CITY AND VICINITY.

PROBS.—Brisk to high northwesterly to northerly winds, cloudy to fair colder weather with snow flurries.

STEAMER ARRIVED.—It is announced by telegraph that the steamer "City of Chester," of which the Bishop of Kingston was a passenger, has arrived in New York. The intelligence will be gladly received by many in this city.

ARCH'S ERECTION.—The arch, in front of St. Mary's Cathedral, for the bishop's reception, rises apace, the frame work being nearly completed. The work of decoration will be commenced and carried to completion. Some things will not be placed in position until the last moment.

PROSECUTION THREATENED.—The members of the Sailors' Union have decided to prosecute a late officer for retaining possession of funds belonging to the Union. The books and bonds of the officer are now in the hands of a lawyer, who will proceed with the suit. Developments are awaited.

SEAMEN'S WAGES.—At a meeting of the Seamen's Union here last evening the question of wages was discussed, but no definite agreement was arrived at. The rates asked will likely be satisfactory to the vessel owners. The seamen do not desire to make any unreasonable demands.

PRIZE BOOKS.—Messrs. Smith & Patterson, book binders, to-day invited our inspection of fifty prize books for Queen's College. They are finely bound in full calf, and handsomely gilt. The college seal is neatly impressed in gold on the cover. The workmanship is highly creditable to Kingston and the prizes will do honor to old Queen's.

DEMAND FOR SERVANTS.—There have been an unusual number of answers this spring to advertisments for domestic servants. Girls are plenty enough, but they all appear to want work in the city. When they learn that the applicant lives over at the Military College or on Union or King streets out of town they bounce out with a disappointed air.

ALL FOOLS' DAY.—Such was to-day, a fact that was doubtless impressed upon the minds of many by reason of the tricks played upon them under extenuating circumstances. The customs of the day date back to a very early period, but, unlike some things, they do not improve with age; rather they become less popular. All Fools' Day is now simply a children's playful anniversary.

COST OF MEAT.—At a meeting of the butchers, held yesterday, it was decided to advance the price of roasts and steak to 12½c per pound, the new rate to take effect on Saturday. In Toronto the butchers have had to run up the price for the same meat to 15c, owing to the high price paid by them for cattle. The butchers here are more moderate, although beef originally is as dear here as in the west.

BODY FOUND.—After much search the body of the late Dr. Mostyn (drowned on Monday) was found and conveyed to his late residence in Almonte. It will will be interred in Kingston, leaving Almonte this evening, and reaching here to-morrow afternoon, in charge of Mr. M. Flanagan and Dr. Sullivan, the latter of whom left for the East this afternoon. The remains of young Manning had not been recovered at last accounts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The members of the Committee on Fire, Water and Gas, have taken up the various matters referred to them. They will recommend that the governor, now in the city buildings, for the regulation of the gas supply, be experimented with for six months, and, if profitable, then to be purchased. They recommend an advance of $200 to the appropriations of the fire brigade, but they cannot see their way clear to idemnify the firemen for lost clothing, or the exemption from taxation asked for. They will recommend that Mr. M. McGill be paid $50 per year for service at the Fire station.

Laid at Cataraqui.

Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Miss Elizabeth Robertson were received at the Grand Trunk Depot by a large number of her former Kingston friends and carried to Cataraqui Cemetery, where they were laid beside those of her lamented mother, who preceded her in death but three years. An impressive service was held at the grave by the Revs. Messrs. Stewart, of St. Catharines, and C. A. Cook, of Kingston. The deceased was carried off suddenly. On the day of her death a letter, written in good spirits, was received here from her. It was read almost simultaneously with the telegram announcing her death. Mr. Robertson, her brother, is now the sole survivor of the family, though he is not the only mourner, since the sad event has awakened a deep feeling of sorrow and sympathy among a large circle of former acquaintances in Kingston, who respected Miss Robertson for her kindly christian virtues.

WIND WAFTS.

From Various Sources and on a Variety of Minor Themes.

—The winter hangs on like a church debt.

—Last night's lecture pleased everybody.

—Several farmers are planting sugar cane.

—Lenten services in St. Paul's Church this evening.

—Mill Point was to-day changed in name to Desoronto.

—Every Wednesday is to be a free market day in Picton.

—Business at the police court this morning was light.

—Mr. John Carson has purchased in Trenton a well matched team.

—The religious discussion is widening and becoming more readable every day.

—Many young cattle are dying at Ogdensburg of the disease known as black foot.

—A number of interesting cases are set down for the Assizes which open on Monday next.

—For substantial solid literature commend us to The Bystander. The April number is out.

