We are glad to see that the Liberals of East Hastings have not lost heart because it was out of the question for Mr. Aylesworth, who so nobly redeemed the since the depression set in. Not only constituency last September, but who was are there more business wrecks than chested by Tery intrigue out of the fruits ever, but scores and hundreds of those of his triumph, again to carry the stand- | who were sanguine of weathering the gale ard of Referm. The London Advertiser notes the annonneement of a Tory organ that "retrenchment and economy" is to be the Conservative watchword at the ensuing election for the Ontario Legislature. Our contemporary says it will prove "as big a fraud as was the National Policy cry. It certainly will, but not by any means so big a success. The people may consent to be duped by wholesale, but not while the N P sell is so fresh in the public memory. Burntchildren dread the fire, and the electors of Canada on the same principle will for a while fight shy of Tory "watchwords." Verdent as they proved to be in bulting the Protection bait they are not so stark crazy as to blame the Government for spending the public money on the people from whom it was originally

The commercial journals are very properly s unding a warning against the in discriminate whitewashing of intending insolvents. The Journal of Commerce lately cited a case in which the candidate for bankruptcy wished to pay 50 cents on she dollar, but whose assets were $30,000 as against $12,600 of liabilities. In this instance the assignee very properly advised against the assignment. It is the worst of this Insolvent Act that while it | med with black lace and studded with is very necessary for the relief of honest but unfortunate traders beset with insuperable difficulties, it also affords opportunity for what we may mildly term 'questionable advantage' to designing sharpers. Wherever there is the ability to pay just the law should be so framed as to enforce payment instead of affording facilities for the evasion of legitimate obligations. The new army of official assignees, by discouraging fraudulent insolvency, wil best justify their own appointment, although we have our fears that such will not be the happy effect of the indefinite increase in the number of these interest ing officials.

It has for some time been rumoured that Hon. Senator Skead, of Ottawa would not again take his seat in the Senate, owing to financial difficulties which overtook him last fall, resulting in his insolvency. Had the Liberal Government then in power pressed his misfortune against him he would have had no option but to vacate his seat. The ministry of the day, however, were more magnanimous than thus to treat a fallen opponent. On the contrary they not only permitted but encouraged him to retain his position pending the adjustment of his business affairs. All uncertainty as to whether or not he will resume his seat in the Senate has been set at rest by his refusal to preside at the Lumbermen's Convention, for the reason that he should have to consider their memorial in his capacity as Sonator when it came up for Parliamentary consideration. We are glad to note the intimation of the Hon. stleman's restoration, and we hope our Tory friends will not ungratefully forget how much they are indebted in the case to the generous action of a Liberal

THE MEN OF PROMISE.

National Policy and all, it is quite patent to everybody that business is not improving in Canada There are signs of improvement in the United States, but in the Dominion where is the promise of its coming? Parliament long delayed has beer really opened fast, after a most ... reary and unnecessary delay, and something must now be done by the National Promisers to appears the expectations they have themselves excited. What scheme may now be extorted from them by the people's repre sentations, and public expectations, must soon be known, but meanwhile where is the interim prosperity which all were led to expect would spring spontaneously from the coundence that was to be in spired by Tory restoration? Did not Sir. John Macdonald time and again assure the people -in political pic-nics assembled-that the bare fact of his return to power would be the signal for the resumpion of full blast industry, and of commercial activity? An impetus was to be given to the sluggish circulation of money, and the agriculturists were to be instantly benefited by the all-prospering regime. All this has so far come to nought, The country, so far from one whit bettered by the change of Government is immeasurably worse than ever And the party of empty promises and false pretences seem to recognize this fact by the appointment, almost daily, of fresh batches of those commercial undertakers, the official assignees, to wind up the constantly increasing number of defunct concerns. Business is worse - much worse-at the present moment in Western Ontario than it has been at any stage opponents undeservedly derived all the incidental benefit of it. When Tory re. presentations and predictions have been belied by the facts, however, it becomes our duty to lay bare the double-dealing which has traded upon the public misfor-
