—If the National Policy is once reversed I am satisfied that the days of depression which we have just escaped from will return. (Hear, hear.) Every manufacturing establishment will close. Every man who is putting his capital in manufactures will see ruin staring him in the face. Capital will fly the country.—Sir John in Toronto.

The Premier has been underrating the intelligence of the people when he presumed to state such a manifest fallacy. Manufactures existed before either Sir John or Sir Tilley thought of their panacea for hard times, and they will flourish when these patriots have ceased to govern, or misgovern, the country. The Liberals, equally as much as the Conservatives, have the welfare of the country at heart. If they refused to tax the people to the same extent they only showed a consideration for interests which were not measured by the amount of political or party good they could accomplish. The motto of Mr. Blake and his followers is now, as it has ever been, "Country first and party afterwards." Of this fact the electors are pretty well assured.

QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

The Province of Quebec is in the throes of an election. Hon. Mr. Chapleau has seen fit to make an appeal to the people, and we apprehend, judging from the methods adopted by the Conservatives in the campaign generally, that he will have the support of a small majority in the next Legislature. Financially the adjacent province is in a deplorable condition, its debt having assumed alarming proportions, and yet the electors do not manifest that anxiety for a purer and more economical administration of public affairs which is expected of them under the circumstances. The Government at convenience repudiates or shifts the responsibility, and the public are asked to condone mismanagement of the grossest description. One feature of the campaign should have its effect on the final issue at the polls—the exposure of the corruption of those who have been acting in concert with the Ministry, and whose influence is personally and politically injurious. If recent revelations mean anything they indicate that for past favours a ring of contractors are enjoying themselves at the people's expense. The latter have now a remedy. They can rid themselves of the official incapables if they neglect to do so they must bear the consequences without murmuring.

A PARTY FAILURE.

The meeting which was called in Toronto to give eclat to the movement for the promotion of a Young Men's Liberal Conservative Association seems to have been an embarrassing fizzle. An early election being contemplated of course it was desirable that the forces should be strengthened in every possible way. The venerable leaders were at hand when wanted and signified their willingness to spend and be spent in the interest of the party; but there was a noticeable absence from the little caucuses and public gatherings of the youthful element. The patriarchs were useful in counsel and conspiracy, yet there was an important duty for the young men to perform. How to attract and influence the latter was the difficult question to solve. Happy thought! Why not have a grand rally while the Premier was convenient. He could surely draw and command when all other agencies failed. Hence the call to the faithful, and the theatrical effects that were attempted when Sir John made his appearance. He delivered a speech, but to a small audience, the majority of those composing it being not youth and young men, the sons and grandsons of the men who bowed the knee in adoration of a political chief, but principally those who had grown old in the service of the party and who bore the scars of many a conflict. No wonder Sir John wanted to leave as soon as possible, and that his prognostications were such as men make when they are straining for effects under adverse circumstances.

TORONTO'S SOCIAL EVIL.

The existence in Toronto of so many places where immorality is nurtured is enough to arouse not only the clergy but the authorities of an otherwise attractive city and urge them to develope some method by which the public shame may, at least in some degree, be mitigated. Naturally enough that which deeply concerns the weal of the community is made the subject of comment in the press. The question is receiving the earnest consideration, too, of journals published outside of Toronto, and the variety of opinion placed on record is certainly very interesting. Occasionally an idea is expressed in a somewhat surprising way. For instance the suggestion that the names of patrons of houses of ill-fame be printed is treated by the Canadian Spectator thus:

"Such a course would be nothing less than the institution of a system of high-handed tyranny and terrorism. It might have a slight effect for a brief period, but could only lead eventually to a decrease in the number of Sunday School teachers and Church members, and an increase of cunning on the part of the vicious."

We should be sorry to see any scheme, designed for the suppression of the social evil, abandoned simply because it might possibly affect the Church and Sunday School. Unhappy, indeed, is the inference that the pest spots of any city are made to flourish by the favours of those who are regarded as exemplars of society and whose ostensible aim is to educate the youth of the land to live morally and virtuously. We cannot believe that our religious institutions are dependant upon the labours of men whose professions and practices so violently clash. If such be the fact the sooner the exposure is made the better. The hypocrite are not deserving of such delicate consideration: they are more to be dreaded and despised than those whose unbelief and impiety are a matter of public notoriety.

POOR RELIEF SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting on Saturday Necessity for Still Ministering to the Destitute. Appeal to the People.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Poor Relief Society was held on Saturday afternoon (Nov. 26th) in the Midland District school room. Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather there was a good attendance of ladies representing the various Protestant Churches.

