SWEARING ON THE STREETS.-It is a lam entable fact that many boys, young men, and even old men, are addicted to the evil and demoralizing habit of swearing and blaspheming. It is not always done in the heat of passion, nor under extraordinary circumstances, but in the most simple and ordinary conversation oaths and curses are mixed up in a terrible manner. The police authorities should take the matter in hand, as they are doing in other places, and enforce the by-law prohibiting loud swearing and the use of obscene language on the streets. Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Last night the audience at the Opera House was not so large as it should have been, considering the popularity of the play, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' which the Lottie Combination produced so excellently. The drama is known to all theatrewas a remarkable character, which was made so interesting as to become the centre of attraction. The traits of the wicked girl that 'growed' and never was born were pourtrayed in a manner scarcely to be expected. The support was good, two or three of the Company taking dual positions with infinite credit. The performance of little 'Eva' was much appreciated, and the scenes in which she and Uncle Tom appear under the influence of religious feryour, and the earth ly end of the career of both, brought tears to the eyes of many who are given to lacifrymosal exhibitions. together the performance was of a pleasing nature, and gave satisfaction to those who witnessed it.
