Daily British Whig.

Oppifer per Orbem Diem.

The Liberals of West Northumberland have selected Dr. Waters, of Cobourg, as their candidate in the election for the seat vacated by the resignation of Hon J. Cockburn. The nomination will take place at Cobourg on the 12th, and the election will be held the following Monday, Dec. 19th.

Sir John Macdonald's intentions as to the next constituency he will honor are reported to be as multifarious and indefinite as his birthplace, which, at last accounts, had a famous geographical extent from Scotland at least to Kingston and Adolphustown. This city, Toronto, East York and Ottawa, are all mentioned as spots where he will rest his political head. The Premier is said to have openly chosen Ottawa. He will find the seat of Carriers 1,000 majority considerably safer than Kingston, once so faithful.

The Guiteau trial has ceased to be entertaining and become in its details positively wearisome. We have tired of the daily report so largely made up of the prisoner's insipid nonsense, an indulgence in which has been encouraged by the defence, as tending to show his insanity. Crank though he may be his own evidence, so free of contradiction and so calculated after all to display the shrewdness of the man, should convince the jury that he knew what he was about when he shot the late President, and is fully responsible for the act. The plea that he was inspired by the Deity will not likely have much weight with the jury before whom he has paraded his wit for so many days. American justice is not always dispensed with the severity which characterizes the British courts, but in the Guiteau case it is altogether probable that the prisoner will not escape the capital punishment which is his due.

Again improvements are being made at Rideau Hall. The gubernatorial seat has a remarkable capacity for improvement. Its susceptibility upon this point will inspire even our local contemporary, we are sure, with a sense of powerful rivalry. While the hall is being "altered to fits," however, to slow and doleful music from the taxpayer, there are a number of people made very happy, not only the contractors who are growing so fat upon extras as to give visions of a future growth of Canadian millionaires, but the people of Ottawa as a body. The work is a tangible evidence of the return of the Princess and the opening of a round of sessional festivities. Already a large number of wealthy people from the United States are engaging quarters at the capital in anticipation of a lively social whirl. Republicans who professedly detest courts and their pomp and glitter are the first to rally around our feeble imitation of a court. We very glad to welcome them, and could stand a deal more ceremony if it would increase their number.

Sir Hector Langevin's inspection of Kingston harbor was not merely a fine holiday parade we are pleased to learn. It has apparently convinced him of the importance of the link it forms in the chain of Canadian navigation; at the same time it has impressed him with the urgency of the work of improvement. The two large shoals are to receive his early attention, Mr. Perley, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department having been authorized to begin examinations and soundings in the harbor as soon as the ice bridge has been formed. We do not quite see the necessity of this expenditure, when such admirable charts are already in the possession of the Government through the surveys of Mr. Innes and the Harbor Master; but if it will inspire or assist the Government to secure the necessary grant for active work next season we will heartily join in the applause of our Conservative friends, who will feel less embarrassment when their party has at last done something for its once devoted strong hold.

THE QUEBEC ROUT.

Rarely has a Quebec provincial election excited so little attention as did Chapleau's Sedan of Friday last. Probably the sweeping victory was generally anticipated, owing to the utter absence of Liberal organization. The chief interest centred here, at any rate, on the question of majority, and while the figures at length surprised both parties they were after all but the verification of a foregone conclusion, and created the merest ripple of excitement. Provincially Quebec and Ontario are singular analogies. Nothing succeeds like success, truly. The dominant parties are gathering strength and determination with years, while the oppositions are losing not only in numbers but in force of individual character as well. Strong men are leaving their ranks unsatisfied and discouraged. On the one hand Mr. Meredith stands alone as a man above mediocrity in the Ontario opposition; upon the other Mr. Joly and M. Mercier had to be dragged back to service literally by neck and crop, and the Liberals also went to battle with their passive support but utterly devoid of leadership. An undisciplined army placed at the mercy of an entrenched force, lead by church and state, could not hope to emerge from the conflict in any but a shattered form. It is unfortunate for Quebec that such is her internal conditions. A strong healthy opposition would have been of incalculable value to her for a few years while recruiting her financial strength.

A REVENUE TARIFF.—The famed Henry Watterson defines what a "tariff for revenue only" means: "The adjustment of the customs list to produce the greatest revenue to the Government, at the least cost to the people, and its advocates not only contend, but they show that this 'incidentally' furnishes the native manufacturer all the 'protection' any fair minded men should ask."

Hon. Mr. Blake's Nationality.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

DEAR SIR,—Can you tell me what the Hon. Mr. Blake's nationality is? It was a matter of dispute last evening between several persons.

Yours, very truly,
PATRICK C——.

Dec. 4th, 1881.

The Hon. E. Blake is a native Canadian, being born near London, Ont. He is the eldest son of the late Hon. W. H. Blake, a distinguished jurist of Upper Canada, who sat in the Canadian Assemblage from 1847 to 1849. His grandfather was late Rev. Dominick Edward Blake, (of the family of Blake Castlegreve, Galway,) Rector of Kiltegan and of Loughbrickland. His mother was Catharine Hume, grand-daughter of William Hume, Esq., of Humewood, M.P., for Wicklow, in the British House of Commons.]