The Rev. Dr. Elliott opened the meeting with devotional exercises and a brief and appropriate address.

The reports of the last year's work were submitted and adopted.

Some discussions took place as to whether the work of this Society should be continued during the present year, in view of its arduous nature and responsibility, and the labor involved in collecting the funds by personal canvass—a labor which few ladies at this season feel able to undertake. It was, however, decided that as there seemed to be no other means of meeting the needs of the helpless and destitute classes assisted by the Society it should carry on its work for one year more in the hope that before another winter some other means may be devised for meeting the same necessity. It was also resolved to publish the reports at once, that the public may be prepared for the visits of the collectors.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

The report of the Secretary, A. M. Machar, was to the following effect:

"The Kingston Poor Relief Society has now been nearly twenty years in operation, during which time it has, with the assistance of the Ladies' Bible Society, sustained a much needed City Mission. It has also, under the divine blessing, afforded timely relief to many helpless and destitute persons, chiefly aged men and women, and widows left to support young families. Of those it has thus aided many have died and others are in a position in which they need aid no longer.

"During the past year twenty very old people, mostly upwards of eighty, and twelve widows or deserted wives with young families, received regular relief during the winter, a quarter cord of wood in the fortnight. Bread and other necessary food was also given where needed. In a very few cases of extreme distress, arising from sickness, families of working men received temporary relief. The rest of those assisted from their feeble age, infirmity and sickly persons, a few of whom have received a little meat as well as other relief during the summer.

"The length and severity of last winter compelled the Society to continue their distribution of wood and other relief during a considerably longer period than usual, so that their funds were entirely exhausted, and they were not able to procure, as usual, a supply of wood to begin the present winter's operations. They therefore appeal to the citizens to enable them to continue to afford the relief so much needed by these helpless classes of poor, unable to procure necessary food or fuel for themselves, and as there is still no other way of meeting the necessities of the classes assisted by them they hope that in undertaking this work for another winter they will be sustained by the contributions of those whose liberality in the past has enabled them to avert much suffering by timely relief.

"The City Missionary, Mr. Jack, though for some time he has been only partially paid by the Society, continues to give it his faithful service. It is now intended that his salary should be wholly paid from separate collections made in each church, and not from the general funds of the Society. The usual collections for the Society's special objects will, however, be made as early as possible, and the Committee would bespeak for those who undertake the arduous work of collecting a kind and ready response, since "the Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

Asking for Charity.

Now is the time for the benevolent to dispense their charity. For the past few days, in fact since the beginning of the cold snap, there have been many applicants for assistance to representatives of the various national societies. These organizations cannot help all they would like and feel called upon to ask for the assistance of all who are able to contribute towards the amelioration of the condition of their fellow creatures.

The Mayor states that there are numerous strangers passing through the city, and that they invariably call upon him for travelling assistance or admission to the hospital or poor house. Relative to our own citizens he says a number of families are in needy circumstances owing to the sickness or absence of the heads of the households. However he does not think that there is so much real destitution as in former years.

The House of Industry is not full, as considerable care has been exercised by the Directors not to admitt paupers who have no claim upon the city and very little upon humanity. Besides the funds of the House will not permit of everybody being taken in.

It is on coal.

The News says that we do not pay the duty on coal. If our contemporary only enquired of John Herring, of Napanee, a loyal Conservative, the founder of the glass works, he would soon learn that we do pay the duty on coal. A reporter of this paper asked Mr. Herring in the Windsor Hotel, who paid the duty on the 1,250 tons of coal purchased for his works and he unhesitatingly said "I do." Then why is it that Mr. McCallum, M.P., for Monck, has a duty remitted to him which he does not pay?

A Good Move.—E. Prevost (New York Clothing Store) is having great success this fall in his order clothing and ready-mades. His motto is—low prices, good value, and a large assortment to choose from.

DRIFTING INTO ANARCHY.

Ireland's Condition not Improved—Fresh Outrages.

London, Nov. 27.—A Cork correspondent says armed men recently entered the house of a woman named Henlea, near Listowel, for the purpose of shooting her because she gave information to the police. The children threw themselves upon the mother in terror and one received a shot in the leg. The mob left after making the mother swear under threat of death not to divulge the occurrence. Six persons have been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the outrage.

Dublin, Nov. 27.—A Dublin correspondent says some more effective means must be found to restore order unless the Government is prepared to let the country drift into absolute anarchy and revolution. Accounts are recorded daily of the outrages in various districts. They do not fully represent the truth. In County Clare alone seven houses were fired into last week, of which outrages no reports have been published. Resistance in the payment of rents has not in the least abated but rather increased.