—To-day Policeman James Nesbitt recovered from a lad a dog stolen from Col. Hewitt two months ago.

—The apparatus for the office of the gas inspector, Mr. W. Burrows, will arrive in a few days.

—Read Rev. Mr. Lancelley's description of the swell on the first page. It is good and original.

—The Almonte Gazette says the death of Dr. Mostyn, under the circumstances, is a great calamity. The paper appears in mourning.

—The death is announced of Major Robert Chambers, of East Oxford, a noted Presbyterian. His wife died in Kingston in 1877.

—Moses Oates says this will be a fine spring month, favourable for farming and gardening. Moses has not been a success as a weather prophet.

—The river is open from the foot of Wolfe Island to 70 miles below Ogdensburg. The ice has not moved between the foot of the Island and Kingston.

—Philadelphia has a bitter gas war on hand. If it had to pay $4 for Kingston gas per thousand it might have something still better to fight about.

—There was an important cocking main, for $100 a side, Quebec v. Ontario, in Carleton county on Wednesday. Kingston sports had a hand in it.

—Goldwin Smith says "everything portends that Mr. Blake will soon be tried not only as the leader of a party but as the head of a Government." Hear, hear.

—The result of the Belleville gaol investigation is that Mr. Meyers, gaoler, and Mr. Gilbert, turnkey, have been dismissed. Mr. L. A. Appleby has been appointed gaoler.

—The best April joke was that played on a citizen who received a number of legal papers in a breach of promise case. Had the perpetrators been known there would have been more than a breach of promise.

MARINE NOTES.

The "Baltic" and "Jane McLeod" are chartered at Oswego for Toronto.

W. D. Wilson, of Watertown, is repairing several steam yachts at Fisher's Landing.

The vessels at Windsor are fitting out and making the usual spring repairs. The freight prospects there are good. Lake St. Clair is not yet open.

The Westminster Park Association has purchased the steamer "Lawrence Gaigé" and will rebuild her for the ferry between the Park and the Bay.

Crews are arriving at Amherstburg, and getting ready to engage on vessels. They talk about sailing within a week but they do not say where they will sail to.

A big sail vessel is being built for Messrs. Carrington & Casey, Toledo. Her length 265 feet, beam 38 feet, hold 18 feet. She will have five masts. It is calculated that she will be able to carry 140,000 bushels of grain, or about 1,600 tons. She will cost about $90,000. She will be ready to sail this season.

The ice in the lake, off Buffalo, which moved out a considerable distance yesterday, on account of the northeast wind, has returned. There is clear water between the new breakwater and the beach, but over towards the south shore there is little to be seen. It is estimated there are about 60,000 tons of coal held in vessels between Buffalo and Chicago, the result of the sudden closing of navigation last fall.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Col. Straubenzie left for Montreal to-day. He will return to Kingston and spend Easter with his friends.

Thad. W. H. Leavitt has retired from the editorial chair of the Brockville Recorder, and Mr. D. Wylie takes it.

Rev. T. W. Jeffrey, now of Belleville, formerly of Kingston, has been invited to replace Dr. Harper, in Peterboro.

Rev. J. E. Lanceley left for the west on the morning express. He lectures on "One Another" in Cobourg this evening.

A Sarnia despatch says the river there is clear, but a very heavy ice bridge is formed at the mouth, which shows signs of a very late opening of navigation.

Mr. D. Mansell, of Farmersville, has been elected Treasurer of the county of Leeds. His salary is $800. His predecessor got $1,200.

In consequence of the continued severity of the weater Mr. Ellis, Superintendent of the Welland Canal, has given notice that the water will not be drawn off the canal till the ninth of April.

Mr. W. J. Gerald, Collector of Inland Revenue at Brantford, at Brantford, has been appointed Collector of the Inland Revenue at London. Mr. Thomas Alexander, of London, has been appointed Collector for Brantford, and arrived there last evening to take charge.

"MILITARY REVIEW."—The April number of the Military Review will be published to-morrow, and can be procured at any of the book stores at the nominal price of 10c.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Concluding Examination at the Christian Brothers' Hall.

