WEDNESDAY EV'NG, APRIL 16, 79.

There is quite a similarity between the situation in Egypt and that of Quebec. The Turkish Sultan has summoned the Khedive of Egypt to reinstate his dismissed ministers else his dynasty will be deposed, himself, of course, included. Were Governor Letellier to dismiss Mr. Joly and recall DeBoucherville, all might yet be right. His Honor's real offence consists in having given the electors of Quebec a chance to repudiate the Tory corruptionists and tyrants who misrepresented and misgoverned them; an opportunity which they eagerly embraced by sustaining Joly and his Liberal Cabinet in a Province essentially Conservative. Unable to punish the people of Quebec for the ejection of DeBoucherville, the Tory tyrants of the Dominion Parliament are prostituting the power lent them for an entirely different purpose to vent their vengeance on the devoted head of the Lieutenant Governor. They may for the moment seem to succeed in their vindictive purpose, but a day of reckoning will return, when their own tyranny shall recoil in disgrace and disaster upon themselves.

So Mr. Morris is shaking the dust of ungrateful Lanark from his indignant feet. N[illegible]vously dubious anent the une[illegible]s of his seat for East Toronto alingly to his old Riding of Lanark to r[illegible]ome him from pending political extinction. Forgotful, however, of all former ties and strangely blind to the honor of representation by one but lately perched upon that dizzy pinnacle, the Lieutenant Governorship of the prairie province, the ungrateful men of Lanark declined to nominate him and preferred before him a local rival quite unknown to fame. Thereupon Mr. Morris, exercising a sort of Hobson's choice, accepted the Tory nomination for East Toronto. At once to punish Lanark and to cajole the Queen city the defeated of Selkirk is now moving his family and effects, bag and baggage, to Toronto, that peradventure by these means he may propitiate enough support again to win his present seat if only by the skin of his teeth as he did before. 'Residence' will now no doubt be his strong card, but grim defeat will sternly stare him in the face for all that. East Toronto is said to be keenly disappointed in the political shabby-gentility of the Ex-Lieutenant Governor, and will be almost certain to replace him with one of her own ligitimate sons and citizens.

CLERICAL INTOLERANCE.

We heartily endorse the strictures of our local contemporary upon the clerical bigotry and assumption that would invade with intolerance the sacred precincts of the grave, and deny not only the rites, but the right of Christian burial to dead dissenters, and refuse the consolations of religion to bereaved survivors. It may seem rather far-fetched to comment at all upon an incident so distant as the one in question, but when such clerical tyranny evokes an advocacy in our own midst it becomes necessary to join in the protest against so cruel a denial of the privileges of a christianity whose crowning glory is that it is as free as air to all. Such ecclesiastical domination is bad enough in England, but there these abuses have grown hoary with the centuries, and may seem to be justified, or at least palliated, by the fact of the "Establishment." In this country, however, where Church and State are permanently divorced; where, in the Old Land sense, there are neither Churchmen nor Dissenters; where all churches have a fair field and no favor, and where the established churches are those which, by their intelligence, energy and piety, succeed in "establishing" themselves, such scenes as that in question seem wall-nigh incredible, and carry back the mind to an ecclesiastical monopoly and serfdom with which happily it will be utterly impossible ever to enthral the free people of this country. There may possibly be a few even in Canada to take sides with the Rev. Drury, and who may think that in refusing burial to the dead child of a "Dissenter," and lacerating the still bleeding wounds of fresh bereavement with taunt and insult, that worthy was quite within his province and duty as the "custodian of God's acre." The genuine Christian sentiment of our age and [illegible]owever, will not condone such [illegible]approve for a moment, of branding a dead child as "a young heathen," the repose of whose body and soul, it is thus implied, is imperilled because it had not been sprinkled by water dripped from consecrated fingers. While such people are of course perfectly welcome to cherish views so narrow and so bitter as to be quite out of joint with the large-hearted toleration of the age, they cannot expect that such bigotry will command the public respect. It is quite too late in the day to consign intelligent bodies of christian people—no whit behind their neighbors in piety or probity—over to the "unconvenanted mercies" merely because of some slight differences of mere ceremony or church polity. In Canada, at any rate, toleration is the order of the day. Here all religious persuasions are on a footing of dead-level equality. So far as ecclesiastical status is concerned, none are privileged by the recognition of either the law or public sentiment, and if there are "heathens" among us whether young or old, they are so, not for lack of infant sprinkling from consecrated hands, but because they establish their right to the appellation by the godless immoralities and impieties of their own maturer years.

INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATIONS.

While we cannot but applaud the untiring efforts put forth by the efficient Minister of Education in Ontario to improve our Educational system, still we cannot regard every change effected in our Public and High School regulations as an unqualified improvement. That most of these changes have been for the better, we readily concede, still there have been a few exceptions which may be said to prove the rule. For example while we can readily understand why the intermediate examinations have been changed from a semi-annual institution, we cannot see why midsummer rather than the Christmas vacation has been hit upon as the most suitable time for holding them. On the contrary many reasons occur to us why the close of the year should be preferred to June for such a purpose. In the first place it will require no argument to show that the winter is the most seasonable time of the year for such examinations. Any student would rather 'write' in the cool of winter than be broiled by the combined ordeal of the work and the weather in the summer season. Then the midwinter vacation is so brief an interruption to study that the minds of all —teachers as well as students—are much less unbent from their work then than during the summer holidays. The latter constitute the real vacation of the year and should be the time of all others when the long strained energies of teachers and taught should be relaxed, and class room cares be thrown to the winds in order that body and mind should be recuperated for the labours of the succeeding session; and yet, by these midsummer ordeals the advantages of the summer vacation will be largely neutralized, not only by the actual work of examination, but by the natural anxiety to ascertain the result, which does not transpire till some time after the holidays begin. Besides we fear considerable hardship is likely to ensue from the arrangement of which we complain. The examinations of last Christmas are said to have been easy in comparison with those which are expected ahead. For this reason, all who had any reasonable chance of passing the ordeal 'got through.' Those who then began their preparation for the next examination, might, on the account, be expected to class as pretty raw material. To all such a full year would be none too long a preparation, and yet by the new arrangement these must, by some cramming process, be got ready by June, or else be compelled to wait a whole year thereafter before another opportunity will be afforded. Had the time been set for Christmas instead, ample opportunity would have been given, while the few who might have been able to prepare by June would be subject to no great hardship in putting in the short fall term additional. Other reasons, for which we have not space, will occur to those interested in this matter, but those we have cited are of themselves sufficient to justify a change for these examinations, from the midsummer to the winter vacation.

THE LATEST IDEA.

CAPT. BOYNTON TO SWIM THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER.

Captain Paul Boynton completed his feat of swimming down the Mississippi River from Cairo, Illinois, to Memphis, Tennessee, a distance of 250 miles. He started from Cairo at 10 a.m. on the 9th inst., and, amid a large number of skiffs, paddled into the Mississippi, whose swift current soon bore him out of sight. He was accompanied by his little boat 'Baby Mine,' which was laden with medicines, provisions and cigars. He stopped en route at Cottonwood, Missouri, and Bradley's, Arkansas, arriving at Memphis at 4.15 p.m. on Friday, the 11th. A despatch to the Witness from New York states that the Captain has decided to swim the St. Lawrence River also. Before leaving New York for Pittsburg, he had a conversation with the Witness correspondent in regard to the route of the St. Lawrence, and wrote to several river men and pilots for information as to the best manner of shooting the rapids. He intends starting from Kingston or Cape Vincent, and is fully determined to shoot every rapid on the way to tidewater. The dangers of the Cedars and Lachine Rapids were vividly depicted to him, but with a characteristic twinkle in his handsome eye, he said he should go through it all, and that after his baptism in the Tigus he was prepared to go through anything. 'Except Niagara!' the correspondent queried. The Captain laughed and said, as his route didn't include the Father of Cataracts, he needn't discuss the question. He intends finishing his trip at Quebec.

CURRENCY.

—Constantinople despatches deny the Sultan offered to depose the Khedive.

—A shock of an earthquake was felt at Cornwall very distinctly about eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon.

—Hon. Wm. M. Evarts will accompany the 13th Brooklyn regiment to Montreal on May 24th.

—All hope has been abandoned of a settlement between the masters and the striking colliers at Durham, England.

—According to a militia General Order, bands are to be dressed in clothing of the same color as the regiments to which they are attached.

—Another party of 100 persons from Ottawa will leave on the 22nd for Manitoba, under the direction of Mr. A. H. Taylor, C. T. R. agent.

—Great numbers are suffering of famine in Brazil. A collision has taken place between the mob and the police, and the chief of police has been killed.

—It is rumored that Sir John A. Macdonald is about to retire from the Ministry, when Mr. Tilley will become Premier and Mr. Thos. White will be taken into the Cabinet.

