N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

The valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure for

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs, in all cases where the Elixir has been given a fair and reasonable test, has invariably succeeded, confirming the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to. Consumption at the commencement is but a slight irritation of the membrane which lines the throat and bronchial tubes, and the quickest and most agreeable, but rather the least known remedy for the alleviation of this distressing irritation so as to remove the interfering irritation and inflammation from the lungs by the surface, and finally expectoration, is Downs' Elixir. It heals the ulcerated surfaces and restores the cough and fosters the breath. It is the opinion of the writer that the Elixir is the only cure now known to the Globe. It is free from strong opiates and spirituous poisons, which gives instant relief by paralyzing the nerves of sensation, thereby destroying the patient, whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but by removing the cause, gradually destroys it, and the cough ceases of itself, because there is no cause for it to continue. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of Pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

CITY AND VICINITY.

PROBS.—Winds gradually shifting towards the south and increasing in force, fine cold weather to-day, followed by milder weather to-morrow.

THE BEST CHOICE in the city of needlework slippers is to be seen at S. Burgess & Son's, who are selling them for 40c per pair and upwards.

NEW HYMNAL.—This long looked for book of tunes, appropriate to the new Presbyterian Hymnal, is now ready and a full supply can be had of Stacey & Walpole.

MR. HOOPER'S FACTORY.—Feeling is pretty strong in Trenton in favor of the proposed factory, which Mr. Felix Hooper, of Kingston, hopes to establish. It will give employment to a large number of hands.

PANIC IN SCHOOL.—To-day the side of a stove in Gordon Street School fell out, creating quite a panic among the scholars. Some time was spent in extinguishing the fire and getting the stove fixed. The junior pupils were dismissed for the day.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—A few days ago Mr. Henry Grimshaw had a coat stolen from his hotel. One Henry Berringer has been arrested as the thief. It is said he pawned the garment; it was certainly found by officer Hinde in a second hand store.

BODIES RECOVERED.—A steamer went yesterday to search for the bodies of the eight unfortunate persons drowned by the capsizing of a small boat in Eel Bay on Saturday. All were recovered with the exception of that of a baby and taken to the Hub House. They will be buried to-morrow at Omar, near Fisher's Landing, N.Y.

PROVINCIAL SHOW.—The Agricultural and Arts Association of Ontario will hold their fall meeting in Toronto on the 24th November. It is safe to say that it will not be attended by any delegates from Kingston. The treatment which this city received in September has not been forgotten.

MIDLAND DISTRICT SCHOOL.—At a meeting of the Midland District School Society, held last evening, it was decided to transfer the assets and powers of the association to the Orphans' Home and Widows' Society, and an application will be made to the Legislature for the necessary legislation to effect the same.

TAKES A PARTNER.—Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., of Peterboro, has admitted into partnership Dr. Alexander, of Ottawa, a graduate of Queen's College, Kingston, and a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Dr. Alexander has had considerable practice, and was highly respected at the capital.

GOVERNMENT SHIRKING RESPONSIBILITY.—Those engaged in the arbitration between the county and city have commented upon the disposition of the Government to take from the Councils the management of many municipal affairs, but at the same time to make them pay expenses which should come out of the provincial funds.

COTTON MILL ITEMS.—The large new tandem 250 horse power engine, for the Kingston cotton mill, has arrived and will be placed in position as soon as possible.—Three car loads of cotton have been received from Memphis.—Half a dozen looms have been put in position. All will be set up within a few days.—Capt. Hannah has been appointed watchman.

A MYSTERIOUS FIND.—Chief of Police here has received a circular from Buffalo stating that on the 4th instant the body of a man, whose skull had been fractured, was found floating in the canal at that city. A description of the body is given. It is 5 feet 6 inches high, weight 175 lbs., high forehead, black hair and short moustache mixed with grey. He wore a suit of old and faded clothing, made of coarse Scotch goods.

A FLANK MOVEMENT.—The people of a section of Rideau Ward are in despair. The Ward Committee had just enough money left to build a new walk for half a block on Brock Street, and took up that much of the old walk; and then, lo and behold the boards were stolen at night from the other half of the block. Now the Aldermen have no funds, and the people have been walking in the mud. Corporation stilts should at least be provided on each side of the break.

HIS TRADE.—The News tells of a prominent legal gentleman of this city who, finding a cow trespassing upon and destroying his beautiful premises, appointed himself successor to Peter Toland for the time being and drove the animal to pound through the mud. But it finished here, whereas the tale didn't. While the aforesaid p. l. g. was arousing the pound caretaker to his part of the duty, the cow made tracks and escaped! The public spirited action was wasted, and a Q. C. was very much disconcerted.

