CITY AND VICINITY.

PROBS.—Decreasing north westerly to westerly winds, fine a trifle colder weather.

CASE DISMISSED.—The case against Capt. Mullican of the steamer Swan, for obtaining $200 from W. McInty: e under false pretences, heard at Ottawa, was dismissed with costs.

CHAMBERS' ENCYCLOPEDIA.—The new revised edition, 1881, is now ready for delivery, and offered for sale by Stacey & Walpole at less than the usual wholesale price. Now is the time to get a bargain.

SAD ACCIDENT.—John Merrill, Leeds, in descending the stairs of R. W. Copeland's hotel, at that place, lost his balance and fell head foremost to the floor below. He died about an hour afterwards.

ROUGH NIGHT.—Persons who were out in the snow and rain of last night assert that it was about as disagreeable as they could wish to have encountered. By 12:30 o'clock the fury of the storm had been spent and the balance of the night was quite pleasant.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.—Mr. Godefroi Lavielette, of St. Jerome, who was recently appointed Warden of St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, having spent the necessary time at Kingston Penitentiary getting an insight into the administration of affairs here, will assume the duties of his new office about the 20th inst.

NAPANEE BRUSH COMPANY.—The Brush factory is crowded with orders. Some sixty hands are now employed. The number will be increased as soon as the new building, which Sir Richard Cartwright has prepared for the Company, can be occupied. It is very commodious and with skilled workmen and the most improved machinery the business should be a success.

LEAVING FOR THE SOUTH.—Many in this city have kind recollections of Major Kelly, of Madison barracks, Sackett's Harbor, who attended a ball given by the officers of "B" Battery in the city last March. Recently the company, of which he has command, was ordered to New Orleans. On Sunday evening the removal took place.

A SAILOR WANTED.—A telegram has been received from a man named Bowerman, of Bloomfield, directing the arrest of a man named Jonson, for stealing from him a suit of clothing. Jonson is a sailor. If the man were here the arrest would hardly take place, as there is the absence of authority. Bowerman does not indicate whether he is a constable or a magistrate.

A REAL IMPROVEMENT.—Great dissatisfaction is expressed with the narrow space left between the waggons on the market. Suggestions have been made relative to the widening of them, but it is said that if such be done sufficient room to allow the horses to pass out between the rows can not be secured. To remove the objection the horses should be unhitched, and then there will be ample accommodation.

NATIONALITY OF THE COUNCIL.—A member of the Council last evening interested himself in figuring out the nationality of the city's representatives, and reached the following results: Of the 21 Aldermen, 14 are Irish, 3 Scotch, 1 English, and 3 Americans; and the Mayor is of English descent. The four officials who are in constant attendance, the Clerk, Assistant Clerk, Messenger and Sergt.-Major, are all Irish.

ASSISTANCE ACKNOWLEDGED.—The Intelligencer, the editor of which is the Secretary of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club, says: "Messrs. T. Sullivan and James Offord, of Kingston, who went on the yacht through the canal and worked with the paid hands, are deserving of a large meed of praise for their long continued and arduous exertions, to which it is to be regretted that there was not a more successful issue."

AN APPOINTMENT MADE.—To-day Mr. James Couper, of the Great North Eastern Telegraph office, received notice from Superintendent Cartmill, of the appointment of Mr. A. P. Knight as Meterological Observer of this city, to whom the instruments were to be handed over. Mr. Cartmill has spoken highly of Mr. Couper's efficient service during the time he acted as observer. We believe he even at one time recommended him for the place. There is a salary of $400 attached to the situation.

LATE PIANO FACTORY FIRE.—Several of the Aldermen at the Council meeting last evening gave their opinion as to the cause of the delay in the firemen getting to work at the fire yesterday morning. The position of the railway track may have made it awkward for the engine to be placed at the express corner hydrant, but it seems that not only was there a stoppage in consequence of an imperfect coupling of the suction pipe with the fire plug, but that the engine, owing to some derangement, could not be got to work for some time. Such at least, is the statement of Alds. McCammon and McMahon, who spoke of what they saw.

A MAN MISSING.

Circumstances which Indicate that He was Drowned in this Harbour on Sunday Evening.

Yesterday evening Chief Hanley received the following telegram from Port Dalhousie:

"The propeller Ontario" left Swift's dock at 9 o'clock last night (Sunday) for Cleveland. A man is missing this morning. He was of medium height, fair complexion, blue eyes, and roughly clad; aged about 19; name John Haines, alias Cable. He would not desert as considerable money was due him. Please make enquiries concerning him and telegraph me at Port Colborne. If you find him kindly have him sent to Port Colborne without delay. I will pay all expenses.

