THE MARRIAGE OF MRS. MURPHY.—Yesterday morning an old trapper named Schumpehorn, from near Madoc, was found dead in his bed. PARK CLOSURE.—The park committee have closed the park until the grounds become dry and the paths are put in order. A new fence is badly needed on West street. We would advise a neat wire fence, similar to that around Queen's University property. It would set the place off well. The college grounds promise to look exceedingly handsome this year.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.—The Winnipeg Times reports the arrival of Dr. Huntington, a graduate of Queen's University and Royal College. He accompanied an emigration party to Emerson, and treated a number of cases which required medical assistance. The doctor was very kind to the passengers, and commanded the respect of the whole party. He intends to locate in Carman city, Manitoba.

REPORT OF SURVIVORS.—The directors of the Kingston cotton mill have called another public meeting, to take place in the Council Chamber to-morrow evening. A crisis has occurred in connection with that scheme. A large amount of money has been subscribed, but considerably more is wanted, and unless it is quickly raised, the project must be surely but regretfully abandoned. Such a circumstance would be calamitous. Let the meeting to-morrow evening be such a rally and productive of such results as will tend to give the enterprise a definite and successful issue. All who can make an investment in stock should do so.

The Mayor asked the cotton mill representatives if they had any proposition to offer.

Mr. Minnes—We came expecting your proposition.

The Mayor—Are you favorable to the scheme suggested by Mr. Arnes, a bonus of $15,000 and the half exemption of the tax on the mill?

Mr. Minnes—I think the directors are a body of men who are in a position to pass the citizens.

Mr. Minnes—With the assistance of the Aldermen I think there is a prospect of it passing.

The Mayor—Do you think that the Aldermen generally will go to the polls and work for the by-law? Don't you think it would be an unpopular thing for them to do?

Mr. Minnes did not think the advantage of the bonus by law would be so popular as the Aldermen.

Mr. J. Richardson—All I have spoken to are favorable to it, except a couple of Aldermen, Mr. Irving for one.

REASON FOR THE BONUS. Mr. J. Richardson said the original intention was not to ask the city for anything, but it was a necessity because the subscriptions had lagged and the petition seemed to be reasonable enough.