BISHOP'S ANNIVERSARY.

Congratulations Very Numerous—Absence of Some Clergy Accounted For—Jubilee Services.

A great deal of interest yesterday centred in the observances of the double anniversary of the Presentation of the Virgin Mary, and the consecration at Rome of Dr. Cleary as Bishop of Kingston. His Lordship was surrounded, at his own solicitation, by the following clerical representatives:

Rt. Rev. Mgr. Farrelly, Belleville.
Rev. E. P. Roche, Smith's Falls.
" B. J. Higgins, Kingston.
" J. S. O'Connor, Perth.
" I. J. McCarthy, Brockville.
" M. Stafford, Lindsay.
" J. Masterson, Prescott.
" M. Donohoe, Erinsville.
" J. Twomey, Centreville.
" P. Donachue, Brewer's Mills.
" E. Murray, Cobourg.
" G. Brophy, Tyendinaga.
" C. McWilliams, Railton.
" T. J. Sprate, Wolfe Island.
" J. McDonagh, Napanee.
" P. A. Twohey, Kingston.
" M. Larkin, Granton.
" J. T. Hogan, Kingston.
" T. A. Kelly, Kingston.

All the priests of the diocese would have been present were it not that the exercises of the Jubilee are being conducted in many of the parishes. His Lordship was in continuous receipt of telegrams and letters of congratulations from the absent clergy, and all expressed their regret that circumstances did not permit them to offer personally their congratulations.

As we intimated yesterday there was a Pontifical Mass in the morning, and late in the afternoon the clergy dined at the palace, and enjoyed the Bishop's hospitality.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' SCHOOL.

Bishop Cleary, accompanied by Mgr Farrelly and Rev. Father Kelly, visited the various religious institutions of the city yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the first anniversary of his episcopal consecration. It is needless to say that everywhere he received a cordial welcome, hearty congratulations, and an abundance of good wishes both for time and eternity. On his visit to the Community of the Christian Brothers a representation of the pupils presented him with the following neat address:

RIGHT REV. AND DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the pupils of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, and in union with all the children of your diocese, we approach you to-day to express our great joy on this anniversary of your consecration as Bishop of Kingston. When it was made known to us a year ago that you were consecrated in the "Eternal City," on the Feast of the Presentation, and that you would soon arrive among us to take possession of your See, we all rejoiced exceedingly, and from that moment our minds were wholly intent on giving you a cordial welcome to the strange land of your future labors and a loving home in the hearts of your newly-adopted children. Being aware of the constant stream of visitors that are pouring into the palace to-day, to offer you their hearty congratulations on this happy occasion, our words shall be few but sincere.

We wish your Lordship many, many happy returns of this lovely feast, a feast which marks the holy dedication of yourself to the service of this diocese, as well as the entire and irrevocable consecration of the Most Blessed Virgin to the holy service of God.

Begging your Lordship's blessing, we remain your dutiful and loving children in Christ,

THE PUPILS OF THE BROTHERS OF THE CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS.

In receiving the address, his Lordship warmly thanked the pupils for this token of their esteem and affection for him, which he highly appreciated. He greatly rejoiced to see that they were animated by those noble and beautiful Christian sentiments to which they gave eloquent expression in the address just read to him. He counselled them to nourish and uphold these sentiments when they would become men, and to preserve them through the whole course of their lives. They should always be found faithful in the discharge of the duties imposed on them, and diligently prepare themselves to take their respective places in society as men of virtue, ability principle and honor. Speaking of the confidence the pupils reposed in him, his Lordship said he would labor constantly for them, for Kingston, and for the diocese, but that the work which he hoped to do would, doubtless, be more appreciated by them when he would be gone and when they would be occupying the honorable positions of their fathers. The pupils were evidently deeply impressed with the earnest and touching words addressed to them, which no doubt they will long and fondly cherish.

After promising to visit the classes in a few weeks His Lordship concluded by requesting Brother Halward to introduce to him each pupil in particular. He then gave to each his blessing, adding some kind and pleasant words.

EVENT IN ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL.

Last evening an entertainment was given in St. Joseph's School by the pupils of the Convent de Notre Dame in honor of the Bishop of Kingston, whose first anniversary of consecration occurred yesterday. His Lordship was attended by the Domestic Bishop, Mgr. Farrelly, and about twenty priests. The audience was confined to the pupils and a few friends. The scene was a pretty one, the ladies and pupils being handsomely dressed. The programme consisted of music, songs, dialogues, tableaux and recitations. It was quite lengthy, but nevertheless very interesting. Miss Mary Hogan and Miss Emily McDermott gave the opening song, followed by a prologue from Miss Mary Macarow. The "Welcome Chorus" was finely rendered. Misses May Waggoner, Mary Flanigan and Ida Cunningham taking the solos.

