, "Will you throw in a bill this morning?" "Not this morning."

—All the hay has not been exported from Wolfe Island to the American side. Twelve loads, in procession, were seen crossing the ice for the city to-day.

—The performance of our amateurs in the Opera House last evening is favourably criticised by all who saw it. The players are encouraged to repeat their efforts.

—Another $50,000 has been voted for the improvement of the Oswego harbor. There's millions in it already, and yet Kingston has a far better harbor above the bridge that it never uses.

Sir Chas. Tupper's condition is much improved to-day and no fears are now entertained of his recovery.

Mr. Simpson, Collector of Customs at Montreal, has been confined to his residence for some days by indisposition.

Messrs. W. A. Shephard, of the Belleville Intelligencer, and J. Carnegie, of the Peterboro Review, have been appointed Census Commissioners.

Mr. W. Baker, late of the Audit Office Finance Department, has gone to Winnipeg to assume a position on the Western Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Bunster, M.P., the Lieut. Governor of British Columbia to be, was in the city to-day, being attracted hither by a matrimonial event. Mr. Bunster makes many friends.

An article entitled, "Great Speeches," from the pen of Mr. Nicholas Flood Davin, will appear in the March number of the Canadian Monthly. The leader and prominent men are compared with leading statesmen in the British House of Commons.

Sudden Death.

This morning the citizens were shocked by the very sudden death of Mr. Joseph Cliff, a merchant generally respected and known to nearly everybody. The deceased has not been strong of late years owing to an affection of the heart, and has been ailing more than usual since the melancholy drowning a year ago of his son while skating on the harbor. Recently he secured the fine farm residence of Mr. Joseph Fisher, near the Bath Road toll gate, and yesterday moved out a part of his furniture. This morning he rose at five o'clock feeling uncommonly well, remarking that the very idea of moving to the country seemed to make him feel better. He ate a hearty breakfast and reached his place of business on Clarence Street at seven o'clock to prepare for another day's moving. While standing in the gateway awaiting his horse, he dropped down without a word and died before any one could reach him. The family are sincerely condoled with in this second sudden affliction, occurring, too, at a time when so pleasant a change was about taking place in their domestic affairs.

The deceased was an Englishman, being a native of Yorkshire, where he married. For twenty one years he has resided in Kingston, and throughout that long term he has borne the good will of every citizen, he himself being one of the best of citizens. He was a faithful member of St. George's Society and one of its Board of Management, and the members will attend the funeral in a body from the late residence of the deceased on West Street.

Dominion Telegraph Company.

The company's annual report shows very satisfactory progress during the past year. It plainly indicates that the company is rapidly coming to the front, as the following comparative statement of both companies will show. In 1875 the gross receipts of the M. T. Co. were $550,494; the D. T. Co., $146,397. In 1880 the gross receipts of the M. T. Co. were $550,840; the D. T. Co., $299,494. The relative increase of the Dominion Company is extremely large and represents both aggressiveness and good management of the institution. For such a young company it is shewing remarkable vitality.

Over the Line.—Yesterday Mayor Henry, President, and Mr. W. S. Williams, Secretary of the Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec R.R., accompanied by W. H. Williams, special correspondent of the Globe, went over the proposed line as far as Tamworth. At the latter place they were the guests of Mr. E. W. Benjamin. Mr. Williams (No. 2) was pleased with the route and considered the business prospects of the road very good.

Gunpowder Plot.—Mr. Taylor says his will no longer be called the Taylor case but the "Gunpowder Plot of 1881." He believes that the present Fenian excitement can be traced to a conspiracy on the part of the Canadian and American Governments to dispossess him of his money and use it in the annihilation of the British Government. Likely enough.

"BLACK-EYED SUSAN."

A Very Creditable Performance of the Kingston Amateur Dramatic Club.

Though all the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players, having their exits and their entrances, and each in turn playing many parts, all have not the talent to effectively pourtray character as it was so creditably done by the members of the Kingston Theatrical Company in the Opera House last evening. In every community there are those who have a taste for dramatics, and, the associations being satisfactory and unquestionable, the study and performance of popular plays is more to be commended than condemned. In past years in this city there have been various organizations whose public exhibitions have been remarkably successful, so much, so, indeed, that at one time, when Kingston was considered of less importance than it is to-day, it had its permanent theatre, its stock company, and its stars. In later years the theatrical profession has been overcrowded, and there has been so much drama that amateur efforts have met with little favour and less support. Last night's results, however, are more encouraging. It would be a matter of regret were the public not to have the benefit of more than one exhibition of local theatricals, especially when it is remembered that the production of the programme involve not simply personal labour but a considerable expense. The first piece was "Black Eyed Susan,"

EMBRACING THE FOLLOWING CAST:

William	Mr. Compton
Admiral	Mr. J. Creggan
Doggrass	Mr. F. Coope
Crosstree	Mr. F. Coope
Lieut. Pike	Mr. G. McGowan
Gnat Brain	Mr. Manion
Jacob Twigg	Mr. W. Keeley
Blue Peter (with song)	Mr. J. Galloway
Seaweed	Mr. Begg
Quid	Mr. G. Cannon
Ratchet	Mr. S. Mockridge
Ploughshare	Mr. E. Manion
Black Eyed Susan	Miss Pennington
Dolly Mayflower	Miss Waggoner
Sailors, &c.

