Daily British Whig.

On fyle per Orlem fleer.

The Citizen says it is thought Parliament will be prorogued on the 17th or 18th inst.

Hon. Mr. Anglin is very properly anxious for a Parliamentary return of the papers which shall show how the Canadian appropriation of $100,000 to the Irish relief fund was expended. Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed in Canada at the application of the money in part to works of public utility in Ireland so as to furnish work for the people, and the balance to the hiring out of small smacks, etc., for fishing purposes. Whether these were the proper modes of disbursement or not would be more evident upon actual trial of them, but the people of Canada are as yet in the dark as to how the money was expended, and it is somewhat difficult to understand why the very proper request of Mr. Anglin has been shuffled off by the Government during nearly three months since the hon. gentleman first preferred it.

CHIEF JUSTICE WOOD.

The Tory thirst for revenge upon obnoxious political opponents is becoming proverbially insatiable. The implacable party hatred was cruelly illustrated in the experience of the Hon. Letellier de St. Just, who was literally pursued to death by Tory hatred. A similar crusade is being started in the other end of the Dominion; the object of it being the Hon. E. B. Wood, Chief Justice of Manitoba. Like the late Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec Chief Justice Wood has been seriously ill for some time and the name of the Hon. John O'Connor, it will be remembered, was freely named as his successor in the then probable event of his demise. Contrary to general expectations the Hon. Mr. Wood has rallied and gives promise of a lengthened lease of life. It is intolerable thus to defeat Tory hopes of a speedy vacation of a coveted position, and hence party impatience is finding expression in a long list of charges against the Chief Justice, on the strength of which the Dominion Government is expected to declare that the Hon. gentleman's usefulness is gone! The progress of this case and the upshot of it will be followed with much interest.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

Another case of the now unfortunately not unusual crime of murder by abortion has occurred in Toronto. The victim reluctantly made an ante-mortem statement, more with a view to exculpate the attending physician than to incriminate the offender, but this statement distinctly places the guilt upon the wretched woman who helped and hurried her victim into eternity. Indeed the statement above referred to is countersigned by the prisoner herself and thus becomes a confession of her own guilt. Such cases admit of very little extenuation, and should be visited with the sternest retributive justice, but there are circumstances in this instance which will be urged in mitigation of punishment as for example the fact that since the death of the husband of her deceased had borne a loose reputation. In addition to this there was evidently no intention on the part of the prisoner to do more than get her 'patient' out of trouble, and her conduct when she found that death was seizing her victim and her readiness to sign the confession before referred to are to show that she had no thought of taking life. These excuses, however, cannot be allowed as legitimate apologies for one of the worst of crimes, which it is the business and duty of the strong arm of the law to vigorously suppress.

BOUNDARY AWARD.

The prorogation speech from the throne by His Honor Governor Robinson of course gave a resume of the business of the session. One of the most important matters to which it referred was the reassertion of the validity of the Ontario boundary award, which was made by the arbitrators as far back as August 1878, but which has been to this day ignored and sought to be set aside by the Dominion Government. Shortly after the above date the Conservatives were floated into power again in Ottawa and they have not failed ever since to pursue a policy antagonistic to the interests of Ontario. This is partly if not largely to be accounted for by the fact that Ontario is, and is likely to remain, the Reform stronghold of the Dominion, and therefore have the Tories of the Federal Parliament determinedly set themselves against every move looking to any possible enlargement or aggrandisement of the premier province. It is well under such circumstances to have a Government in Ontario which will faithfully guard and vigorously maintain the menaced rights of this Province. Another protest is to be addressed to the Dominion Government, demanding a ratification of the boundary award. Should these representations have no immediate effect in accomplishing their purpose they will at any rate throw all the responsibility of refusal upon the men in power at Ottawa, who have proven themselves the enemies of Ontario. Had the Government of Ontario consisted of the co-partisans and puppets of the Ottawa ministry the award would long ere this have been abandoned and the interests of this Province sacrificed to a collusion between the Federal and Provincial authorities. Apart altogether from the merits of the award the interests of the people who occupy the disputed territory are suffering from the delay, and resolutions are hailing from them enjoining upon the Government some sort of definite action so that they may know just where they stand. The Ontario Government must not and will not permit Ontario interests to be sacrificed, and will doubtless carry the award before the highest authority in the Empire, so that its validity may be ratified and sustained.