"J. R. Boyd, Purser."

The unfortunate fellow probably perished within sight of home. Two men who were at the Marine Railway state that as the Ontario passed they heard a man scream, probably Cable. Several sailors on the schr. Cavalier state that while in the forecastle of the vessel lying off Swift's wharf, they heard a cry, and one remarked that some one was drowning. They ran up on deck but could neither see nor hear any one struggling. The propeller Lake Ontario had just passed. The young man may have been struck with the wheel and sunk at once to a watery grave.

WHAT'S THE NEWS?

Laconic Arrangement of Items of Local and General Interest—Gossip that is Readable.

The contractor seems to be generally blamed for the backwardness of the public works.

Napanee had an inch and a half of snow last night. There was a slight fall in Kingston.

Next year a Board of Works may be suggested, the system of ward appropriations being abolished.

Some one has stolen Harry Lhalley's white hat. Harry wore it for 25 years. It was valued as a relic of the long ago.

The streets of Napanee, like those of Kingston, are in a very disgraceful condition. The muck is several inches deep.

Brantford Telegram: "Toronto, Kingston, and other large cities don't want the Provincial Exhibition. Well, Brantford doesn't want it particularly bad either, but we might take it on a pinch."

The Grand Trunk Company's double track, west, so far as it is finished, which serves as sidings and for trains to pass each other at way stations, is found to be very serviceable, so much as that the same plan is likely to be extended east.

POLICE COURT—TUESDAY.

John Giberson, a rollicking sailor, covered with mud and crime, frankly acknowledged that he was drunk. He was ordered aboard his vessel and left in a happy mood.

About 10:30 o'clock a charge of liquor selling within prohibited hours, was began against Mr. Joseph McConnell. It continued until about 1 p.m., when, the evidence being all in, the Magistrate said he would reserve his decision. One Dougherty swore that he secured liquor on the Sabbath, while his comrades, some four others, denied the charge most explicitly. Mr. B. M. Britton appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. T. H. McGuire for the defence.

A wages case was adjourned until this afternoon at 2 p.m., at which time judgment was given for $8.50.

Wm. Barney, a pawnbroker of this city, will be prosecuted to-morrow by the officers of "B" Battery for purchasing Government clothing, sold to him by a soldier who was believed to be about to desert. Mr. Barney bought an overcoat and a pair of boots.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. W. Bro. Sir John A. Macdonald, represents the Grand Lodge of England in the Grand Lodge of Canada.

Hon. James Cockburn, M.P., for West Northumberland, is said to have resigned his seat in the House of Commons on account of ill-health.

Sir Garnet Wolseley will shortly be appointed Adjutant General of the British Army, with the practical control of the forces in his hands.

Dr. Fletcher (brother of Prof. Fletcher Queen's College) who was drowned at Cape Breton on Saturday, was a member of the Government surveying party.

Capt. Prince, Registrar of South Wellington, formerly Chief of Police, Toronto, and Warden of the Central Prison, died about five o'clock this morning of apoplexy.

His Excellency the Governor General arrived at Liverpool yesterday, where he was met by H.R.H. Princess Louise, subsequently proceeding to the seat of the Duke of Westminster, near Chester.

A Canadian's Claims.

There is a general belief, says the Montreal Star, that a resident Canadian will be appointed to the position vacant at the Kingston Military College. Not one paper in the Dominion, that we have seen, advocates the bringing out of an old countryman. All this is an indication of the times. It prove that the spirit of Canada First is abroad, and that the people are anxious to foster and develope whatever native talent and energy they possess. Canada for Canadians, native and adopted, is the temper of the day, and the sooner we all brace up to the issue the sooner we will experience its benefits.

The Sunken Tonnanche.

The Mail is mistaken in the statement that the Canadian Wrecking Companies are engaged in an effort to raise the schr. Tonnanche, sunken in the Welland Canal. Canadian tools are in use, but under the direction of American masters. There can be no doubt that if Capt. Donnelly and his assistants had undertaken the work it would have been accomplished in not more than 24 hours.

COURT OF REVISION.

The Appeals from Cataraqui Ward Disposed of—Prompt and Decisive Acting Recorded.

Yesterday afternoon the Court of Revision held the first meeting at which the appeals from Cataraqui Ward against the new assessment were heard and disposed of. There were present Ald. R. J. Carson (the Chairman) and Alds. Smyth, McGuire, C. F. Gilder sleeve and Robinson.

