WASTE OF TIME.—Our municipal legislators are too much given to the discussion of trifles at the Council meetings. Last night an hour was spent in discussing a point of some importance of course, but not such as to merit the discussion which occurred upon it. The Mayor had to make numerous appeals for order.

ROSE, SHAMROCK and TRISTLE.—A society has been formed in Utica, N. Y., under the above name, with General James McQuill as President, for the appropriate observance of St. George's, St. Patrick's, and St. Andrew's days. This, in a foreign country, the three nationalities are able to combine in a noble way unheard of yet in Canada, the very hot bed of loyalty.

DROCK OF ONTARIO.—The discrepancy in the funds of the Diocese of Ontario, the Ottawa Free Press is informed, amounts to about $30,000, and an investigation is to be instituted at the next meeting to be held in Kingston shortly. Rev. Archbishop Lauder, who is Chairman of the Managing Committee, states that while he does not believe there is anything wrong so far as the Clerical Secretary is concerned, the condition of the books show very bad keeping.

A Warden Unseated. J. H. Knox, Warden of the county of Prince Edward, was to-day unseated by County Judge Jellet, on a quo warranto writ, in which N. Sprague, Reeve of Southampton, was the relator, on the ground that he had not obtained the votes of a majority of the County Council, he having received eight out of seventeen. The other nine being divided between three candidates, of whom Mr. Sprague was one. The judge concluded, strongly, the underhand system of electing a Warden by ballot and without any nomination being made. He held that a clear majority of votes is necessary to elect. The Council will be called together immediately to elect another Warden.

Death of Mr. John Ramage. The death has been announced, at Montreal, of Mr. John Ramage, formerly of Kingston, a son of Mr. Ramage, jeweller. The deceased left his home here for British Columbia in 1859, and returned to this part of Canada from the Pacific coast about ten years ago. He has since resided at Montreal. Of late he suffered greatly from cancer, and death, therefore, was almost a welcome visitor. The body will be brought to Kingston to-morrow, and the funeral will take place from the Masonic Hall, King Street, in the afternoon. The deceased was a Mason of the British Columbia lodge, and the city Masonic lodges have issued a call for all Kingston brethren to attend and pay their last respects with the rites of the Order.

Death in Camp. Mr. Bush, of Watertown, foreman on the K. & F. RR. extension, and Mr. Neilson of Almonte, an engineer, are both lying ill at Mosk's camp, near the Clyde River, suffering from pneumonia. For the former there is but slight hope of his recovery. Mr. Neilson makes quite low. A doctor was summoned to his bedside to-day.

Intelligence was received here this afternoon of the death of Mr. Bush, which occurred last evening. Mr. Bush is one, of peculiar address, and in the family wilderness, but among friends who tenderly watched over him. He had only been ill about ten days. It has three weeks since Mr. Bush arrived here and went out as one of the foremen on the road. He was formerly Property Superintendent on the R. W. & O. RR., was about 36 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child, living in Watertown. The body will be brought to the city this evening, and will be taken to Watertown.

Wining Favour. A vendor seems to be recognized at last as the champion long distance weather prognosticator in the United States. A great deal of ridicule, has been hurled at him, for occasional failures, but he has again in his own predictions for Sunday and Monday, carried off the honors and won over his critics.

The Pill Box. This smaller little receptacle often contains, under the guise of medicine, cheap mineral compounds the most dangerous. Before you take a remedy for cough, cold, or pain, or else, take inquiry regarding the virtues of Dr. HENRICK'S PAIN-EXPELLER.

