the clergy of Canada to turn their attention to the practicability of reaching the people through the influence of the schools; inasmuch as those who can rule boys well make the best rulers of men. He also eulogized the Church of England for its toleration, and for the evident disposition of its ministers to make self sacrifices and brave dangers in the performance of duty. Their work could not always be judged by appearances. In the battle field the rougher the sufferers the deeper and greater were sometimes the anxieties displayed by them for spiritual ministrations. Some who expressed a contempt for conventionalities loved nature, and in loving nature they loved God. He closed by suggesting that those who were enjoying the blessing of religion would show that they had not forgotten those of their own people who were not so happily circumstanced by making a money sacrifice in their interest.

HIS WORSHIP'S OBSERVATIONS.

Mayor Penise spoke briefly for the reason that his position there was unusual and that his experience of the missions of the Diocese of Ontario was very limited. St. Paul's congregation, he was informed, had always been liberal in its contributions which amounted to a sufficient sum annually to support one or two missions. The Church of England people here were well situated indeed, having in the city four churches and four more within a radius of three miles. In some cases endowments had been handed down by past congregations so that the cost to the present generation of maintaining the churches was comparatively light. He had, however, but to point to the church at Cataraqui as a monument of the generosity of the people of Kingston. The mission work of the diocese was entitled to sympathy. It had been faithfully performed by clergy who laboured under many disadvantages and upon whose ministrations many depended. There were uses at home and the North-West for all the money that could be contributed. Until recently the diocese had been assisted by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, and hundreds of dollars were spent in this locality; now many in the North-West are looking for the contributions which we can afford them. He trusted that the laymen would continue to interest themselves in the missions, and that the stipends would be increased so that by and bye every portion of the diocese would be reached by the church's representatives.

A FINAL APPEAL.

Rev. Buxton Smith discussed the question, How can we account for the want of interest evinced by the church men generally in the cause of missions? That there was some interest had to be acknowledged otherwise there would be nothing to talk about, no results to show. But there was a want of proper interest. What was the reason of it? First there appeared to be an absence of information. Certainly men were not acquainted with the church's operations as they were with political and commercial events. And yet there was progress of which they had evidence in the increase of the number of edifices for worship, in the number of clergy, and in the ability to thrive without the annual grant of $3,000 annually from the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. The lack of interest again arose from a want of faith. Some question the ability of the gospel power to produce the effects with which it has been credited, or the performance of which has been promised. God's kingdom was not intended for one nation or people. The Lord came to earth and died for the redemption of all mankind. Foreign missions, too, were wise, and in fulfilment of the command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel." There is in the soul of every man the capacity to receive the truth and respond to it irrespective of his condition. Lastly, there must be patience with this work. In India the missionaries had only been at work for fifty years, and yet in one part alone it was reported that there were 70,000 converts and 70 native missionaries. This is wonderful work when compared with the three centuries which transpired before the great Roman Empire could be said to be professedly Christian. "Love," he said, delighted in giving that which cost something. The love offering, he hoped, in this case would be worthy of the cause for which Christ died.

The collection was then taken up, at the close of which a procession of children presented their offering to the mission of Rupert's Land. The little ones sang a missionary hymn, and Rev. Mr. Garrett, on behalf of the Rural Dean, addressed them in an encouraging manner.

Holloway's Ointment.

Turn which way you will, go where you please, persons will be found who have a ready word of praise for this Ointment. For chaps, chafes, scalds, bruises, and sprains, it is an invaluable remedy; for bad legs caused by accident or cold it may be confidently relied upon for effecting a sound and permanent cure. In cases of swelled ankles, erysipelas, gout, and rheumatism, Holloway's Ointment gives the greatest comfort by reducing the inflammation, cooling the blood, soothing the nerves, adjusting the circulation, and expelling impurities. This Ointment should have a place in every nursery. It will cure the long list of skin affections which originate in childhood and gain strength with the child's growth.

IRISH RELIEF GRANT.

Mr. Anglin Objects to the Manner in Which it has been Expended.

