CHURCH MATTERS. -"Another Outsider" has written a communication this paper, for which we have not the space to-day. There seems to be a cot troversial feeling rising which we hope may not be anything but good-natured Biscuit Makers and void of serious results.

> MUSICAL TREAT. - Our readers should note the Concert for which the Oddfele lows are perfecting arrangements. The last event of the kind was a great success, and the coming entertainment will be worthy of the fullest support which an appreciative public can accord it. Bear the date in mind-the 21st.

COMPLIMENT. - As an evidence of the Ward's popularity we can only quote the remark of a lady who dropped into our office yesterday. She had, on account of the times, discontinued it about two weeks ago, but yesterday she came in and said "Send the paper on again, we cannot do without it." And there are many others who say the same.

BRAUTIFUL SIMILES .- Electricity has three properties, light, strength and motion. This is a simile to the following The Blessed Trinity is composed of the en Wellington St. at present occupied by Mrs Father, Son and Holy Ghost. To the Egan and J. Meagher, Esq. THE ADJOURNMENT. -The City Council last evening very properly decided to adjourn in consequence of the death of the City Treasurer, and arrangements were made to attend Mr. Ireland's funeral to-day in a body. The only item of business transacted was the appointment of Mr. F. Ireland to the place so lamentably vacated by the death of his father.

MR. TAYLOR'S MONEY .- Mr. William Taylor showed us this morning a note which purported to be signed by him, promising to do certain things at the expiration of three months. It is unnecessary to say that Mr. Taylor signed no note that he knows of, but that a fraud of some kind has been attempted. The lawyers don't seem inclined to pay him the $2,000 they say they got for him.

> THE WAGES QUENTION .- Last week, according to the Mail, a certain local manufacturer gave the opinion that the wages of mechanics were on the rise. On Saturday night we are informed that he gave an emphatic contraction to his own belief and theory by reducing the wages of certain of his workmen 15 per cent. That's protection for you.

SAVED. - The Street Railway horse which ran across the ice yesterday was reported to be safe, but it had a narrow escape after all. In the channel between Snake Island light house and Simcoe Island it broke in, and would have been drowning had not Mr. A. Briggs went out and, fastening a boat hook in his halter, kept him affoat until assistance was rendered by a Mr. Ors. Altogether it was a remarkable stampede.

THE BRITISH SERVICE .- A return has been made to Canadian Parliament shewing the names of the persons who volunrecred to serve the Imperial Government should war between England and Russia take place. In this list we find the name of Col. Kirkpatrick, who offered the services of the $7th Batt., while Lt.-Ool. Howitt, Military College, Major Smith, 47th Batt., and Lt. Col. Fowler, late 78th, offered their aid personally.

ESCAPED. - About 9 o'clock this mechng as a lunatic named Joseph Kenny was freed at Rockwood Asylum to carry in some wood for the baker, he made good his escape. He was tracked as far as the street railway stables; and then the officers in pursuit could learn nothing further of him. He cast away his sphere and for its own purposes it is a bare or stocking feet, ile came from for about two years.