L'HOTEL DIEU.

Sketch of Its Untired Work Biography of Its Founders.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

SIR,—This admirable institution was opened in the city of Kingston in the year 1845. Since that time 11,000 patients have been administered to, and out of that enormous number they were few who were able to recompense the Sisters for their untiring zeal. On one occasion, when the small pox was raging in the city they turned their house into a small pox hospital and had to remove sixty little orphans from their adjoining apartment to another asylum until the disease abated. It is true there was a small pox hospital at the time, but some of the patients were so stricken with the disease that they could not well be removed. These heroic Sisters had a task to do which few other than they would undertake. They likewise attended the emigrant fever cases at the general hospital and in temporary sheds erected for that purpose. The Sisters were the last to be afflicted with the disease and one of them died.

A MARTYR OF CHARITY.

Being established in the city as hospitallers they cheerfully undergo all the labor they meet with in serving the sick and destitute. Among the 11,000 patients referred to above only 400 died; and 300 were buried at the expense of the hospital, which goes to show their wants were properly attended to. Since the year 1858 there have been 136 important surgical operations performed by Dr. Sullivan, who, in his charity, serves the hospital gratuitously. The writer has been a patient in the hospital, and can say that every possible means are taken to relieve the poor sufferer by careful nursing. Miss Jane Mance, whose name Parkman says is justly famous in the early history of Canada, brought these

HOSPITAL NUNS TO MONTREAL.

Though leading life of a religieuse in the world this pioneer heroine wished to be entire mistress of all her actions. She set no bounds to her fervor. Reading an account of the heroism of some devoted ladies who had gone to Quebec, she felt she had found her true vocation, to go to the wild banks of the mighty St. Lawrence. What Canada was she had but a very indistinct idea. Her friends, many of whom never heard of Montreal, tried every persuasion to divert the one absorbing idea. Nevertheless she goes to Paris, is introduced to the pious Duchess de Boullion, who gives her a note to Jerome le Royer De Ladauversiere, and a purse of 20,000 livres to defray her expenses. She pursued her way to New Rochelle, where ships were to sail for Canada. On the day of her arrival in the city, entering a church to invoke the protection of the Almighty, she met Mr. De Ladauversiere. She was warned by him that the rude walls of Montreal must that tribes of hostile savages would oppose to the death the struggling colony, that she would be all alone to care for the sick and wounded. All fearful representations of the infant colony had no other effect but to increase the compassion and zeal of this heroic lady. Mr. De Ladauversiere admired her courage and bade her go where, no doubt, God had called her. With this encouragement she left home and la belle France for the country of the Iroquois, consoling her countrymen and binding wounds received from the fierce savages. Parkman says she found her destiny the ocean, the wilderness, the solitude, the Iroquois. With the brave Maissonneuve and his little band she was the first pale faced daughter of the European to set foot on the green and solitary shores of Montreal. With the liberal donations of the Duchess de Boullion she founded L'Hotel Dieu of Montreal and went to France for the sisterhood. Since that time the Montreal house has made four establishments—one in Kingston and three in New Brunswick. This, Mr. Editor, is but a brief sketch of the noble institution we have in our midst.

Yours respectfully,
A CITIZEN.

Kingston, March 4, '81.

MILITARY ESTIMATES.

Parliamentary Information of an Important and Interesting Character.

On the item $250,000, an increase of $75,000 on last year for drill pay and all other incidental expenses connected with the drill and training of the militia.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex) expressed satisfaction with the Government in having asked for an increase for this purpose.

Hon. Mr. Caron said every encouragement should be given to our volunteer force, and he desired to explain the change that had taken place from the policy followed last year. Under this increased vote it was contemplated to drill 20,000 officers and men and 1,500 horses. It was proposed to drill 17,000 men in Brigade camps for twelve days, during which time they would receive pay for every day they were on service.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex)—Going and returning?

