FAR WESTERN LIFE.

A Vigilance Committee's Very Cautious Criminal All Suits at Law.

Three months ago, when 200 of the leading citizens of Gunnison City met in convention on a street corner, there were seven or eight Michigan men among the crowd. When Colonel Parker presented the following resolution it was a Michigan man who supported it:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to wait upon Calabash Sam, late of Deadwood, and inform him that after sun rise to-morrow morning this crowd will open fire on him with the intention of furnishing a corpse for our new graveyard.

The committee of five went out to find Samuel and deliver their message. He sat on his bench at the door of his shanty, a shot gun across his knees and a clay pipe in his mouth, and he preserved silence while the chairman of the committee read the resolution, then he said:

"That means me, does it?"

"She does."

"They don't like my way of carving and shooting, eh?"

"That's what they kick on."

"Well, I won't go. You haven't got men enough in the whole valley to drive Calabash Sam a rod! Return to the convention and report that I'm here for the season."

"I forgot to mensh'un," continued the chairman in a careless voice as he leaned on his gun. "I forgot to mensh'un that the convensh'un has adjourned. This committee thus finds itself in an embarrassing situashun, and it sees only one way out of it. Unless you'll agree to pick up and travel, this committee will feel called upon to—to—"

"To begin shooting, you mean?"

"Exactly, Samuel, exactly. You may have already observed that two of the committee have got the drop on you."

"I see."

"Corpses which are riddled with buck shot have a very unpleasant look," continued the chairman as he rested his chin on the muzzle of his gun.

"Yes, that's so."

"And it's kinder lonesome, this being the first plant in the new burying ground."

"Y-e-s, it may be."

"And so, take it all around, the committee kinder indulges in the hope that you'll see fit to carry your valuable society back to the Black Hills. You may have observed that three shot guns, each under full cock, are now looking straight at ye. We don't want to bluff, but it's getting nigh supper time."

"Well, after looking the whole matter over, I'm convinced that these diggings won't pan out low grade ore, and I guess I'll take a walk."

"Right off?"

"Yes."

"Right up this trail?"

"Yes."

"Very well. While the committee feels sorry to see you go, and wishes you all sorts of luck, it hasn't time to shake hands. Step off now, and for fear you ain't used to walking we'll keep these guns punted up the hill until you turn the half-mile bowlder. Tra-la-march!"—Detroit Free Press.

A Marvellous Feat.

The publication of the details of the battle at Spitzkop between the Boers and the English was one of the most marvellous feats of newspaper and telegraph enterprise ever known. The London Standard sent Mr. Cameron, the hardy, resolute, fearless African explorer, with the British advance, to report its operations. He accompanied it in its difficult march to the summit of the fatal height. When the Boers made that gallant charge in the face of the English bayonets, and poured over into the basin, Mr. Cameron was knocked down, run over, trampled upon, and captured. He showed his newspaper credentials and note-book, and, having established his professional identity, was requested to act as flag-of-truce bearer to enable the English to take care of their wounded. He reached the British camp that night and wrote his despatch of about 2,500 words. That despatch was put upon the army field wires and reached the coast. Hence it travelled up the east coast of Africa, over 3,000 miles, and tapped the East Indian wire in the Gulf of Aden; thence on the bottom of the Red Sea, another 2,000 or 3,000 miles, to the Mediterranean; thence on the bottom of the Mediterranean to Italy; thence through France and across the British channel to London. Not stopping there, it goes to Valentia, on the west coast of Ireland and speeds across the Atlantic to Newfoundland, thence to New York, and from New York across the continent to San Francisco, and on the following morning it is printed in every daily newspaper in the civilized world—a thousand of them on this continent.

THE ATTENTION of owners of Farm Property and Residences is invited to the above Pyramid, showing the uniform and sure growth, during the last seventeen of its 22 years of existence, of a fire insurance company whose charter limits its business to risks of property on the Agricultural Insurance Company, of Watertown, N. Y. The figures represent the amount set apart at the dates given for the PROTECTION OF POLICYHOLDERS.

Twenty-seven years of patient toil has made this the strongest and largest Company doing an exclusive Dwelling Business in the United States, if not in the world. It now issues 45,000 policies a year. No other like Company can show such growth and increase.

The history of this Company proves that a LARGE business, well scattered, managed with prudence, can be done with a very small profit from each risk, and afford perfect security, which will grow stronger every year.

While nine-tenths of the "Mutual" fire insurance companies, and many of the Stock companies, have failed on account of reckless or extravagant management, or doing too small a business, the OLD AGRICULTURAL, by economy, energy and prudence, has every year added a substantial amount to its Assets, for the indemnity of its patrons, and now occupies a position in the confidence of the public second to no other Company.

From year to year it spreads the base of its Pyramid and gains strength.

EXTRACT FROM CHARTER.—Article 8. This Company is formed for the purpose of insuring Farmers' Dwellings, Private Residences, Barns and Outbuildings, with their contents, and other property not more hazardous, and is strictly confined to this class of property.