The Bishop was then presented with a number of bouquets, the principal one being handed to him with a most bewitching bow by Miss Mary Ann Hogan. His Lordship made a pleasant address, expressive of thanks and gladness. A duet from Miss Mary Macarow and Maud Campbell followed, very nicely performed. The drama of "Mercy's Triumph" was acted, with Miss May Waggoner personating "Mercy" and Miss Charlotte McNeil "Justice." It was a pleasing representation. "A Joyous Anniversary" was sung with full chorus, Miss Lilly Kelly taking the solo, following which was a dialogue. Misses Mary Flanigan and Maggie Hagerty taking important parts. Misses Amelia and Georgina Lynch played a merry duet; then came a drama in which Misses Minnie Macdonald, Nellie Hagerty, Mary Macarow, Elise Rodenstein, and Kate A. Cunningham participated. Miss Macarow and Maud Campbell gave a delightful selection of music. Little Nellie Macarow, 7 years of age, made a good impression in "A Child's Object." "The Little Birds" was a dialogue given by fifteen of the junior pupils. Miss Louise Donohoe expatiated upon "Ireland's Glories" concluding with a tableau of the "Angel of Erin," Miss Gerty Flanigan appearing as "Erin" and Miss Elise Rodenstein as the "Angel of Erin." Miss Lynch gave a selection from the "Harp of Tara." The most attractive event of the evening now occurred—the reading of an address to His Lordship by Miss Mary Ann Hogan, to which His Lordship made a fitting reply. Miss Amande Taschereau sang "Bon Soir" the entertainment concluding with "St. Patrick's Day," Miss May Sullivan and Miss Amande Taschereau taking leading parts.

POLICE COURT—TUESDAY.

Enormities of Drunkenness—Disturbing Offender—A Friendless Lad Punished Not Severely.

Patrick Byrne, a sleepy looking Irishman, who has been sailing on the lakes, yesterday met a friend and got intoxicated. Discharged.

Samuel Murray, of Amherst Island, a young man with an intelligent face, discolored by blood clots, complained that one Morrison had been chewing his ear. Samuel was drunk, however, and hardly knew where he was or what happened to him. He was shown out.

Joseph Devan, charged with several offences, did not appear and a warrant was issued for his arrest. He is already under conviction, and having paid the last fine imposed upon him.

John Sinnott, an elderly citizen, was charged with allowing his cows to roam the streets. He said that he turned them out, and did not think they had done any damage in walking the streets. Officer Hoyle testified to having driven the animals off the street. Sinnott was assessed to the extent of $1 and costs.

Wm. Morrison was charged with "chawing up" the ear of Samuel Murray. Murray said he did not wish to prosecute, besides he had stated on Saturday that his ear had been injured by his falling against a post. Dismissed.

Two auctioneers had their cases adjourned for a week, and a case of refusing to pay wages was settled without the help of the Magistrate.

John Holgate, an English lad, was charged with having stolen from Mr. Henry Brown, a pair of cuff buttons, two chest keys and a small tin bank containing about $2. He acknowledged being guilty so far as taking the money was concerned, but the other articles he says he found. He arrived from England about a fortnight before last Christmas, and for seven months worked for Mr. Jardine, a wholesale grocer of Toronto. He then went to Hamilton, thence came here. His people were in England. He stole the money on the 19th instant, the anniversary of his 10th birthday. He was sent to the Reformatory at Pentanguishene for two years. This sentence is considered too severe. Not over a month ago a young man stole a coat valued at three times the sum the boy says he stole, and got only one month in gaol. The little fellow is deformed. He says he first came from England to search for his father who started for Canada ahead of him. His mother died when he was young and he was turned over to the tender mercies of an aunt, who, to get rid of him, sent him to this country. Are his misfortunes, his necessities, and the unfriendliness of the world not sufficient to elicit our sympathy?

WELLAND CANAL ACCIDENT

Prop. Europe Damages the Lock Gates, Schr. Filmore, some Stringers and a Wharf—Serious Consequences.