In the House of Commons on Friday, Mr. Anglin wished, before going into supply, to draw the attention of the House to the manner in which the money voted last session to relieve the distressed people in Ireland had been expended. The wish of every honorable gentleman was that this money should be used directly in relieving the suffering of starving people. The Premier had said that he would telegraph to Her Majesty's Government that such was the desire of Parliament, but he did not wish to name the fund to which it should be added. This was the state of the matter at the close of last session. He then proceeded to read and comment on the papers which had been brought down, showing that two months had elapsed from the time the money was sent to the time it was put to any use, and that then, instead of being devoted, as Parliament intended, to the immediate relief of the sufferers, was devoted to the building of piers and to the purchase of boats and fishing tackle for the fishermen. It appeared that, though the money was spent under the supervision of representatives of those relief committees, yet it was devoted to the purposes above named at the suggestion of the Colonial Secretary, who seemed determined not to acknowledge that there were people in Ireland absolutely starving. On the 13th of April the Governor General sent a message expressing the approval of the Government of the distribution which had been made of the Canadian grant. It appeared by the message that a copy of the minute of Council on which it was based was sent with it. That minute was not with these papers, and yet it was, of all others the document upon which the conduct of the Government should be approved or condemned. The House and country had not been treated fairly in this matter. He (Mr. Anglin) had moved early in the session for papers relating to the distribution of his money, and as there was a delay in bringing them down he had inquired several times when they might be expected. He was put off from time to time, and at last hints were given of confidential despatches, which could not be presented. He could not see what there could be of a confidential nature in the correspondence on such a subject as this. Even now that the papers had come down, there was nothing in the return except what had been laid before the House last year. He did not intend to make a motion on this subject but he desired to call attention to the fact that this money had been spent in a manner contrary to that intended by Parliament, and that it did not, as it should have been, go to the relief of those suffering from hunger and cold.

THE ATTENTION of owners of Farm Property and Residences is invited to the above Pyramid, showing the uniform and sure growth, during the last seventeen of its 27 years of existence, of a fire insurance company whose charter limits its business to their class of property—the Agricultural Insurance Company, of Watertown, N. Y. The figures represent the amount set apart at the dates given for the PROTECTION OF POLICY HOLDERS.

Twenty-seven years of patient toil has made this the strongest and largest Company doing an exclusive Dwelling business in the United States, if not in the world. It now issues 45,000 policies a year. No other like Company can show such growth and increase.

The history of this Company proves that a Farm business, well scattered, managed with prudence, can be done with a very small profit from each risk, and afford perfect security, which will grow stronger every year.

While nine tenths of the Mutual fire insurance companies, and many of the Stock companies, have failed on account of reckless or extravagant management, or doing too small a business, the OLD AGRICULTURAL, by economy, energy and prudence, has every year added a substantial amount to its Assets, for the indemnity of its patrons, and it now occupies a position in the confidence of the public second to no other Company.

From year to year it spreads the base of its Pyramid and gains strength.

EXTRACT FROM CHARTER.—Article 8. This Company is formed for the purpose of insuring Farmers' Dwellings, Private Residences, Barns and Outbuildings, with their contents, and other property not more hazardous, and is strictly confined to this class of property.

Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best known remedy for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis and Asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and speedily cures those, too often fatal, diseases, Diphtheria, Fever and Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm on Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Sir Theodor Pettigrew, M.P., formerly Lecturer at St. George's Hospital, London:—"I have no hesitation in stating that I have never met with any medicine so efficacious as an Anodyne and Sedative. I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa, and other diseases, and in perfectly satisfied with the results."

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he received a despatch, from Her Majesty's Consul at Manilla to the effect that cholera has been raging fearfully and that the only remedy of any service was Chlorodyne." See Lancet, 1st December 1865.

CAUTION. Beware of Piracy and Imitations. The public are further cautioned against forgery of government stamp having come to the knowledge of the Board of Inland Revenue.

CAUTION.—Vice Chancellor Sir Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collin Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE, that the story of the defendant, Freeman, was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See *
