HOUSE OF COMMONS. DISCUSSION OF THE TARIFF DEBATE.

In the House of Commons yesterday, number of petitions praying for the repeal of the dury on printing material, presses, etc., were presented. The debate on the tariff was resumed by Mr. Casey, who, criticised the false pretences and deceptive promises on which Mr. Grant was elected to power. and the policy which threatened to prove rumous to the industries of the Do-

In considering the duty on sugar he argued that the entailed cost on the people of Canada | THE SUMMER IERM will commence (D V) for the pleasure of refining their own sugar would be fully $1,000,000 per annum. The Finance Minister had made no attempt to remedy the duty of 224 cents on a barrel of flour, less than the duty on the wheat requisite to make it. and thus discriminated against the Canadian millers. Referring to the tariff generally, he said it would tax the people of the country fourfold for every dollar received into the Treasury, and would only serve to establish a few factories and give employment to a few thousand employees. Whether the Finance Minister intended it or not, there was no doubt that he had taken a long step towards causing England to seriously consider whether she should any longer contribute | WILL be Let or sold, the BRICK SHOP to the expense of Canada's defence, espe- and residence on the corner of Barrie cially as Canada had deliberately closed and Earl Street, now occupied as a Groher markets to the Mother Country. squares of the city. Bound hand and foot, the victim of despotic power was seated in the centre of the platform. An immense concourse of people had gathered to witness the strange spectacle. The imperial provest, the magistrate, the physician and the surgeon of the Czar were in attendance. The obnoxious book had been separated from its binding, and as an act of grace the margin had been cut off. The leaves were taken rolled up. not unlike eigar-lighters. Amid roars of laughter from the ignorant and degraded p pulace, the provost served the author leaf by leaf with his own production, putting the rolls of paper one by one into his mouth. He slowly chewed and swallowed one-third of his book, when the medical gentleman concluded he had received into his stomach as much of the ignatritions material as was compatible with safety. He was then reconduct & to his cell to digest his meal. The two following days the same scene was enacted, until every leaf was swallowed, and as a matter of fact he was compelled to literally eat his own words and feast on his own fun.