DON'T.—Young man don't turn up your elegant snobbish nose at your mother, if she does talk a little unkindly to your cigarette smoking innate ways. She has watched you very closely from the day the light was too bright for your eyes, and it pains her heart to see you blooming out into a swell idiot.—[New Haven Register.

"I have had St. Jacobs Oil in my family—my wife using it for pains in her back, my children for stiffness of the neck, and myself for my feet, which were frozen—and I must admit that it is the best remedy for bodily ailments I have ever used," writes Mr. Wm. Roberts, Ave. L and 32d st. Galveston, Texas.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A Farmer Returning Home From Napanee is Relieved of $81.

A daring highway robbery was perpetrated on the night of Nov. 10th, inside the town limits, the particulars of which only came to light on Tuesday last. Mr. John J. Wagar, of Enterprise, was returning home from Napanee about ten o'clock on the same night, in company with Albert Outerkirk, and when passing the high school building in Napanee two men jumped into the waggon. One grasped Outerkirk by the neck and drew him off the seat into the back of the waggon where he pinned him down by placing his knee on his neck. The other fellow struck Mr. Wagar a blow on the head with a club which felled him from the seat. The villain then tore open Mr. Wagar's pantaloon's pocket and took therefrom a wallet containing $81 in bills and two receipts, one for $200 and the other for $86. The robbers, as soon as they got possession of the wallet, took to their heels and made good their escape before the affrighted parties in the waggon could give the alarm. Thinking that it would be too late to attempt to catch the thieves Mr. Wagar drove on home without stopping to get the assistance of the police. He has given the money up for lost. His assailant was a low set man with a heavy moustache and wearing dark clothes. The other was tall and slim and also had a moustache. Mr. Wagar thinks he would be able to recognize the robbers if he should ever see them again, in which case he threatens to make it hot for them. The money was partly the proceeds of a load of barley sold that day and partly what was left of $200 which he brought to town to make a payment on some lands he recently purchased. One of the receipts in the wallet was for the payment he had made that day. It does not speak well for the peace of the town that an outrage such as this should have been perpetrated within a stone throw of the principle thoroughfare.—Express.

Royal Military Squabble.

If the College at Kingston is to give military instruction, it is evidently desirable that that instruction should be, not merely good of its kind, but the best attainable. To assert that we have good and efficient officers in Canada, capable of giving instruction in military matters, is beside the question. No one denies that. What is really at issue is, Are they the best that can be had under the circumstances, or can we get better ones? If we can we plainly ought to do it, that is, on the supposition that we are going to give a military education at all.

The battle, as it stands, is an unfair one, and a most ungenerous advantage is taken of Col. Hewitt, whose tongue is tied, and who is exposed to the malice of hosts of anonymous scribblers in the press. If he has been in the wrong, if he does not worthily fill the place he occupies, the proper course to take is to insist on a government enquiry, and, until that is at an end to, refrain from attempts to bias public opinion in the press. It is an abuse of the liberty allowed to correspondents to permit such attacks as have been made, to appear against any man under the shelter of nom de plume; it is doubly an abuse when the victim is debarred by his position, and by the etiquette of his profession, from noticing these attacks and defending himself.—St. John's (P. Q.) News.

Rev. Mr. Young's Lecture.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

SIR,—Allow me space in the WHIG to say that the people of Inverary were favoured with a lecture in the M. E. Church last night. Rev. Joseph Young delivered his celebrated lecture "True Manhood" to a delighted audience. His lecture was said to be the best ever given in this place. The rev. gentleman is sure of a full house if he should ever visit us Again. The chair was very ably filled by Mr. Walker, the Reeve of the township. The M.E. friends are anticipating a good time at their annual tea meeting which comes off on Monday evening Dec. 26th.

Come out, Mr. Editor, and enjoy with us the "feast of fat things."

Yours, etc.,

RAILWAY MONOPOLY.

Canada Pacific Syndicate Gobbling Up the Various Railway Lines—Bold Move.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—The Telegram of to-day contains the following. The reported attainment of the Credit Valley RR. by the Great Western is only putting the cart before the horse, and is an incident in railway consolidation outrivalling the most ambitious movements of Gould or Vanderbilt, being an operation whereby Canada is left with practically only two railway systems. Some time ago the Canadian Pacific Railway Company quietly secured the control of the Credit Valley RR., though this is announced now for the first time. This railway runs through from Toronto to St. Thomas, where it connects with the Canada Southern and for a great part of the way through a county tributary in a measure to the Grand Trunk. The Canadian Pacific Railway has also of the Toronto, Grey & Bruce Railway, the guage of which was changed on Saturday to the standard. Now the Credit Valley have by some means presumably through the agency of Vice-President Duler who is now in England, secured control of the Great Western Railway which control will be transferred to the Credit Valley's masters, the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Hendrie, of Hamilton, lately secured the control of the Northern & Northwestern Railway, but for what purpose no one then could comprehend. It is now said that he was merely the agent of the Canada Pacific Company, which has thus consolidated every important provincial line except the Grand Trunk in the peninsula of Ontario. The Northern & North Western Railway will be extended to Sault Ste Marie, where it will join the Canada Central extension now a part of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Canadian Pacific RR. will then run one line close along the northern shore of Lake Superior to conform with the syndicate bargain, and one on the lake shore, which will join the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway, belonging to the same Syndicate of capitalists. Thus the Syndicate