Yesterday afternoon the higher classes of the senior class of the Christian Brothers' School was examined, the examination, which was interrupted at Christmas and resumed on Wednesday. There was again a good attendance of parents and friends of the pupils. Father Twohey, Chairman of the Separate School Board, again presided and cross examined the boys with a proficiency that few chairmen are able to command, since the choice is scarcely ever a 'professional one. The other examiners were Principal Halward and Bros. Patrick and Jerome. The senior form pursues studies similar to those of the sixth form of the public schools, and was, therefore, heard in reading, spelling, derivation, analysis and parsing; English literature chiefly on the poets and their works; history, in the middle ages; geography, of Europe; chiefly; book keeping, arithmetic and algebra, geometry and mensuration. In the four last named branches, of especial hardship generally to young boys, they were thoroughly efficient, working fractions, equations, propositions of euclid and problems of mensuration with celerity. They were able to intelligently explain their work, showing that their education on these points was well grounded. The general English branches preceding these were most creditable, too, in comparison. The book keeping examination was most satisfactory, both orally and by display of work. The writing of the boys is uncommonly good, that of Master Brennan aged 14, being quite remarkable, while several other boys press him closely for the honors of the class in this respect. The commercial hand taught was highly approved.

During the exercises original compositions of merit were read by the following:

J. McCarthy, "Trip from New York to San Francisco," via Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago and across the Rocky Mountains. The lad's power of description was exceedingly good for one so young and comparatively inexperienced in travel.

F. J. Crimmans, "Life of a Sailor," detailing his dangers, his bravery, the lights and shades of his life.

M. F. Fallen, "The Irish Agitation," giving an intelligent sketch of its cause, and the object and aim of the Land League. The youth is evidently personally conversant with coming events.

J. McGinnis, "Farmer," which was remarkable for its plainness of speech, and the humor with which the characteristics of the rurahst were hit off.

M. E. Brennan wrote "On Cruelty," referring particularly to what are known as the ten persecutions of the church. "Even in this enlightened age," wrote he, "there is more or less cruelty employed. For instance in Ireland, where landlords are turning poor families out of their homes into the cold, caring little whether they freeze, or starve, or die. Who can witness such a thing that such landlords are very cruel men."

D. C. Macarow wrote on "Commerce." The thoughts were very practical and to the point.

The examination was concluded about six o'clock, and Father Twohey addressed the class and the spectators, highly commending the work shown as well as the interest displayed by the parents and friends; also impressing upon the boys the benefits of their present advantages of education, so that they might be less eager to break away from their studies to become young men of business, or perhaps of elegant leisure upon street corners. He pointed out, as an evidence of fraternal feeling in the educational circles of Kingston, that the Chairman of the P. S. Board and two of his predecessors, Messrs. Pense and Wilson, were present, taking deep interest in the separate schools.

The Mayor, from a knowledge of the classes since Brother Arnold's time, was glad to bear witness that under Brother Halward's able direction and kindly rule they were maintaining their very excellent efficiency. It had been the custom for boys to pass from this class directly into commercial life and mechanical pursuits, and, therefore, the proficiency shown that day in the commercial branches was a guarantee that the credit won in the past by the school through its graduates in business circles would still be reflected upon it in the future. He hoped that, under the presidency of a highly learned bishop, Regiopolis College would again be opened, and become not only a means of educational advancement to these pupils but an honor to Kingston, already distinguished for its colleges.

Messrs. Horsey and Wilson highly commended the work of the school and the eager interest of the scholars. They urged them to give their fullest attention to study as long as they could. The educational paths of life were by no means as crowded as they looked; there was always room at the top.

The examination took place in the room which was supplied with the most approved and serviceable furniture about a year ago, the desks being similar to those recently put into the Model School. The room has also been repainted and made cheerful and cosy. A noticeable article is the desk which was presented to the Principal by the ex-pupils of the school, made to order, of oak, at London, Out.

Monthly Statistics.

Eighty-six persons were registered at the police station during March. Thirty-eight were in for protection, the balance for various offences. Fines to the amount of $25 were inflicted by the Police Magistrate, costs extra.

Interest at the rate of four per cent. will now be collected upon back taxes. There are about $2,000 outstanding. Mr. Gordon has collected $42,000, and Mr. Middleton $38,600 so far.

The following vital statistics were registered with the City Clerk during the past month: Births, 80; marriages, 18; and deaths 10.

Statement shewing value of imports and exports, with receipts, during the month of March, 1881, at the Kingston Custom House: Imports, $66,827; exports, $20,451; receipts, $15,052.25. Receipts for March, 1880, $18,081.12.

KINGSTON BAR.

Election of Benchers Debated. Reduction of Tax Proposed.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the members of the Kingston Bar was held in the City Council Chamber. There were present: Messrs. A. Kirkpatrick, J. McIntyre, G. M. Macdonnell, E. W. Shannon, R. V. Rogers, T. H. McGuire, E. H. Smythe, J. Madie, B. M. Britton, J. M. Machar, R. T. Walkem and J. Agnew.