Charles Chambers, over assessment. Confirmed.

G. S. Hobart, assessed to the amount of $6,000. Thinks amount should be only $5,000. Confirmed.

James Davis, real estate, assessed for $1,600; too much in appellant's opinion. Reduced to $1,500.

John Shaw, on behalf of Cataraqui Bridge Company, had the assessment of that property, $23,000, reduced to $18,000.

Joseph Murray, real estate, over assessed. Reduced from $1,300 to $1,200.

Richard Boyd, assessment of house reduced by $100, from $1,500 to $1,400.

Archibald Strachan appealed against assessment of store and stock. Former sustained and latter fixed at $1,500.

Daniel Donohue's stock assessment struck off.

James Downs, house assessment reduced to $1,800. It was $2,000.

Stevenson & Co., assessment of the Anderson lot to be $500.

Jacob Bajus's property, indicated in appeal No. 323, to be reduced to $500; Nos. 324 and 325 reduced to $1,600; Nos. 327 and 328 to be assessed at $1,000 each.

Charles Anderson, assessment for property on Bond Head street, reduced to $400.

Wm. McCutcheon, assessment of house and lot on Queen street, reduced from $1,800 to $1,700.

Peter Lena, dog tax struck off.

Martin Meagher, over assessment. Reduced by $50.

Allan Chadwick, for Rathbun & Co., complained of over assessment on personal property. Confirmed.

James Hoppins, at his own desire was assessed for $400 on income.

John Tweddell, over assessment on store and dwelling. Reduced from $2,500 to $2,000.

W. J. Robinson, stock reduced to $700.

Andrew Rankin, assessment in all cases sustained.

James Reynolds, assessment of land on Dufferin Street reduced from $600 to $450.

Archibald McFaul desired to be assessed for Separate School tax. Granted.

Wm. Strainge, assessment on buildings and stock confirmed.

William Wilson, land value reduced from $700 to $600.

A Very Good Reason.

A correspondent writes us: "People don't seem to understand why Ald. Gaskin is so anxious to have the side walks repaired, and the holes in the streets and the drains of Victoria Ward filled up. They think he is becoming very thoughtful of the voters, and in truth he is apparently more fond of those that exercise the franchise than usual. But he never forgets himself. That's his most distinguishing characteristic. These public improvements will be appreciated by him perhaps more than any other man in the ward. He's doing a good deal of lively walking just now, and his pace will be accelerated before Christmas. And is his narrow escape from total extinction last winter so easily forgotten? Don't you remember that on a dark and treacherous night he had the misfortune to fall into one his own man traps, an unfinished sewer, and receive injuries which but for his robust youthfulness would have had serious effects? He don't want that thing to occur again. Rather he is satisfied that the King Street sidewalks, in Sydenham Ward, should remain bad, and liable to break his opponent's leg should he think of running out at night on election errands."

Deseronto Notes.

The population of our village is about 2,000, being a large increase over last year.

The ballast train, composed of an engine and eighteen flat cars, commenced operations to-day on the Bay of Quinte Railway.

During the season of navigation of 1880, 509 cargoes of lumber and other products were shipped from this point. In addition there were 2,640 steamboat calls.

On Saturday, as the steambarge Saxon struck the dock here, one of the crew fell overboard. While attempting to climb up the dock she swung in and jammed him badly. The steamer proceeded to Belleville at once with the injured man.

A petition is in circulation, and being signed by every resident of the village, to have the mail route changed from the stage and steamboats to the Bay of Quinte Railway. This will be a great advantage, as it will give us three mails daily. Commencing about the 1st of December five trains will arrive and depart daily, making connection at Deseronto junction with all G. T. R. passenger trains except the midnight express.

Larceny at Yarker.

On Saturday's theft of two watches took place at the railroad boarding house, John Connors, who was working on the railway, being the loser. The theft was traced to Stephen Hill, who also was working on the road. At first he denied the offence. Conners walked to Yarker, a distance of six miles, obtained a warrant for his arrest, and was brought before J. A. Shibley, J.P. The evidence was so strong that Hill confessed to the taking of the watches, and that he was under the influence of drink at the time. The Magistrate committed him for trial at Napanee. The watches are said to be valued at $30.

Change of Date.

