Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long continued use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, (often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus beauty, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilized; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, keeps all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness it imparts.

IN CHANCERY,

In the matter of the Estate of DENNIS SULLIVAN, late of the Village of Gananoque, in the County of Leeds, deceased.

JANE SULLIVAN AGAINST PATRICK HARTY.

MRS SULLIVAN, mother of the late Dennis Sullivan, Dry Goods Merchant, wishes it to be understood that Mr. Patrick Harty, now of Ottawa, Lighthouse Inspector, had no claims on her son's estate, only that he was appointed Executor. The value of the estate was doubtless much as the liabilities were, so that the creditors of the late Dennis Sullivan shall be paid, as his mother has taken the matter in hands. The following is a copy of the disposing clauses of the will: "I desire my executor, hereinafter named, to pay all my just debts. All my estate of every kind, nature, and description, both real and personal, and wheresoever situated, I give, devise, and bequeath to my mother, Jane Sullivan, for her own use and benefit forever; and I nominate and appoint my friend, Patrick Harty, of the City of Kingston, in the County of Frontenac, Dry Goods Merchant, Executor of this my will."

SUNG TO A FRIEND.

The tide is rising, rising
Out of the infinite sea
From ripple, to ward, to billow
Fast bears and gold and crimson
A million of perfect splendor
What shall the wife say?

The sacred tide is rising
Rising for you and me
Bursting across the breakers
We're on to wave upon wave
The sea to the shore will follow
When shall the great flood be?

The tide must turn falling, falling
Back to the awful sea
Thus far thou shalt go, no farther,
The color sinks to the shadow
The pawn sobs into silence
Where shall the echo be?

By the weakness blazing, beating
Like heart throbs of the sea
By the law of the land and the ocean
By the Hand that holdeth the torrent
I summon the tide eternal
To flow, for you and me

ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

PROGRESS MADE YESTERDAY IN THE EXAMINATIONS.

Award of Prizes—Decorations in Some Schools—A Summary of the Day's Interesting Proceedings.

Yesterday was a busy day among the schools, public examinations having been conducted with remarkable success in four of them, the exercises being carried on simultaneously. There can be no question that if a day had been given to each school, as formerly, the attendance would have been larger in each particular case; but still there was considerable interest manifested in the programme, and in several instances the pupils were catechised by the visitors and made an exhibit alike creditable to themselves and to their respective teachers. These occurrences are not, it is scarcely necessary to explain, the occasion upon which the pupils give proof of their fitness for promotion—the Inspector has in advance made his awards in that respect—but, while affording entertainment to their friends, the young people have an opportunity of furnishing direct evidence of the excellence of the training to be received in our common schools. The Inspector being occupied in conducting the Intermediate examination the direction of the minor events devolves upon the trustees, with Chairman Horsey as supervisor of all, and his activity and vigour were fully tested in his efforts to give to each school the benefit of his presence and counsel.

GORDON STREET SCHOOL.

Mr. R. V. Rogers, Chairman of the School, presided ably, and took a prominent part in the examination of the classes. The teachers and pupils made special preparations for the occasion and had the rooms decorated in an attractive way. Flowers, flags and evergreens lent a charming effect.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT.

Miss Cunningham is the teacher of the junior department, and the result was quite gratifying to all concerned. The Chairman's memorandum is brief but significant—Very good work has been done here. There was only one prize presented:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—John Davis.

Promotion cards were presented by the Chairman of the school.

SENIOR DEPARTMENT.

There there are three grades, third class, junior and senior; fourth class, senior. There was an attendance of 66, and the visitors included, besides Messrs. Horsey and Rogers, a number of ladies. The examination comprised Arithmetic, English History, Canadian History and Analysis, in all of which the pupils acquitted themselves well. The boys were bright, and, as a visitor remarked, "eager for the holidays to commence." The prize list was as follows for Proficiency and Good Conduct:

Fourth Class—Harry Mills.

Third Class, senior—Minnie Purvis, Herbert Vandewater.

Third Class, junior—Henry Cunningham.

Last Christmas prizes were merited by the following but not awarded until the present:

Fourth Class—Norman Howie.

Third Class, senior—John Atkinson.

Punctuality and Good Attendance—Robert Derry, a member of the senior Third Class.

About 20 promotion cards were distributed. In all three classes 44 were examined for promotion, and 27 succeeded in passing. Mr. McGuirl makes an attentive and industrious Principal.

ORPHANS' HOME SCHOOL.

At the time the teachers were last reappointed Miss Gill was removed to this place and entered upon her duties with a desire to discharge them faithfully and efficiently. Her service has been productive of the best results. The room was cheerful in appearance and the children neatly attired and thoroughly appreciative of the importance of the occasion. There numbered about 50. Ald. Irving, the Chairman of the school, was unfortunately absent, and for him Chairman Horsey made an acceptable apology. The exhibit was an excellent one, winning the praise of the visitors. Prizes were presented for general proficiency and good conduct:

Third Class—John Graham, also promoted to the fourth class.