CONTROL THE ENTIRE TRADE

of the fertile wheat belt lying north of the 45th parallel of latitude, but to utilize these and their Ontario acquisitions the Canadian Pacific Railway need a supplemental line south of the Canada Central and so have secured the control of the charter of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway now being surveyed. In all probability they will acquire several feeding lines now owned by the Grand Trunk. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have also acquired the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Occidental Railway, by which they will have access to Montreal, and it is quite possible will build a still shorter line. The effect of

will be to make practically only two Canadian lines, throwing the Grand Trunk in closer relation with the American lines. It is more than likely, however, that the Canadian Pacific Co. will secure the absolute control of access for themselves to Chicago. What the end will be it is difficult to forecast, but with their tremendous command of capital our informant seems to think that the Canada Pacific Co. will be able to compel the Grand Trunk to seek amalgamation, thus leaving Canada completely under the thumb of the gigantic monopoly.

Political Notes.

New York, Dec. 3.—The Sun's Washington says there is a decided change apparent in the Speakership contest. No Stalwart element is coming to the front in Kiefer's interest.

The World's Washington says it is understood that the Government will insist upon the conclusion of an early peace between Chili and Peru without dismemberment of the latter and in terms just and fair to the former.

The Herald say W. H. Prescott and Walter Blaine, the Commissioners selected by the President to visit Lima and Valparaiso respectively, in regard to the conduct of Hurlburt & Kilpatrick, sailed from New York to-day. It is understood that at the conference at the President's residence it was decided to sustain the action of the Minister to Peru. This would appear to confirm the report that neither of the Ministers would be recalled.

An Embezzler Arrested.

St. John, N.B., Dec. 3.—Charles E. Furlonge, of the Bank of British North America, was reported in the last despatch as having left town with the police in pursuit. He was captured on board the night train going west and brought back to town early this morning. He had driven out the mail road and boarded the train at Sutton's Mills. The warrant on which he was arrested charged him with embezzling a cheque for $1,500. This morning he and Lewin were brought before the Police Magistrate. Lewin pleaded not guilty; Furlonge said nothing. Both prisoners were remanded till to-morrow.

Montreal Sensation.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—The police have been unable so far to get any clue to the party who left the infernal machine at the Court House. The machinery by which the instrument is operated has been removed, but so far no mechanic can be found to open the machine. From the smell emitted it is believed to contain nitro-glycerine and dynamite powder. All sorts of conjectures are afloat as to the object the parties had in blowing up the Court House. There is no absolute certainty yet as to the contents of the machine.

Opening of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The House galleries were filled with spectators. On the floor the members indulged in cordial hand shaking and greetings. At noon, Clerk Adams called the House to order. He then called the roll, which showed 290 of a representation to be present, and four absentees. Keifer was nominated for Speaker by Robeson. 285 votes were cast, necessary for a choice, 143; for Keefer, 148; Randall, 129; Ford, 8

A Desperate Man.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—This morning Frank Barke killed his young son by cutting his throat with a butcher knife. He then cut a gash on his own throat, and stabbed himself several times in the stomach. The wounds are not necessarily fatal. Barke has been out of employment and despondent.

Charged with Smuggling.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—There was considerable excitement in Prescott on Saturday evening over the seizure of smuggled coal oil. Inland Revenue officers Geralds and Belamy, who had 76 persons arrested for purchasing the oil, were burned in effigy.

A Queer Case.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—At the police court to-day a man named Jerome Plouffe was sentenced to one year's imprisonment for the larceny of a pair of pants owned by a man named Paul Cason, of Montreal, with whose wife he had eloped.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

The Refusal of the People to Pay Rent—Mr Parnell's Arrest a Blunder

New York, Dec. 5.—The Herald's Dublin says it is generally believed that the present crisis is the most important of the whole land movement, for the people thus far have successfully resisted all the strength of coercion. It is a startling fact and the tenants have no intention of paying them without heavy reductions, which the landlords refuse. The Land Court are so slow to act that as yet there is no remedy whatever for the troubles. The Government did not expect this delay, believing that after a few decisions the landlords and the tenants would settle between themselves. The country is experiencing a reign of terror. In the Eastern counties the Assizes have begun and a Judge spoke of the great increase in crime. The opinion that Parnell's arrest was a mistake is being every day vindicated.

Dublin, Dec. 5.—Six hundred of the Duke of Devonshire's tenants have decided not to pay their rents except with a reduction of 20 per cent.

Shock of Earthquake.

Huntingdon, Que., Dec. 4.—At 6.37 p.m. a slight but very distinct shock of earthquake passed over this place, going from West to East.