The propeller 'Europe,' loaded by Mr. Wilson, of this city, at Northport for Buffalo, some 1,800 bushels barley, and left for the canal, passing through No. 1 lock at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. While the 'Europe' was in the lock, and the lock tenders commenced hoisting water, the snub line slipped off the pile and she went ahead, carrying away the head gates, and, backing upstore away the lower gates and ran into the schooner 'Filmore,' lying below the lock, smashing her stern and causing the water to pour in rapidly; she tore up the piles from the wharf, running out into the harbor and smashed a yawl boat to pieces. The 'Europe' continued backing up and ran into a wharf below the tug office, carrying away several stringers, etc. The 'Europe' received little damage. The damage to the schooner 'Filmore' will amount to considerable, as she will have to unload the cargo of iron she has on board and be placed on the dry dock for repairs. She was bound from Kingston to Chicago with a load of railroad iron, at $3 per ton, which she had guaranteed to deliver at Chicago this Fall. The propellers 'Dominion' and 'Niagara,' the former being also loaded with barley by Mr. Wilson, locked ahead of the 'Europe,' and will be able to proceed through the canal. A dam will be placed above lock 1 and vessels can then proceed via the new canal. Navigation will be impeded for several days.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. McRoskie is having great success in his canvass for the mayoralty.

HELP FOR THE NORTH WEST.

Meeting in the Interest of Domestic Missions of the Church of England—Dr. Sullivan's Speech.

Last evening a missionary service was held in St. James' Parochial school House, followed by an exposition of the aims of the new Board of Domestic Missions of the Church of England. The ritual specially prepared by the Canadian bishops for missionary intercession was followed by hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The Rev. F. W. Dobbs read the lesson and Rev. W. B. Carey the service.

The Rev. F. W. Kirkpatrick, Rural Dean, in an opening address, spoke of the expanding work of the Church, from parishional to diocesan, and then from our own vast country to the wider constituency of the world's vast field. The parish had done something yearly for Algoma but absolutely nothing for the great North West. It was the same throughout the old diocese owing to the want of an organized effort. The motive power had been supplied in the Board of Domestic Missions, created last year by the Provincial Synod, entirely distinct from the Board of Foreign Missions or any diocesan home mission. The older persons present knew how we had to lean on the churchmen in England when the Church here was young and weak; they could, therefore, feel the needs of the people making a new home in that vast country of the West, a field large enough to tax not only Canadian liberality but that of England as well. He trusted that the churchmen in Ontario would enter into the duty earnestly of claiming the land for God and His service.

The Rev. A. Spencer showed how the Synod had been pledged last year to do its part in sustaining the mission of the North West, where the Church though first in the field was falling behind and urged the fulfilling of that pledge.

THE MONTREAL REPRESENTATIVE.

Dr. Sullivan, who was well received, spoke first on the general principles of mission work of the Church, since the laity, late in the 19th century, had not the clear idea or sufficient information on the subject, but would as soon as they appreciated those principles be as prompt to act as other bodies. The work lacked interest, especially near home. There was more romance attached to labors at the South Sea Islands, the people being fed by tracts of great societies with wonderful stories of missionary dangers and prowess, until some of them believed that every good chief kept roast missionary as a sideboard dish, and that stout preachers were in demand because "fat and full of gravy." Missionary effort was, however, the same everywhere—a daily practical illustration of the principle of the Church from the first century, that of growth. Everything must in the natural order grow. It was the principle in all animated nature, in the rational as well as in the irrational order. The Church was ordained to grow in knowledge and in grace. Sanctification meant a gradual expansion in grace under the inspiration of the Holy Ghost. The Christian Church, with God at its head and the life of Christ throbbing through its life, cannot be an exception to this universal law of growth. He cited bible examples of growth under Divine Providence, but he did not intend to dwell upon analogy and illustration alone. There is the express command of Christ, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all people." These are our marching orders, the power and centre of religion, leaving heathendom till pagan altars fall before it as chaff before the wind. If the spirit of the twelve apostles had been actively followed out through the Christian ages this mission power would have been ten times as great. The beacon fire of early religion first flashed from a spark at Jerusalem, then was seen at Damascus, Antioch, Cyprus, Ephesus, the Troad; then shone forth to classic Greece and imperial Rome, at length passing through Gaul to Great Britain, where it flashed hundreds of years before the papal emissaries landed, and was hidden under Roman superstition, to break forth once and make America tributary for every religious blessing it enjoys. Liberty of thought, freedom of conscience, trial by jury, a free worship were all directly traceable to mission work. Through the blessing of God in the pulpit and distinct understanding in the pew it would continue to build up the Church more and more.

DOMESTIC WORK.