Second Class, Senior—William Hamilton, also promoted to the third.

Domestic Economy—Hester Clixby.

There were exercises for the small children in Parts I. and II., the examination of whom was pronounced really excellent.

CATARAQUI SCHOOL.

Considerable interest centred in the examination at this school, and very properly so, since it is one of the best managed and most commodious institutions under the control and jurisdiction of the Public School Board. We speak advisedly, and with a conscious ness that we are not influenced by the fact that the attendance was very good, and the attention of the visitors was not allowed to flag for a moment. The appearance of the school was complimentary to those connected with it, flowers, flags and ornaments being very conspicuous. We like to see this evidence of a liking for the æsthetic. Prominent among those present were Rev. J. Young, Lieut. Donaldson, and Rev. Mr. Carey. There were also several ladies.

MISS RYSSOR'S ROOM.

Here were located the Junior and Senior Third classes, the great progress of which was quite apparent. There were about 80 pupils present. The labour of the teacher was demonstrated by the fact that out of 21 in the first named class who were examined for promotion 19 passed, and 18 out of 19 of those belonging to the Senior division. Prizes were presented for general proficiency and good conduct.

Senior Third—(1) Maggie Shiels; (2) Mary Rumbill.

Junior Third—(1) Fred. Hagar; (2) Mary Clark.

Domestic Economy—Maggie Shiels, the winner also of a prize which was merited at Christmas, but not awarded until now.

Punctuality and Good Attendance—R. Donaldson.

The programme was varied by singing, recitations, etc., concluding with complimentary remarks by Rev. Mr. Young.

MR. ISAAC WOOD'S ROOM.

Mr. Wood stands high in the estimation of the Board, and he is certainly deserving the good opinion entertained of him. He is enthusiastic in his work and he has method as well as willingness. The examination of his pupils in Mental Arithmetic was very fair indeed, but they shone especially in History. Mr. S. Anglin, Chairman of the School, presided and distributed the prizes to the winners thereof, thus:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—(1) A. Shaw; (2) R. W. Horsey.

Map Drawing—(The gift of Chairman Anglin)—(1) Samuel Conley; (2) W. Carroll.

Special Prizes (merited last December when the pupils were in Miss Livingston's class, Model School)—(1) Sam. Chown; (2) George Elliott.

There were 21 promotions.

MISS TANDY'S ROOM.

The visitors were quite numerous and the examination of the Junior Fourth Class was a pleasure to contemplate. There was system throughout, the following programme being successfully carried out:

Chorus—"Three Bells"
Geography
Reading—Miss Millie Anderson
Exercises by Class.
Chorus—"Bugle Horn"
Grammar
Dialogue.
Arithmetic
Reading—"The last Hymn," Miss Amy Miller.
History.
God Save the Queen

The School Board officials speak well of the rapid advancement of the pupils under Miss Tandy's tuition. She is experienced and painstaking, and knows about results that are most desirable. Her prize list included:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—(1) Georgie Lovick; (2) Nettie Anglin; (3) Lizzie A. Pratt.

Map Drawing, (Mr. Anglin's gift)—(1) Maggie Marshall; (2) Lizzie A. Pratt.

Christmas prizes, (won at Louise School, and now awarded)—(1) Nettie Anglin; (2) F. Babcock.

There were 28 promotions. The congratulatory observations of the Rev. Mr. Carey and others were well received.

MISS SWAN'S ROOM.

The success of Miss Swan is exemplified by the fact that twice already this year she has presented pupils for promotion, and that in each occasion she has raised a large number to higher grades. She is an excellent teacher of the primary classes. The winners of prizes in her room were:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—(1) Thomas McLoughlin; (2) Mattie Glasgow.

Examined 21 and promoted 21.

MISS SHIELS' CLASS.

That the teacher has done remarkably well will be quite patent to all when we state that all those trained and examined for promotion passed and will be sent to a higher grade. This, too, is the second promotion for the year so far. Prizes were distributed to the subjoined:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—(1) Irwin Carr; (2) Alfred Maxam.

MISS ENGLISH'S ROOM.

All the circumstances in conjunction with the examination were very agreeable. Out of twenty examined for promotion some fourteen passed, and after the holidays will step up higher. The grading system is now better understood, and its benefits have been fully realized. Her prize list embraced the following:

General Proficiency and Good Conduct—(1) Stanley Rees; (2) Robert Sloan. Of fourteen examined eleven passed for promotion.

MISS YOUNG'S CLASS.

The pupils being in the second book were able to contribute not a little to the general effects. Some of them were unusually bright and gave promise of a