Hon. Mr. Caron said—Yes, going and returning. The cost of transport, forage for horses, etc., would also be paid. He had also considered four days drill as money spent uselessly, and that twelve days' training was necessary in order to derive any benefit for the money spent. It was very probable that in Ontario there would be four camps, in Quebec three, in New Brunswick one, in Nova Scotia one, and one battalion company in Prince Edward Island. Three thousand men would be drilled at their local headquarters at the time most convenient to them. It was found that many of the city corps were composed of young men who could not drill in brigade camps, owing to their being unable to leave their business when brigade camps met. These men would be drilled in winter. The officers would receive $1 a day and the men 50 cents a day. Those drilling in camp would receive Government pay.

The item was agreed to.

On the item $59,000, Royal Military College—

Mr. Ross (Middlesex) thought precautions should be taken by the Government to retain our cadets in the country. If this were not done inducements would be held out for them to leave the country, and Canada would have spent the money in giving them their military education for nothing.

Hon. Mr. Caron said the Government had taken the first steps in this direction by opening batteries "A" and "B" to cadets leaving the Military College. That was an inducement.

Local Legislature.

Among the Acts read and passed at the prorogation of the Local Legislature were:

Act respecting the Prince Edward County Railway Company.

Act to close part of a certain road allowance between the townships of Kingston and village of Portsmouth.

Act to confirm certain assessments of the city of Kingston.

Act to amend the Act to incorporate the Roman Catholic Bishops of Toronto and Kingston, in Canada, in each diocese.

Act to legalize a certain by-law of the county of Frontenac, and the sale of the debentures issued thereunder.

VANDERBILT SPEAKS.

Opinion of Railroad and Telegraph Combinations, Stock Gambling, etc.

The N.Y. Herald has a four column interview with W. H. Vanderbilt. He said: We have had a severe winter and the railways have had a hard time, but there is plenty of freight to be carried, and the probabilities are that the railways will have a very large tonnage until late in the spring or summer, as the navigation on the lakes will hardly open as early as usual. Business of all kinds is thriving. The prospect for the season at least seems to be very encouraging. Fools are resorted to by the railways as a protection against the rumors war rates, and the combinations are as beneficial to the public as they are to the railroads, as they give all classes uniformity of rates while in the war of rates every shipper is necessarily a speculator to the extent of the fluctuations of the rates.

UNDER THIS ARRANGEMENT

rates are not higher than reasonable; pools cannot destroy the competitions of the waterways of the country. Rivers, lakes and canals are all constant regulators. "I am perfectly convinced," he said, "that railway consolidations are beneficial not only to the properties consolidated but to the public. In my entire experience I know of no instance to the contrary. Transportation over great trunk lines has been cheapened to a much greater percentage during the last ten years than the price of products and manufactures carried by them. The present cry of the anti-monopoly is perfectly absurd. As a matter of fact the railroads have done more than all the other agencies to develop the country. A larger percentage of the money invested in them has been sunk than in any other business. Never in their history has there been so much competition. Monopoly is simply impossible.

AS TO TELEGRAPH CONSOLIDATION

I acted in good faith and according to the best judgment as a director of the United States Union. I would not hesitate to do it over again to-morrow. There has been no advance of rates and the company will be enabled to do its business at less expense." As to the question, which is the best horse in the world? Vanderbilt said, "That's touching too near home, isn't it? Well, suppose nobody will deny that place to Maud S. My guiding maxim in life is do what you think is right and fair to others, regardless of what people may think." As to his controlling Wall St. speculation, Vanderbilt said, "What nonsense. Why there are twenty men down there who could go round me three or four times before breakfast. No not twenty but a hundred and twenty. Supposing I could get all the money there was down in Wall street I should only be a devilish sight worse off. I tell you the nicest thing in this world is to be satisfied with what you have, and that's what I am."

SOUTH AFRICA.

A Temporary Armistice Gen. Wood's Death Reported.

Newcastle, March 7.—General Wood went to Mount Prospect to-day and had an interview with Joubert which resulted in an armistice till the 14th inst. Rumors of peace are rife, but it is impossible unless we agree to the Boer terms, the complete independence of the Transvaal, and an amnesty to all the leaders. By the armistice permission is granted to send provisions for eight days to the beleaguered garrisons.

Drs. Barber and Diaz, while being escorted from Transvaal to Orange Free State, were fired upon by the Boer escort. After they reached Free State Barber was killed and Diaz wounded. The affair is similar to the murder of Capt. Elliott.