Of the men the two most notable players were Messrs. Compton and J. Manion. The former is not an amateur, having been schooled under a no less distinguished tutor than Mr. T. C. King, of whose company he was a member. There was no ackwardness, therefore, about his movements, and word and gesture were admirably timed. Mr. Manion, though less experienced, proved equally popular. There was none of the stiffness which characterises a non professional's debut; on the contrary his acting was the life of the piece and it was the more heartily applauded because agreeably beyond anticipation. Messrs. Compton and Manion were the heroes and Misses Pennington and Waggoner the heroines of the play. The first, a sailor, one of Her Majesty's navy, married Black-Eyed Susan (Miss Pennington) and was yet enjoying the happiness of a home after a three years' absence, when "Crosstree" (Mr. Cooper), Captain of William's vessel, in an inebriated condition met Susan, fell in love with her, and attempted to force his suit upon her. He was attacked by the injured husband "William." For drawing his sword upon an officer he was condemned to death, but at the last moment the sentence is revoked, evidence being produced that the regulations had not been violated. Both the young ladies performed very creditably and cleverly for their years. Their dress was modest and becoming their delivery, and stage action exceedingly good.

AN EXCELLENT SUPPORT.

Mr. Keeley was very funny as "Jacob Twigg," the bailiff, making the most of the role assigned to him. His make up was rather better than that of the usual theatrical pettifogger, and his singing and "guff" gave the character a peculiar interest. Messrs. Creeggan, Cooper and McGowan, as "Admiral," "Captain" and "Lieut. Pike" respectively had important parts to fill and they are to be congratulated upon the efficient support which they rendered. Their costumes were handsome; in this respect the appointments were in accordance with the eternal fitness of things. The crew was ably represented by a number of young men, chief of whom were Messrs. G. Cannon and J. Galloway, the latter giving a song the rendition of which would have been improved had the accompaniment been better. The "Artful Dodger" has been played in Kingston frequently but not often with greater success. Mr. Manion was the central figure in this after piece. The others players were Messrs. Creeggan, Keeley, Compton and Johnston and Misses Pennington and Waggoner. The receipts must have netted a considerable sum, the house being a crowded one.

SCENERY—CLOSING SCENES.

The special and new scenery was much admired, and a full meed of praise must be accorded to Mr. Grant, the artist, who upon short notice performed his work so satisfactorily. The view of the sea and aboard ship were the best of the three, the scene being so good that when the drop curtain was raised and the audience first contemplated it they marked their sense of approval by loud applause. There was another favorable feature—the smoothness with which the acts closed and at a befitting points in the performance. Mere training for effect would have been of no avail had the players themselves not had a quick conception of what was required from them. But we need continue our comments to no greater length. To briefly state our opinion—the whole performance was a happy surprise to us, a credit to the company, and a source of substantial satisfaction to the institutions which will be benefitted by a division of the proceeds.

Severely Injured.

Last evening Mr. Robert Easton, Treasurer of Napanee, was severely injured. He was crossing the market square on his way home when a passing sleigh accidentally struck the old man, who is quite deaf, knocking him down. He was picked up in an insensible condition. There are no apparent external injuries except a cut on the head. It is hoped the accident may not result fatally. Mr. Easton, who is 64 years old, has been Treasurer of Napanee for over a quarter of a century.

WEDDING BELLS.

The Nuptials This Morning of Senator Howlan and Miss M. Doran.