Dublin, Nov. 27.—The houses of two persons who paid their rent recently were burned near Knockash last evening.

Butterfield, Land League organizer for the counties of Down and Armagh, has been arrested to-day at Lewes.

Armed men entered the house of farmer O'Keefe and fired several shots, wounding him. He had paid his rent.

THE EARTH DRYING UP.

Rapid Diminution of the Supply of Water—The Level of the Lakes Falling—A Notable Change.

(New York Times.)

There is abundant evidence that the amount of water on the surface of the earth has been steadily diminishing for many thousands of years. No one doubts that there was a time when the Caspian sea communicated with the Black sea, and when the Mediterranean covered the greater part of the desert Sahara. In fact, geologists tell us that at one period the whole of the earth was covered by water, and the fact that continents of dry land now exist is proof that there is less water on our globe now than there was in its infancy. This animination of our supply of water is going on at the present day at a rate so rapid as to be clearly appreciable. The rivers and small streams of our Atlantic States are visibly smaller than they were twenty-five years ago. Country brooks, in which men now living were accustomed to fish and bathe in their boyhood, have in many cases totally disappeared, not through any act of man, but solely in consequence of the springs and rains which once fed them. The level of the great lakes is falling year by year. There are many piers on the shores of the lakeside cities which vessels once approached with ease, but which now hardly reach to the edge of the water. Harbours are everywhere growing shallower. This is not due to the gradual deposit of earth brought down by rivers or of refuse from city sewers. The harbour of Toronto has grown shallow in spite of the fact that it has been dredged out so that the bottom rock has been reached, and all the dredging which can be done to the harbour of New York will not permanently deepen it. The growing shallowness of the Hudson is more evident above Albany than it is in the side water region, and, like the outlet of Lake Champlain, which was once navigable by Indian canoes at all seasons, the upper Hudson is now almost bare of water in many places during the summer. In all other parts of the world there is the same steady decrease of water in rivers and lakes, and the rainfall in Europe, where scientific observations are made, is manifestly less than it was at a period within man's memory.

What is becoming of our water? Obviously it is not disappearing through evaporation, for in that case rains would give back whatever water the atmosphere might absorb. We must accept the theory that, like the water of the moon, our water is sinking into the earth's interior.

Padded Numbers

There can be no great harm in the Tory papers making the most they can of the Toronto Convention, but some degree of truth should govern their contentions. The Mail says there were 1,400 delegates present; and in telegrams to country Conservative papers the attendance was placed at 1,500! Mr. John Beaty, holding the certificates in his hand, announced to the gathering that there were actually 925 present. He apparently thought even that a large number, though nearly one half were from Toronto and York county.

The Fire Department.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to ask, through your paper, if the Chief of the Fire Department is merely a figurehead; or has he command or control of the fire apparatus and men under him? Is he responsible for the discipline and working of the Department? If so he should be placed on the same footing as the Chiefs of other cities; otherwise, I would say, do away with the position altogether and save the salary.

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN.

A Mute Evidence of Refinement: is a row of well polished teeth. People of vulgar instincts are very apt to neglect theirs. Cleanliness demands careful attention to the teeth, and experience indicates SOZODONT as the safest and surest means of retrieving their losses of beauty and vigor. It removes impurities upon and between them; imparts to soft or shrivelled gums the hardness and rosiness of coral; makes the breath fragrant and lends to feminine lips an additional charm.

SANE OR INSANE?

Issues Raised in the Guiteau Case—Experts at Work.

New York, Nov. 27.—The assassin's counsel and family state that the tone of letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more of sympathy with them in their efforts to save him from the gallows. Marshal Henry says the Guiteau trial will cost the Government not far short of $150,000.

Judge Cox said last night that he would do all in his power to preserve order in court and keep Guiteau quiet, but the Judge of a criminal Court had no warrant in law for restraining the prisoner on trial for life from making any lamentations he chose, except they amounted to actual violence to those around him. The assassin will be placed on the stand on Tuesday. He wants to tell his own story in his own way. He will say a great deal about his inspiration and about his political quarrels.

Scoville will probably claim, after Guiteau's story has been told, that the Government should prove the assassin sane. If he doesn't raise this point he will proceed, with expert witnesses, to prove his brother-in-law's insanity. The family of the accused expect a verdict of acquittal on the ground of insanity. If, however, the assassin be convicted of murder in the first degree Scoville will ask, and thinks he will obtain, a new trial. The Government's counsel expect a verdict of guilty. As indicated yesterday the experts in insanity went to the gaol and spent two hours with the prisoner, drawing from him the story of his life, which he gave very fully. Last evening the experts held a meeting and questioned Scoville. John W. Guiteau and Dr. Rice, who several years ago pronounced Guiteau insane. After this the experts remained in private consultation until a late hour.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The Gist of Various Telegrams on Various Themes.