London, March 7.—It is rumored that Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood has been killed while attacking the Boers.

The memory of the late General Colley seems likely to be stigmatized by something worse than incapacity. It is now charged that he delayed the negotiations with the Boers in order to be able to retrieve some of his losses by a victory before concluding peace. The Cabinet Council at London on Saturday is said to have settled on the terms of peace to be offered, and to have telegraphed them to General Wood. General Roberts left for the Cape on Saturday, his departure from London being witnessed by immense crowds.

London, March 7.—The reported killing of General Wood by the Boers is denied.

EARTHQUAKE.

Destruction and Death Caused by two Shocks.

London, March 7.—Details of the earthquake at Casamicia state that the first shock was heard at 1:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the second an hour later. The whole upper part of the town has been destroyed. Two Thermal establishments are seriously damaged. The Syndic and sub-Prefect are directing the operations for the recovery of the bodies. Three royal steamers have arrived from Naples with soldiers and physicians.

London, March 7.—The soldiers here rescued many from the ruins. The population have fled to the surrounding county and along the sea coast. The Government is sending food from Naples. The King and Ministers have sent a contribution. The second and fatal shock lasted seven seconds, and was accompanied by a noise like subterranean thunder; then came the crash of falling houses, accompanied by the shrieks of the victims. It is probable the loss of life will be 200, and the damage to house property one million francs.

It was first supposed that the disaster was connected with the partial eruption of Mount Vesuvius on the 3rd inst., but Prof. Palmiere states that the seismographic instruments gave no indications of a disturbance in the 4th inst. He thinks the catastrophe was due to some local phenomenon, possibly sinking ground, in consequence of the corrosive action of mineral springs.

Scientific Frontier.

Calcutta, March 7.—The scientific frontier, which cost so much to gain, will, in a few days, so far as Northern Afghanstan is concerned, be a thing of past. The opinion of the Indian public and press is that the Government will before long have bitter cause to regret its hasty retreat.

London, March 7.—In the Commons to-day Lord Stanhope gave notice of a resolution respecting the withdrawal of British troops from Southern Afghanistan. Lord Northcote will to-morrow ask what day will be convenient for the debate. This action will amount to the moving of a formal vote of censure by the Opposition on the Government's Afghan policy.

Dervaw Case.

Henry Deryaw called at the WHIG office to-day and denied that any settlement or anything in the nature of a settlement has taken place between him and Breden, whom he charges with wounding with intent. The report published have been Mr. Breden's statement at Carleton Place, and the statement of the Counsel of Deryaw and Breden to our reporter within the last week.

IRISH AGITATION.

Commotion by the Operation of the Coercion Act.

London, March 6. On Friday night, seven miles from Mullingar, a man named Farrelly was shot by two men near his own house. Farrelly has since succumbed to his wounds.

PROCLAIMED DISTRICTS.

The Dublin Gazette contains proclamations for the county of Clare, eleven baronies in the counties Cork, Galway, Kerry, Leitrim, Limerick, Mayo. The Gazette also contains two forms of warrants for arrest, one for high treason and the other in blank for crime to be specified. The number of arrests as originally intended will be very much diminished by the voluntary exile of numbers of the suspected.

DIVISION ON THE ARMS BILL.

The News says the division on the third reading of the Army Bill will be taken in the Commons on Wednesday.

ANTI-COERCION MEETINGS.

Thousands of people met in Mullingar to-day to protest against coercion. J. Sullivan and several Catholic clergymen were present. Harris, one of the traversers, delivered an address. A land meeting of 10,000 people was held at Tralee. Several members of the Land League spoke.

GOING FOR DILLON.

To-day Mr. Jeremiah Stringer, a detective, swore an information against Mr. Dillon for his "Boycotting" speech last Sunday. Mr. Stringer returned to Dublin after getting the information signed, but he found that instructions had been given to suspend the warrant until Monday. No arrests have yet been made under the Coercion Act, and none are expected until Monday or Tuesday.

HANDSOME DONATION.

New York, March 7.—Thirty thousand francs were remitted to the Land League to-day by the editor of the Irish World.

NEW YORK MEETINGS.