Mr. James Agnew occupied the chair and stated the object of the meeting—to consider the question of the election of benchers. Some discussion arose as to a letter which stated that Messrs. Britton and Rogers were the nominees of the Kingston Bar. In a printed ticket, which had been received from Toronto, submitted, the names of Dr. Henderson and B. M. Britton were removed, and those of Messrs. Macdonnell and Rogers substituted. It was stated that the Kingston Bar had made no nominations, but that certain persons, said to be members of a majority, had sent the names of Messrs. Britton and Rogers to Toronto, the former appearing to be dropped by the Toronto people. It was finally concluded that it was too late to take any united action as to the election of benchers.

It was moved by Mr J. Madie, seconded by Mr. T. H. McGuire, "that we are of opinion that the annual tax on practitioners should be still further reduced, and the funds of the society not drawn upon for prizes or scholarships, the society confining itself to the administration in this way of such bequests as may be left it for the purpose, and that greater assistance should be given county libraries."

It was pretty evident that this resolution would carry, but a point of order was raised and it was ruled out of order, by the chair as beyond the scope of the meeting.

A Great Paper.

On Saturday last the Chicago Inter-Ocean celebrated its tenth anniversary by publishing a paper of thirty two pages, equivalent in size to 200,000 copies of the ordinary issue. There were 400,000 single sheets of four pages each, 1,600,000 pages in the entire edition, and 11,200,000 columns of reading matter and advertising. Each single sheet of four pages was three feet and four inches long, and if the entire number published were pasted together the strip would be 1,500,000 feet long, or 284 miles, as far as from Chicago to Cincinnati. The Inter-Ocean is one of the raciest and brightest papers in the United States. It moulds public opinion in the west as the New York Herald moulds it in the east. For journalistic enterprize it cannot be excelled. A short time ago a special wire between Washington and Chicago was secured, the office has its own operators and its own channels of news. The marine columns of this paper are carefully edited. The same, however, may be said of the paper generally. We wish our contemporary continued success. The BRITISH WHIG, the oldest daily in Canada, greets the Chicago Inter-Ocean. As its age increases so may its usefulness.

Summer Stations.

The Home Mission Committee have appointed the divinity students of Queen's College to various Presbyteries as follows:

The Secret of Happiness.

How often have we longed for perfect enjoyment and how seldom found it. Misfortune has come, or ill health overtakes us. Perhaps a cough has come upon us which threatens that dreaded of all diseases, consumption, and we feel that death is near. With what joy should we be filled then, when such a remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is placed within our reach. It has cured thousands who were nearer the grave than ourselves and made their lives peaceful and happy. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, loss of voice, difficulty of breathing, or any affection of the throat and lungs are positively cured by this wonderful discovery. Now to give you satisfactory proof that Dr. King's New Discovery will cure if you call at your Drug Store you can get a trial bottle for ten cents, or a regular size for $1.00. Sold by all druggists.

Corns! Corns!

Tender corns, painful corns, soft corns, bleeding corns, hard corns, corns of all kinds and of all sizes, are alike removed in a few days by the use of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Never fails to cure, never causes pain, never leaves deep spots that are more annoying than the original discomfort. Give Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor a trial. Beware of substitutes. Sold by all druggists everywhere. And by J. Geo. King, Heath & Gunn, and by N. C. Polson & Co. agents for Ontario.

A GIGANTIC SCHEME.

A Company Organized to Drain the Richest Land in the World.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Now that the Philadelphia capitalists who were about to reclaim the immense tracts of lands in the state of Florida, known as the Everglades, have completed their contract with that state, it is no longer a secret that one of the main features of the gigantic scheme is the building of a ship canal across the state of Florida. Their project almost equals in importance that of reclaiming 12,000,000 acres of the richest land in the world south of the frost belt. A ship canal across the state of Florida has been the dream of engineers for many years. It would not only shorten the distance between the American ports on the Atlantic coast and all European ports to New Orleans, Mobile and all shipping points on the Gulf of Mexico, but it would avoid the dangers to navigation which are experienced on the countless keys and coral reefs off the southern and southwestern coast of Florida. All ship captains know of this danger, which is often aggravated by hurricanes which are common to the southward of Florida, but which are comparatively unknown on the west coast in the region of Tampa Bay. It is well known that a number of New York capitalists have been endeavoring for some years to get a charter from the state of Florida to build a ship canal, but the Philadelphia company, with a great deal of shrewdness, have got ahead of them. It is believed that in connection with the Isthmus Canal, now in course of construction under M. Ferdinand de Lesseps, the Florida Canal must at once attract the attention of the capitalists not only of America, but Europe. As to the feasibility, not of building a ship canal, but of draining the "Everglades," the opinion of eminent engineer and army officers of the last generation are quoted by those who have this work in charge.
