St. George's Society. - Monthly Meeting at

The Lennox "forgery" squib has been dignified by a Parliamentary discussion. Mr. Grange thought, doubtless, to manufacture a little cheap capital in his favor, by moving for the official correspondence connected with the trial and acquittal of Mr. Scott, of the Napanee Express, for publishing a burlesque address over the purported signature of Mr. Hooper, at convict the Government of letting Mr. Scott through the meshes of the law proved a signal and ludicrous failure. Hon. Mr. Mowat reminded the move of the resolution that the case had been discharged as a most frivolous one by Judge Galt, while Mr. Deroche gave some humorous details from local sources which showed clearly enough that the prosecution was nothing short of an election dodge on the part of Mr. Hooper Mr. Grange got well laughed at for his

The vacancy will be filled, the Cabinet meet the House with a solid front, and we firmly believe will be sus tained by a fair majority. The action of the courts in contested elections will o itself prove the preventive of a dead-lock ere the House meets. Hon. M. Joly has been unremitting in his arduous deviction to the duties of his position and the interests of his province during the parliamentary, recess, and the growing esteem in which he is deservedly held outside the House will be sure to find reflection in a fair working majority within. THE MONTREAL MAYORALTY.

The defeat of Mayor Beaudry, of Montreal, is not without its significance. It is not only an expression of non-confidence in his civic administration and disapproval of the course he saw fit to take in reference to the Orange troubles, but THIS COMPANY has been doing business in Canada for 55 years and his secured the public confidence by prompt and liberal settlement of every just claim. Canadian policy holders are secured by deposit of $50,000 with the Government at Ottawa.

The Policies are written at this Agency and paid on terms as favourable as any other first class Company. shall, if possible, be restored. Whether this will be the result remains to be proved, but that such is the intention there can be no manner of doubt. That Mayor Beaudry acted fairly and impartially as between the contending factions few will affirm, and none will believe

His conduct, indeed, was partizan in the extreme, and the violent breaches he had made in the neutrality of position rendered it entirely out question that the people of Montreal could ever again have anything like a united confidence in his administration. To have continued him in his office would only have been to keep open, in fact to widen, the breach between the conflicting sections of the people of Montreal. His re-election would have been a mortifying menace to one of these, and a dangerous incitement and encouragement to the other. The fact that Mr. Beaudry took sides at all in the unfortunate quarrel, rendered it impossible that the dispute could ever be amicably adjusted while he remained first magistrate of the city. Conscious, indeed, that his strongest chance of re-election lay in the perpetuation of bad feeling, he sought to fan the time the opposing candidate to Hon. sfresh the embers of strife by a bid for

Mr. Cartwright. This petty attempt to the support of the party he had favored. He only desired re-election, he said, that he might the better defeud himself against expectant suits from the Orangemen he had imprisoned. But the selfrespecting citizens of Montreal, regardless of creed, determined not to permit a long er continuance of the quarrel in which Mr. Beaudry had taken so active a part, and very properly denied him the official opportunity to perpetuate the animosities that have too long been rife in that city. We venture the statement that the election of Major-elect Rivard is an agreeable surprise to the great mass of the Canadian people. It is strictly speaking a victory for neither faction, but simply the triumph of the peace-loving law-abiding people of Montreal, who were determined that partizanship should be rebuked and that faction should be put down. The Mayorelect is doubtless a French Canadian Roman Catholic, and quite as good a one as Mr. Beaudry whom he has beaten, in. deed a much better one, inasmuch as he has constituted himself the champion of law and order as against riot and faction and has won the civic battle on this very issue. Now that Mr. Beaudry, who had rendered himself so obnoxious to the peace loving people or Montreal, has been quietly put out of the way an opportunity is afforded to all those who have been the memory of the past by promoting the parties to the Orange-green riots to return to their senses and henceforth to efface public tranquility.