New York, March 7.—A large number of Land League meetings were held in this vicinity yesterday. There is unabated interest and large accessions to the membership.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Radical Changes Contemplated by the New Cabinet.

New York, March 7.—The World says it is rumored that Blaine has decided upon the reorganization of the State Department, which may be the entering wedge for a permanent reform in the diplomatic consular service. It is rumored that Bancroft Davis is to leave the Court of Claims and return to the State Department to assist in the reorganization. It is believed that the reorganization of the Senate will occur on Tuesday or Wednesday, and that the Republicans will not seek a postponement. Blaine's successor cannot be elected before the 15th, and the Senate will adjourn before that time.

The Herald says it is understood that Blaine and Windom favor an immediate extra session to legislate a new funding bill.

Mr. Morton, in deference to the wishes of Mrs. Morton, expresses a preference for the French over the English mission. It is understood that the English mission has been tendered to Evarts with special reference to the importance of the monetary question. Vice President Wheeler, after a sojourn to Florida, will go to Europe.

Walking Matches.

New York, March 7.—The total receipts of last week's enterprise, including bar privileges, &c., are only $17,000. The expenses approximate $16,566, the rent of the building alone being $10,000. There will be little to divide among those who covered 450 miles, of whom Panchot was the most fortunate in carrying off the sweepstakes and the O'Leary belt. The finishing score is as follows: Panchot, 541½; Krohne, 523½; Curran, 504½; Lacrousse, 489½; Sullivan, 461½; and Campana, 450½.

New York, March 7.—There was scarcely five hundred people at the new walking match this morning. Little interest is taken in the affair. The walking mania has apparently ended. At noon the score stood: Rowell, 86 miles; Albert, 68; O'Leary, 55; and Vaughan, 61.

Storm In Scotland.

London, March 7.—The snow storm in Scotland has abated. It will be some days before railway communication will be restored. About nine vessels has been lost on Aberdeenshire coast and about one hundred persons drowned. The ship "Benrhydding," from Calcutta to Dundee, was wrecked near Aberdeen and 30 persons drowned. Two or three small vessels are lost, with all hands, on the coast.

New Treaty of Commerce.

Madrid, March 7.—The Cuban and Puerto Rican Senators and Deputies have decided to petition the Cabinet in favor of prompt negotiations with America for a treaty of commerce. They fear that under the present system in five years the United States will produce enough sugar for its own consumption without the need of the Cuban export.

A Bad Accident

Baltimore, March 7.—The train containing ex-President Hayes and his family, together with many prominent Cleveland and Shamokin citizens, was run into on Saturday, at Severn station, on the Baltimore and Potomac Railway, by a train of empty passenger coaches going south to Washington. One passenger and one engineman were killed and several others badly wounded.

Perished Cattle.

Ottawa, March 7.—The Department of the Interior have been informed that not more than twenty head of cattle perished in the North-West territories during the severe snow storms of the past winter whilst the death rate in the Western States reached thirty per cent.

Sitting Bull.

Fort Assiniboine, Minn., March 7.—Major Baker, from Sitting Bull's camp, reports that Sitting Bull is anxious to surrender but is afraid he will be imprisoned or hung.

Taking Office.

Washington, March 7.—Except Lincoln all the Cabinet officers qualified this morning. They will take charge of their departments at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

POLICE COMMISSION.—To-day Detective Macauley left for Belleville to take over the custody of the boys Brown and Hyatt, involved in a recent larceny case in this city. The lads will be brought to Kingston by the night train and come before the Court to-morrow.

T. J. Whellams, of Rapid City, is now in Ottawa en route for England, to take charge of the first batch of emigrants to be brought to Canada by the syndicate.

The Government in La Plata has an eye to benefiting by the supposed teeming crowds who are ready to migrate from Ireland. They have sent Dean Dillon as their special agent to direct emigrants from the Green Isle to that country.

Mr. Childers' scheme of army reform will save England a quarter of a million pounds sterling. Flogging in the army is to be entirely abolished. The minimum age of enlisting is to be raised from 18 to 19, and men, or more correctly youths, under twenty are not to be sent to India.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR.

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition all turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, it often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression, falling hair is checked, and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, the cases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness it imparts.