Owing to business detention Dr. M. Souvielle, of Montreal, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French army, will not be able to reach Kingston until Monday, the 21st, and then will remain only until Wednesday evening at the City Hotel. In Quebec the week before last over 700 physicians and sufferers visited Dr. Souvielle, and his credit is fast extending. He will have with him a supply of spirometer instruments used for the cure of catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and lung diseases. Physicians and sufferers can try the instruments free.

DIOCESE OF KINGSTON.

A FULL AND EXPLICIT EXPLANATION OF ITS PAST AND PRESENT AFFAIRS—A CLEAR EXHIBIT.

Work of the Prelates in the Diocese—Noble, Heroic, Efforts of the Late Bishop O'Brien—The Best Tribute the People Can Pay to the Dead.

After high mass, on Sunday morning, in St. Mary's Cathedral, Bishop Cleary ascended the pulpit and spoke on the text:

"Remember your prelates who have spoken unto you the word of God, whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation. Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day and for ever."—Hebrews xiii.—7.

He explained that the Apostle St. Paul, writing to his friends of the Jewish race, scattered over the Provinces of Asia, living in the midst of the Gentiles and exposed to the dangers of idolatry by reason of their intercourse among them, gave as one great rule of security for their perseverance in the faith, to remember their prelates and the word of God spoken to them, to imitate their faith and follow their example, remembering that faith is unchangeable because Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, and to-day and forever. He proceeded to apply this apostolic instruction to the Catholic people of Canada, and especially to those of the Diocese of Kingston, remembering that the advancement of the faith planted in Upper Canada by the great Bishop Macdonald was very remarkable, perhaps singular, in the history of nations, because all had been accomplished within the life time of men still living. If one could extend his observation from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to the western limit of old Canada he would then see how numerous and grand, for religious and charitable purposes, were the institutions reared up by the prelates throughout every part of the country. Whence came the resources for the accomplishment of such grand and noble works? They came from the mine more rich in treasure than those of material gold, the mine of divine faith, from which all drew the means for the sanctification of the people over whom God placed them. This mine is inexhaustible; the more it is dug, the more that is drawn from it, the more treasure is it capable of supplying. The labor of the Apostle was required to draw forth this treasure, and certainly Kingston has been bountifully dealt with by Almighty God in the prelates which have been appointed to preside over the spiritual and social interests of the people. "It is easy," said he, "to ask you with confidence to remember the prelates who spoke unto you the word of God, to follow their example in regard to the faith, and to keep in constant prayerful memory all their lives before and to the end of their conversation. It is needless to say to you what the Apostle said to the Israelites in the dispersion, that the faith planted among you by the first great and glorious prelate Macdonald has been preserved by his successors until the present time, that it is unchangeable, that not an iota of it will be lost to the end of time, its stability being expressed by St. Paul in the words, 'Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and to-day, and forever.' The occasion of my address to you calls for special reference to my immediate predecessor, for I came to speak to you of the diocesan debt and your share in its liquidation. It was the labour of his life among you, he devoted himself to it with an earnestness which commanded admiration, and for my part impossible of imitation. He undertook journeyings all around this diocese, travelling from parish to parish, preaching and laboring with indefatigable zeal to draw from the mine of the people's faith and piety the means wherewith to relieve the diocese of the which lay upon it. To give encouragement to his clergy and people by his own example witness the disinterested spirit of the man. On the day of his consecration in this Cathedral the clergy presented him with a complimentary purse of $8,000, and he immediately handed over the same for the liquidation of the diocesan debt. Let this be stored up in your memory and draw from you prayers and benedictions upon his name." After further laudatory remarks to the late Most Rev. Dr. O'Brien, the Bishop proceeded, that notwithstanding all the toil and trouble on the part of the good Bishop in collecting means, to blot out the debt he succeeded in obtaining only $19,200. This sum, added to the $3,000 which he bestowed upon the diocese, should have left no greater obligation than $10,000 upon the diocese had no new obligation been incurred. "But in this you will see what I desire to point out," remarked the Bishop, "the evil of allowing debt to continue undischarged whilst heavy interest must be paid upon it. The accumulation of interest has been the millstone around the neck of the Diocese of Kingston. Whilst with one hand the late Bishop received the offerings of the faithful to the amount of $19,200, with the other hand he put forth very large sums of money to meet the claims of interest. I find by reference to the books that it was he who, before he had completed his mission, reduced the interest to 6 per cent. upon the debt. It previously was 8 per cent. as I find frequently recorded in the books, and I learn from the senior priests of the Diocese that on much of the debt 10 per cent was paid.

WHAT HAS BEEN THE RESULT?

