Recently the Hon, Senator Alexander expressed his astonishment that the pres of the country betrayed so little interest in the proceedings of the Senate, although that august body of retired poli ticians cost the country such a good round oum every year. We may remark that the mera expensiveness of the Senate is not itself a sufficient reason for incurring the additional expense of reporting its drowsy proceedings. The expense of the "Lords" coupled, we beg pardon, with their public usefulness (!) would rather be an argument for the abolition of the Upper Chamber than a reason for according their proceedings greater -publicity. they were an elective and therefore a representative body like the Commons, the people would want to know what they were doing, and the press would not be slow in that case to supply the popular

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser remarks that the resumption of specie payments has sealed the fate of the U. S Greenbacks and that a return to better times will generally prove fatal to all those parties and ories which owe their origin to the depression. All this seems reasonable and natural. With us Canadians, however, the case is different Here the Greenback or 'rag money' party is taking form when the force of the de pression is spent and when there is the least excuse for a fictitious currency. to the sbatement of party nostrums for our commercial ailments, when the latter taken in the morning and a totally differshall disappear why the least and first encouraging symptom in our industria condition will be eagerly seized upon by the Charlatan chieftain as a proud vindication and recommendation of his remedy with those tax payers who think the and he will be ready with his chuckle 'I told you so' on the very first symp tome of improvement. The return batter times just now, judging from recent proofs of credulity, would confirm Canadian infatuation in reference to the twi frauds of a protectionist policy and national currency.

Except in the interest of piano and other instrument manufacturers, who are anxious by this means to brighten the tone, there is no valid apology for the abourd tension to which "concert pitch" has been raised in England and America The standard is now considerably higher than it was in Handel's time, thus making the rendering of that immortal come | 1879 :poser's productions higher and more difficult than he ever intended them to be Throughout his whole career has Sim Reeves, also, the worldsfamous Englis tenor, not only resisted the upward ten dency of the pitch, but has fought for it reduction at least to the French stand ard. The latter is a full semi-tone below that of the British and American. It worthy of note, in this connection, the the celebrated Strakosch Italian Open Company, including such stars as Misse Kellogg, Careyland Litta, employ the French pitch in all their performances and thus set an example which might be imitated with profit by musical communities elsewhere. The reduction of cour cert pitch at least a semi-tone would be at once a great relief and a decided im-

POLITICS AND TRADE.

How apropos to Canadian affairs are these words of an American exchange in reference to the coming session of Congress : "Business affairs are not in condition at this time to be trifled with by a lot of politicians, and the man or party that embarrasses trade by a useless political agitation, will be held to strict accountability. The country wants peace and quietude, and not political excitement at this time." Remarking, en passant, that from the frequency of elections on the other side, political peace and quietude, no matter how much needed, are well-nigh unattainable, we draw particular attention to the scathing rebuke administered in the above excerpt to the Tory demagegues who trifled not only with our business affairs but with the hardships and the hopes of the people in reference thereto, for the purpose of manufacturing political capital and research of manufacturing political capital and research overing political power. They are, even at the present moment, "ombarrassing trade" by keeping the long promised protective tariff as long as possible under sover, thus placing the people, whose ministers, the same as last year, amounts support they won with specious and unged edge of uncertainty in regard to the future. Truly will the electors hold their and the fulfilment of Tory promises is Canal Carilles Lee The country has been duped and sold, being barefacedly delayed in the hope that the return of general prosperity may aid in the apparent realization of omises. Good times will return thout a doubt, and many think both in the States and Canada we are on the eve of the prosperous era. But a prohithat better day. For this our crafty that can be administered. It not only thoroughly cleaness the system, but at of this action, because it struck at Conto have wished for night or Blucher. The prediction that immediate presently assess of chronic constipation, or a stopwould result from the accession to power of the Chieftain and his party has already been balled, and the last remaining forlors hope is that by delaying to the last possible moment the introduction of the last possible moment of the last possible mome of the 'National Policy' prosperity, which will come whather or reserved it or its unbe the result of the Tory tinkering at the tariff. The people of Canada, howlevers in the officacy of each a policy, Bay. are now convinced of the thorn of the fraud, and will call its perpetrators to account on the first opportunity.

The question of shorter hours for pusiderable public attention. What they are proposing to do elsowhere is of the action taken by our local Board in the same matter. In a recent educational address at Hamilton Mr. Buchan, High School Inspector, suggested the teaching of the junior papils in two relays per day, o'clock, and the other from 2 to 5.

one batch to come on from 9 till 12 same teacher to be employed for both morning and afternoon sessions. This plan might work passibly well for the pupils though we are far from sure that t would ever become popular with the teachers. For the latter the school hours would remain as long as ever while continuity of personal interest, as between eachers and pupils, would certainly be broken by the complete change of class material, as between morning and afternoon. We are aware that the unabridged length of the school day for teachers would not be regarded as an unmixed evil by many trustees as well as by some other self-constituted patrons of the poor pedagogue, but, on his behalf-or rather on her's for the vast majority of teachers are ladies -- we submit the plea that six hours make a plenty long enough school day and that a conscientious teacher can go home just as wearied, and in fact exhausted, after a six hours day as a daylaborer does at the close of his ten hours nanual toil. Of this there need be doubt as any one who has tried both will readily admit. We will not be understood as condemning Mr. Buchan's scheme untried. In fact we should like course by a brief intermission. and a shorten the daily school imprisonment of the documents which have been submitthe younger children we would very this plan of "teaching by relays" popu lar, and that is that one teacher could

Against Church Gambling.

In announcing a church fair for the benefit of a mission, Henry Ward Beecher made this wholesome deliverance: There will be no gambling, latent obvious, and no undue solicitation. T lips of beauty can be better employed than in persuading unwilling people to buy what they don't want. There will be no overcharging, and no cheating making change. Gambling, lying cheating are worse in a church fair anywhere else. They are infamous, and ought to be scourged out of the churches as Christ with a whip drove the sellers of ogen and doves and the changers of Candidature of East 2 oronto- money out of the temple.