Mr. Julliffe presided on Sunday night at a good congregation on "The comfortable rest of the older set." After briefly referring to the former sermon, when the subject was "The old and the young," he said in honor of his return, to the fact that there appears on the scene one who is not only out of sympathy but as mad as possible that there should be any fast and he not consulted about it. Not only did he fail to extend a welcome to his long-lost brother but he upbraided the father for his kindness to the younger son. The elder son expected that obedience on his part should have been recognized and rewarded, but when he found the home illuminated and every indication of a time of general joy, he was tempted to imagine that the father put a premium on a wandering aimless life. His nature was too selfish to understand how the love of the father led him to forgive the younger son when overwhelmed with joy because of his return. And he usually murmurs at those things we do not fully understand. Men are ready to charge the Almighty with an unfair distribution of worldly wealth when they see those of the little souls and doubtful character gathering in their golden gain, while many a good business man of unassailable reputation has a life long struggle to keep the sheriff away from the door. We must wait the unfolding of God's plans and purposes. And it was to explain the difficulty and to assure the faith of the eldest son, that the father came out and entreated him to go in, but he said "I won't." He pleaded his own righteous life, but in an unguarded moment dropped the mask, and revealed his true character. He had as strong a desire for indulgence and revelry as the younger son, but he had more policy. His friends were unfit company for the father and that looks suspicious. He was a sneak, having a great horror of sin in other people. What wretched taste what terrible cruelty to bring up the past life of the younger son when all had been confessed and forgiven. The elder son excluded himself from the joy and gladness of home, and when the father tried to show him that he would be the greatest sufferer he left him and went into those who did appreciate the kindness of his heart. The teaching of the entire parable was then reviewed, the love and mercy of God dwelt upon, and the sermon closed with an earnest appeal to come home to light and life and God.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY. A dinner in which the National Festival was kept at Brockville.

Father Murray, of Cornwall, visited by Father MacCarthy and the Rev. E. Ward Murray, of Cobourg, as Deacon and sub-Deacon, celebrated the Grand Mass on St. Patrick's Day in Brockville. Father Casey, of Campbellford, preached a brilliant sermon, replete with noble sentiments, creditable to his head and heart and every way worthy of the occasion. In the evening the Rev. Father Graham, P.P. of Lachlan, lectured before one of the largest and most respectable audiences that ever assembled for a like purpose in Brockville. His subject was properly selected: "Ireland as a Civilization." It is needless to say it was handled in his usual able style. The reverend gentleman spoke for two hours without notes, with a fluency of language, beauty of description and originality seldom equalled in Canada, leaving on those present the impression of an intelligence, erudition and depth of thought rarely met with. The lecture was for the benefit of the Bishop O'Brien Memorial Window Fund and realized $122.50. From 6 a.m. masses were celebrated, and hundreds received the Holy Communion; this the Irish national festival was kept at St. Francis Xavier's in a way that could give no umbrage to earth but which no doubt, must have given joy to the angels of God in Heaven.—Com.

Loughboro Election. Yesterday the nomination for the Receptory, vacated by the death of Mr. R. McConnell, took place at Spylsham. The following were proposed for the position: Messrs. James Wood, C. Rutan, R. Joyner, W. Rutan, John Walstead, P.W. Freeman and John Rutledge. The latter demanded a poll. The various nominees discussed township affairs at length. Nearly all were unanimous in desiring a Reeve to be elected by acclamation, thus saving the township a goodly sum, but the question was, "Who shall be the man?" Mr. Rutledge was prepared to contest the field. Finally the seven men entered a room and discussed the situation. Each in turn withdrew his name until finally Mr. Jno. Rutledge was selected and declared to have been returned to the office by acclamation. The ratepayers are well pleased with the choice. Mr. Rutledge is an old resident of Loughboro and has heretofore occupied a position in the Township Council.

Late Elections. Conservatives have nothing to crow over in the result of the Charlevoix and Belchamse elections. At the last election, in Belchamse, Mr. Larus was elected over Mr. Amyot by a majority of six. Being unseated and disqualified by the Supreme Court Mr. Larus could not again enter the lists with his former nearly successful opponent. A new man was nominated and Mr. Amyot has squeezed in by a narrow majority. Had Mr. Larus been in a position to fight the battle over again there would have been very little doubt of his election. In Charlevoix the contest was between the unseated Tory member, Mr. Perrault, and an Independent Conservative, Mr. Cimou, who was instrumental in unseating him. The late member, has been defeated by a good majority. Thus in the two elections the Tories lost as much as they gained, and the most they can claim is a drawn battle.