On the 1st of August, 1879, the date of his ever to be lamented death, the liability upon the Diocese was $24,393, and if you deduct from this sum $7,500, due to Kingston by the Diocese of Ottawa, the net balance of debt would be $17,077." His Lordship read out the principal items of liability, there being $18,000 of what he called an "old, old debt," $2,000 on account of seminary, and a lot of expenses for wages, etc. He continued: "On this debt you have paid from 1st August, 1879, to the present time $2,800, all coming out of the pockets of the parishioners of Kingston, not one cent being paid by any other parish in the Diocese. Hence the project which I propose will save you from the annual imposition this exhausting drain upon the parochial resources without receiving any benefit in return." The Bishop then proceeded to point out the exact state of the Diocesan finances at the present moment, observing that the $18,000 of an "old, old debt" still remained upon the books, with a claim of 6 per cent. per annum upon it; then came the absolutely necessary permanent improvements to the Episcopal Palace, approximately estimated at $3,500. His Lordship dwelt at some length upon the necessity for these improvements with a view to sanitation and the common comforts of life. When he came to the item of $2,000 for which the Palace is at present in debt to the merchants of the city, he said: "This state of things must not continue. It is an ignominious thing that the Bishop and clergy have been obliged to remain in debt to the merchants of the city for the food they used. Why is the debt for provisions lying against the episcopal palace? It is because while the provision merchants are deprived of their money the palace is obliged to pay on behalf of the Diocese since the 1st August, 1870, the sum of $2,329 interest upon a hereditary debt." He wound up by stating the

SCORE OF LIABILITY

upon the diocese to-day. After deducting the amount of money paid by the Bishop of Ottawa in full discharge of his liability to Kingston there was left a debt of $21,800. If the interest at present due and accruing ($1,750) be added the actual liability will be $23,218. He then proceeded to submit a solution of the problem to the business men whom he saw seated before him. The interest on the debt at present, at 6 per cent., was $1,393 per annum. In 3 years, 2 mos., the interest would therefore equal the share which they were asked to pay for the entire liquidation of the debt, viz., $4,500. Thus in 10 years they would have paid three times the amount they were asked to pay to-day, and yet at the end of that 10 years the liability would still be $23,000 of permanent debt. He questioned if there was a firm in the city that would follow such

AN UNBUSINESS LIKE COURSE.

He urged them to do all in their power to place the Diocese in a state of financial freedom. He again added: "The interest upon the Diocesan debt has always been paid by the parish of Kingston, wholly and solely, and that would still be the case. Now you are asked to pay 20 per cent of the debt straight down, and you are immediately relieved of this great burden, and the other parishes co-operating with you the diocese will obtain complete financial freedom." He appealed to the people of Kingston to show those in the rest of the Diocese an example, to give further evidence of their high spirit and their readiness to make any necessary sacrifice for the sake of religion. He bade them maintain their honor among their fellow citizens, to show to the other congregations that they would not be behind in the discharge of their various obligations. In fine, they should, in the language of the text, remember the prelates who had spoken unto them the word of God, who made sacrifices for them, and who bequeathed the faith which was the richest inheritance. He said he was quite sure that the spirit of the late Dr. O'Brien, who was born among them, who lived for them and devoted all his energies to the promotion of their interests, was looking down from heaven approvingly upon the efforts that was being made to follow up and bring to completion the work so vigorously prosecuted by him. No greater tribute could be paid to his memory, than that which was characteristically the labour of his life. The subscriptions subsequently totalled $2,500 over half of the amount expected from Kingston.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Algerian has arrived and gone into winter quarters.

The steamer D. C. West left this morning on her last trip down the Rideau.

Sailors are now shipping at whatever rate they like to ask and can secure. They are bound by no restrictions.

Sunday night somebody let go the line of the schooner Snowbird, lying at one of the elevator docks at Oswego, and she ran into the upper island, taking out her jobboom. A tug rescued her.

The schr. Gold Hunter, with coal from Oswego to Toronto, was towed into the harbor this morning by the F. & Folger. She was leaking badly. She anchored off the Queen's wharf. The coal will probably have to be taken out of her here.

The schr. Cavalier, which left Collinsby on Saturday for Buffalo, has returned disabled, owing to the splitting of her square top sail off the Ducks. She has been ordered to lay up, and in all probability during the winter will be converted into a barge, as a consort of the tug A. D. Porter.

Epps's Cocoa.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets and Tins (½lb. and lb.) labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng."—Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.
