(Cincinnati Commercial.) Baltimore, 2nd.-The residents of Upper Marlborough, a quiet little town in Prince George's County, almost under the shadow of the national Capitol, are discussing a society sensation in the matrimonial line. The interested persons are members of two of the oldest Maryland families, one of them being a distant relative of ex-Governor Bowie, and the other a grand-daughter of Charles Hill, who was, in his day, reputed to The highest and only medals of merit given for be the wealthiest man in Washington, who was one of the leaders of society at the Capitol. From the first settlement of Prince George's County the oldest families have inter-married, in spite of their Catholic faith and the violation of the Use them in my practice.

Accordingly invitations plasters. were issued to the clite of the county to attend the wedding, at the residence of the bride, near Marlborough. The contracting parties are second cousins, but the frequency of such unions precluded comment upon the proposed marriage. In accordance with the custom, however, permission for the celebration of the wedding of the cousins was asked from the Archbishop of this Diocese. Without waiting for a reply, the preparations for asspecially recommended for the following the event were made, and the formal application was soon forgotten. The Rheumatism, Lame and Weak Back, wedding day came and the guests assembled. At the appointed hour the feeling tones the priest, instead of reading he had just received orders from Aichbathop Gibbons to refuse his consent to the union. A painful scene followed, and the party broke up, leaving the disap pointed couple deeply mortified and grieved. They are determined to be un-
