A Farmer Suspected of Mixing Soda and Tartaric-acid and Causing the Death of His Neighbors Cattle.

The latest pieces of devolry reported from the rook of this country, is the poisoning by one man of another cattle.

The circumstances, so far, as we can glean them from the County Attorney, who had an interview yesterday with Armstrong, who lost the animals, are as follows: In consequence of the intense heat the water in the pastures of one has become very scarce, and cattle have been in great distress for the want of it. There was a stream in the township called by some Rapid Creek. To this the farmers allowed their cattle to go for drink. Armstrong's cows drank from it. Across it is a Saturday they waded, however, and got into a neighbor's property. On Sunday Armstrong said his son went in search of them and in his neighbor's woods was astonished to find one of the animals dead. On further examination it was found that five of his cattle were either dead or dying. Armstrong sought out the cause of the fatality and came across two buckets, which had been used during the maple sugar season, but now containing salt and Paris green. The farmer suspected of putting out the poison was visited and accused of poisoning the cattle. His reply was: "Wouldn't I be a fool to let on that I did it?" He then told Armstrong where he would and three more sap buckets filled with the same compound, and they were indeed picked up in the places designated on the farm. The owner of the land further stated "that if Armstrong's cattle had not come on his premises they would not have been poisoned."

The case was clear according to Armstrong's statement, that the County Attorney referred him to a magistrate in Oso and ordered a warrant to be issued for the arrest of the offender. The felony, if proven, is punishable by imprisonment for from two to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

REGARDS TO MR. RIGNEY.
The Mayor then referred to the object of the gathering, to take a formal and friendly farewell of Mr. T. Rigney, who had been a citizen of Kingston for many years. They were extremely sorry to lose him, as the spirit of the community manifested. They especially regretted to lose him from the sporting circles in which he had been a central figure. It was desired that this fact should be especially marked, and this was done, when he leaned forward and pinned upon the lapel of Mr. Rigney's coat a diamond horse shoe made of gold set with diamonds, representing the nail thereof. The precious stone glittered and shone brilliantly in the light. The souvenir is handsome and costly, the importation of Mr. Geo. Spangler.

The Mayor said he was proud of being made the medium of conveying to Mr. Rigney an expression of the regard and affection in which he was held by so many in this city.

The company cheered the remarks of the Mayor, and after drinking Mr. Rigney's health sang: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

A DEARLY AFFECTED SPEAKER.

Mr. T. Rigney was apparently prepared for the parting speech, but the presentation was unexpected and made the speaker somewhat unprepared, but he could not think the company in a way which indicated his great sincerity.

Mr. Rigney could offer no explanation. The account signed by the Chairman of the Committee (Fire, Water and Gas), and he assumed that this would not have been done unless it was right.

Mr. Robinson was surprised that Ald. Irving would recommend the payment of any account of which he knew nothing.

Mr. Gaskin was surprised at Ald. Irving, too. The account he ought to know, should not be allowed to pass unless it was first submitted to the appropriate committee.

If the Fire, Water and Gas Committee did not succeed them, Ald. Irving could excuse Ald. Robinson, especially as the latter of the Finance Committee had signed the report recommending the payment of the account.

Ald. Irving did not want to appear factious, but Ald. Irving was also objecting to some masters, more particularly a few men, who were doing the city's business having their dinner paid by the citizens. The Finance Committee should not have passed the account without knowing all about it.

AUD. IRVING.—The accounts signed by Ald. Allen have been passed time and again without the Committee having a knowledge of the items. He assumed that Ald. Allen would not sign an account unless accurate.

Ald. McCammon—Ald. Allen's accounts are certified to by the City Engineer as well as the Chairman of the Streets Committee.

Ald. Irving—What does the Chairman of Streets know about them?

Ald. McCammon—He ought to know something. The Chairman on Fire, Water and Gas has sought to endorse accounts submitted to the Council without any count unless accurate.

Ald. McCammon—Ald. Allen's accounts are certified to by the City Engineer as well as the Chairman of the Streets Committee.

Ald. Irving—What's the number of that item, Mr. Clerk?

Ald. Allen—You should have got the number of it before now.

LAUGHNER.—On motion of Ald. Irving, seconded by Ald. J. Carson, the report was adopted, excepting item No. 3, which was referred back.

A bill was then passed through three readings, appointing Mr. W. Harry to act on behalf of the city in the arbitration with the county. All members occupied their chair while the Council was in Committee.

PROCLAMATION.

A proclamation was read from Mr. K. Graven, asking to be released from his present lease of a succession ground, as the price he received would not pay him for the labor of two months in taking care of the deposits.

The Mayor recommended that $20 extra be paid him for the year and that the lease be not cancelled. The amount of nuisance deposited was greatly in excess of previous years.

The matter was referred to the Mayor with power to act.

Mechanics Institute.

Mr. R. W. Shannon proposed the Mining and Commercial Interests. Mr. Grady and Mr. J. Halligan replied. Our friend Grady was in the best of moods and made an address the humour of which was richly appreciated.

Mr. C. Kane now sang, the chorus of his ballad being joined in by those present.

Mr. T. Power sang a ballad, which was well received.

Commerce and Marine.

Mr. R. W. Shannon proposed the Mining and Commercial Interests. Mr. Grady and Mr. J. Halligan replied. Our friend Grady was in the best of moods and made an address the humour of which was richly appreciated.

Mr. Graven moved that the petition be granted. He declared that the Institute was most deserving of public recognition. The motion was carried.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.

The Select Committee appointed to secure, if possible, the Provincial Exhibition, for this city next year, reported that from an estimate made of the cost of putting the Crystal Palace in order, $2,000 will be necessary for the purpose.

They, therefore, recommended that in the event of the Municipal Council of the County of Frontenac granting $500, and the citizens of Kingston a similar amount, $1,000 in all, the Council pledge itself to grant $1,000 towards the said exhibition.

CONTINENTAL ACCOUNT.

The motion of Ald. Gaskin the report was adopted, and the following appointed a delegation to go to London and endeavor to have the fair held in Kingston in 1882. The Mayor, Ald. C. F. Gildas, Mr. Robinson, Ald. J. Carson, Mr. M. A. Gaskin, and G. A. Kirkpatrick, M.P.; Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., the City Clerk and the mover.