An event long and anxiously contemplated occurred this morning in St. Mary's Cathedral—the marriage of Senator Howlan, of Prince Edward Island, to Miss M. Doran. The unusual interest taken in the circumstance, was fully manifested by the very large number who took possession of the Cathedral at an early hour and awaited, with more or less impatience, the performance of the ceremony. At 9 o'clock not a seat was available, not even comfortable standing room near the front of the stately edifice. The centre aisle was carpeted from the altar to the street. At 9.30 o'clock the groomsmen and bridesmaids arrived, followed soon afterwards by the groom and bride, and at once the marriage service was performed by Very Rev. Vicar-General Farrelly, of Belleville, Administrator of the Diocese, assisted by Rev. Father Twohey, the Chancellor. Miss Doran was attended by Misses Mary Walsh and Kate Dwyre, and Senator Howlan by Messrs. Robt. Gardiner, of Kingston, and J. Robt. Peachy, of Ottawa. The richness of the toillets may be referred from the description of them given elsewhere. After the twain were made husband and wife mass was celebrated and a full choir rendered the Ave Maria, Mrs. O'Reilly taking the leading parts. This afternoon the newly wedded couple received the congratulations of many friends, and then adjourning partook of an excellent dejeuner at the residence of the bride on Barrie Street. This afternoon Senator Howlan and his bride left for Montreal, thence they goes via New York to Washington, returning we presume to Ottawa until the adjournment of Parliament.

PERSONAL REFERENCES.

Senator G. W. Howlan, (of Alberton) is the son of a journalist, and has himself written editorially for the Charlottetown Examiner. He has occupied many public offices, and been entrusted with various commissions affecting the trade and commercial relations of the Province in which he resides. He was called to the Senate in 1873 the same year in which Prince Edward Island entered the Union. Mr. Howlan was accompanied to this city by Senator Montgomery, a hale and hearty old gentleman of 73, who has been continuously for over 40 years in public life, and is a close attendant upon his Senatorial duties.

Hon. Mr. Bunster, another of those who came to Kingston to witness the wedding, represents Vancouver. He sat in the British Columbia Legislature both before and after the Union, but resigned his seat in the Provincial House to run for the Commons.

K. & P. RR.

The Best of Reasons Why the Government Should Aid the Road.

The country lying north of Frontenac would to-day have been quite undeveloped, in the opinion of the Toronto Telegram, were it not for the Government subsidy given the Kingston and Pembroke Railway, which, it is gratifying to all interested in the progress of the Province to learn, is pushing its pioneer path back among the woods and minerals of the northern country. Sixty-one miles have been built and we see by a Kingston paper that thirty miles further are under construction, the Government contributing $8,000 a mile. In order, as recently pointed out, that the project conceived by the original promoters of the road may be consummated, a bonus of $6,000 a mile for the fourteen miles lying between the extension under construction and the junction with the Canada Central, over which it has running powers, and by means of which it gains additional facilities for being the outlet of a very considerable section of country, is urgently demanded. That the Government would be justified in granting that bonus can scarcely be questioned by any one, careful and impartial, who will take the pains to consider the Ontario railway question. There are doubtless other railways equally deserving of consideration, but none has projected itself before the public concerned in such matters with greater prominence. To the casual or indifferent reader a bonus of this sort looks like a clean gift, but if one will stop to consider and enquire it will be discovered that in the crown timber dues and in other ways the Government is handsomely recouped for the money aid which it extends. Land is increased in value, wood is got out and mines are opened up and developed. The assistance to colonization roads is to be defended, we venture to think, on sound economical reasons, and if not top extravagantly rendered, can be successfully justified.

A Baroness' Fortune.

A bill has been filed in Chancery to restrain the trustees under the will of the Duchess of St. Albans from permitting the Baroness to continue to receive the income heretofore paid here, under her life interest in the property devised by the Duchess, including her share in the profits of Coutts Bank, the house in which she now resides in Piccadilly, and landed estates in Hampstead, worth altogether £100,000 a year. The Baroness has received hitherto not less than £50,000 a year from the bank alone. It is resolved that the suit will be contested on two grounds: First, that the provision of the will is illegal, because it is in restraint of marriage; second, because Mr. Bartlett is not an alien, but a naturalized subject. The will, however, expressly provides that she shall forfeit the property mentioned if she marries a naturalized subject. Lawyers consider that the Baroness is sure to lose, but she intends to carry the appeal to the House of Lords. If the contested property be lost to her, the remainder will amount to £2,000,000, all of which will devolve on Mr. Bartlett if he survives the Baroness.

Perhaps a cough has come upon us which threatens that dreaded of all diseases, consumption, and we feel that death is near. With what joy should we be filled then, when such a remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is placed within our reach. It has cured thousands who were nearer the grave than ourselves and made their lives peaceful and happy. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, loss of voice, difficulty of breathing, or any affection of the throat and lungs are positively cured by this wonderful discovery. A Great Chicago Enterprise.—The laboratory for the manufacture of Electric Bitters is one of Chicago's greatest enterprises, giving employment to a large number of hands. The extensive sale already attained for this wonderful remedy is astonishing. Wherever once introduced and becomes known, it is almost impossible to supply the demand, because of their true merit—curing where all others fail—and at a reasonable price (fifty cents).—Exch.