The stock market was weak and lower this morning.

The first cutter out passed through the streets of London on Friday.

The New York Central RR. has recently contracted for 6,000 new freight cars, and the Pennsylvania Central for 3,100.

The Canada Pacific RR. land grant 5 per cent bonds have been placed on the market for sale by the Bank of Montreal at par.

Telegrams from Charlottetown, P.E.I., announce the suspension of the Bank of Prince Edward Island. The report says the Cashier has absconded.

Richard McCarthy, a well to do farmer of St. John, N.B., while temporarily insane committed suicide in the woods by shooting himself.

Over 50,000 canary birds are imported every year into this country. Breeders will try to have a tariff of $2 imposed upon each imported bird.

It is thought the French Government has been induced to remove the restrictions on the importation of American pork by the fear that the American Government might place restrictions on the importation of French wines.

The President is said to have finished his message. It is understood that while fully reviewing the events of the year it is meagre in recommendations, as might be expected considering the youth of the Administration.

DIPLOMATIC DIFFICULTY.

The Breeze in Government Circles Anent the South American Situation.

New York, Nov. 27.—The Times says the South American situation continues to attract much attention. From a remark by one of the most prominent members of the next House it is certain that the State Department will be called on for copies of instructions to Ministers Hurlburt and Kilpatrick and all the correspondence with them relating to the situation in Peru. It is expected that both these gentlemen will be recalled, though nothing definite is known about it. The chances appear to be that unless communications from South America require immediate public action the pending case will be deferred until the new Secretary of State has taken charge of his Department. Intelligent action cannot well be taken until the arrival of fuller information than the President now has. All that is necessary to relieve the Government from embarrassment in the matter is held to be the declaration that Hurlburt's instructions simply accredited him to the Government of Peru, not to any particular President.

Late Serious Gale

London, Nov. 29.—Forty persons, injured in the gale, are being treated at the London hospitals. It is feared that some will die. Fifty barges were sunk in the Thames. Extensive floods are reported at the Upper Thames Valley.

London, Nov. 27.—The steamer France, from New York from Havre, put into Cherburg on Sunday. She experienced terrible weather and sighted a large ship, dismasted, apparently abandoned. A French frigate was stranded near Lydd. Four persons were drowned. Several of the men of the steamer Sawates, at Falmouth, from Boston were disabled. The chief officer badly were injured. Numerous wrecks are reported, especially on the west coast. Four vessels are ashore near Corvann. Barks and schooners anchored off Margate, disappeared during the night. They are supposed to be wrecked.

A Crank's Conduct.

Washington, Nov. 27.—A crank registered at a hotel yesterday and said he wanted one of the best rooms in the house. He represented that he owned the entire city and had come to Washington to save the world. He said he was to ascertain the extent of Guiteau and could solve the Garfield problem. He was locked up.

Czar in Danger.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—It is rumored that Sankowsky's attempt to kill Gen. Tcheremne is connected with a general scheme to carry off the Czar and Imperial family. The greatest precautions are being taken to prevent the transmission of telegrams bearing on the conspiracy.

Sarah Bernhardt Stoned.

Odessa, Nov. 27.—A mob stoned Sarah Bernhardt's carriage as she was driving from the theatre on the ground that she was of Jewish descent. They also stoned the hotel and stopped the performance at the theatre.

Unavailing were the efforts of Mr. W. M. F. Quinlan, Superintendent of Glass Works, Crystal City, Mo., to cure himself of a most troublesome sore on his knee. One week's faithful use of St. Jacobs Oil cured him completely, much to his great comfort.

THINK

Of the thousands of young men in Canada who all contemplate a graveyard, or finish the remainder of their days in an asylum, the whole cause of which in most cases out of ten is indiscretion in early youth, and the result is Nervous Diseases, Spermatic Weakness, Involuntary Confession of Ideas, Want of Memory, &c. The only hope for a speedy and thorough cure is for the patient to immediately secure some of PROFESSOR L. O. FAUCHER'S GREAT NERVOUS REMEDY, which is prepared for the express purpose of curing the above complaints. For references or information concerning it, write to T. A. HATFIELD, Wallaceburg, Sole Agent for Canada. Nov. 26.