Our work in home fields has been spasmodic, irregular and straggling. The Central Board of Domestic Missions has been formed to systematise and foster it, not to conflict with any local organization. It had by organized effort weighed the needs of the North West field and had called for $11,000 from the old dioceses this year, asking $2,000 each from Montreal, Toronto, and Huron dioceses, and $1,250 each from those of Quebec, Ontario and Niagara, the balance being allotted to the Maritime Provinces. This is not much to ask, and had so far been accepted as reasonable. Toronto had pledged its quota quarterly, a proof that the age of miracles was not dead. (Laughter.) The Central Board had a monthly record in the North West, their journalistic baby in its milk and water tenderness, with the water predominating. But all papers had a beginning and it would serve a useful purpose as a reservoir for and disseminator of news from the old country. Independent of the Board each diocese was free to do what it pleased for the North-West; the Committee would merely ask for a record of the action. There was a natural friction in the new machinery, but it would all wear away in time.

A VAST LAND OF PROMISE.

The North-West, with its 86,000,000 of acres, was almost beyond conception as to size and capabilities. Under the C. P. RR. progression it must flourish. The cities of Quebec and Ontario will be nothing to the new cities which will rise up where the star of Empire is now so brightly setting. He blushed to feel that the Church of England was being outstripped in the race of progress, so much so that our efforts were paltry. He would not appeal to Ontario were not the Churchmen of the North-West doing themselves all they were able. In Winnipeg, the other day, they raised, for one object alone, $14,000. But there were sparse settlements and struggling settlers unable to support the ministrations. On their behalf he would plead for help and sympathy.

FREEDOM OF JUDGMENT.

It might be urged as an excuse for apathy and luke warmness that the Church was not eminently happy in its internal relations. He must admit that the evil of many creeds had a separate Theology at each shops. This is undeniable, it must be so in every body that deserves to be called a Church. Were it a sect it would require men to yield to a close line. But if Catholic it must tolerate many shades of theology. Individuality of thought, taste and temperament must have room. Not even in heaven itself will all of God's children see eye to eye in all things. That blessed home could not be marked by the monotony of eternal sameship. Within certain limits individuality must be provided for. These bounds are transgressed of course, and ministers have trampled on church law and authority for very trifles, but still we must allow for differences of theology. Truth is manysided, and we can no more think alike than expect all the trees of the forest to be of the same size. God reigns through it all, and tribulation is but the pathway to life, the threshing out of chaff from the golden grain. Just so surely as the individual is safe in Christ just so surely is his life purified by these troubles. Therefore, let no one be despondent or apathetic because he cannot get everybody to think as he does.

CHARITY BEGAN AT HOME.

truly enough. This instinct was the strongest in our nature. But it don't end there. If the Apostles had confined this charity to Jerusalem, where would the religion of to-day have been? The loving giver was ever the best off, for the fountain never dried. "He that waters th shall himself be watered." He urged the formation of local committees of ladies. They could best feel the privileges of the gospel, to which they owed their freedom above the women of Pagan lands. It was the subdued, gentle, sympathetic ministrations of woman in the convent, the school and the home that made up the strength of Roman Catholicism. Why should not the Church, which had so steadfastly opposed that religion, avail themselves of its strength. He opposed the rotten system of perpetual church begging, with their auxiliary aids of socials and festivals, and urged a return to primitive modes of weekly voluntary offerings, and like the widow's barrel the Church's coffers would be never empty. (Applause.)

The Mayor and Capt. Crysler proposed a vote of thanks to the visiting clergy. A collection was made, a hymn sung, and the meeting closed. It was eminently satisfactory to its projectors and all present.

Who shall say that the hand that chastens is not the hand of love, when it lends out of the conceit and danger of self pride, and the inordinate exaltation of self-planning and sufficiency, into the experience where life is enriched with the fruit of humility and those virtues which have their source in future comfort and peace.—John Ruskin, purified in the fire of a hot election canvass.

The Provincial Exhibition.

The Board of Agriculture is to again meet at Toronto on Thursday, and private information leads us to understand that if Kingston is prepared to take the Provincial Exhibition of 1882 it will be brought here. The Mayor has asked the eleven gentlemen who formed the city's delegation to London to meet this afternoon to consider the letters received. Kingston is not in a position, from the wild goose chase it was led into at London, to ask for the show a second time, but if the Board resolves to come here, no doubt it will be well treated.

Transfer to Office.

Mr. A. Hanley has been transferred from the Weights and Measures Department to that of the Excise. This position is made vacant by the removal of C. T. Dickson to Prescott. The position which is made vacant in the Weights and Measures Department will not be filled up, as it is the intention of the Government to reduce the weights and measures officials.