—On Saturday the Nova Scotia Legislative Council gave the six months' hoist to the bill for funding the public debt for eight hundred thousand dollars, by a vote of 13 to 5.

—The London Economist thinks that Mr. Waddington is too English in his ways to obtain much hold over the French Chambers. He is a man of affairs rather than a man of politics.

—It has been arranged that the Canadian tariff will remain unchanged as regards Newfoundland, on condition that that colony will exempt fish imported there from duty. This has been agreed to.

—Even the most ardent supporters of the 'National Policy' can tar from being pleased. Mr. R. W. Phipps, the originator of the scheme and its most persistent advocate, sums it up in this single sentence. 'Canada has been utterly deceived.'

AMERICAN.

Nathan O. K.—The Negro Exodus—Lager and Lager—A Dispute Between them—Trials of Parsons.

(Per Dominion Line.)

New York, April 16.—The report which was current about the city last night to the effect that Washington Nathan was dangerously ill from the effects of a bullet wound, received at the hands of Mrs. Barrett, was found, upon enquiry, to be without foundation. Nathan says he has entirely recovered from the wound.

Brooklyn, April 16.—Representatives of the Mechanics' Exchange called upon the Mayor and urged him to nominate a competent man, not a prominent politician, as head of the Building Department, and other departments of the city works.

Two young men called at the residence of Mrs. Wilson and asked if they could get board and rooms. Mrs. Wilson wanted them to inspect the rooms, but only one accompanied her, the other remaining in the parlor. After the young men had gone, without engaging rooms, Mrs. Wilson had occasion to go into her back parlor, which she uses as a bedroom. She found that her jewel box had been rifled and the contents, valued at $1,000, had been taken.

Nashville, Tenn., April 16.—Thirty well-to-do negroes left Robertson Co. for Kansas yesterday. Laborers in this State average ten dollars per month, with board. The better class of negroes are opposed to emigration to Kansas, because they think they are afforded better facilities for a livelihood and education in this State.

Jersey City, April 16.—The Liquor and Lager Association of Newark proposes to oppose the efforts of the Law and Order Association in rather amovel and unexpected manner. The Law and Order folks want Sunday law enforced so far as sale of liquor and giving of theatrical or other performances are concerned. The Liquor and Lager people are now considering the propriety of taking steps to have the law fully enforced. If this be done, not only traffic in liquor and lager would be prevented, but business of every kind would have to be suspended on Sunday. No horse cars, steam cars, or steamboats can be run; no newspapers, cigars, ice cream, candy, soda water, oysters, or refreshments can be sold; no travelling can be done in carriages or on horseback for pleasure, and no walking except to and from church, if the law be made operative. Such is the old New Jersey State law which has never been repealed, and those engaged in the liquor traffic complain bitterly that they alone of all people who disregard its enactments are held up to public odium and marked out for punishment.

New York, April 16.—John Nathan, veteran showman, was taken home with two ribs broken and a broken collar bone in Barnum's show on Monday. Miss Emma Lake was riding, and her horse took it into his head to walk out of the ring on his hind legs, and Miss Lake could not check him without danger of pulling him over backward, and Nathan, who was standing near the entrance, stepped forward to catch the animal by bits. The horse let down on Nathan with his hoofs.

The Sun says: We had news from Trenton, yesterday, that Rev. Dr. John Millerman has been struck from the roll of Presbyterian clergymen as a heretic, and to-day we have news that Rev. Dr. Bullock, of Oswego, is to be tried by the authorities of Methodist denomination for heresy. Then there is the Talmage trial in Brooklyn.

It is rumored that the Colorado Cattle Co. have just transferred to Vanderbilt and Eastman, who is known as Cattle King, the controlling interest in that corporation, with a view to a vast extention, through Vanderbilt, of shipping facilities of the live beef exportation to Europe. The Colorado Cattle Company owned for seven years the Huerfano ranche, 17 miles long, by 2 miles broad.

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—State Treasurey in the Capital building was robbed of $5,000 yesterday by two men who entered during the absence of Treasurer Smith and Assistant Treasurer Peters at dinner.

POLITICAL EFFECTS.

Canadian Tariff Results in England—The Letellier Affair Discussed—Depression in Stocks.

(Per Dominion Line.)

Toronto, April 16th.—The Globe this morning contains the following cablegram, dated London, April 15:—

On the receipt of the news that Mr. Mackenzie's tariff amendment had been rejected the Canadian Dominion bonds fell two per cent.

The Letellier affair is much discussed in the London and country newspapers. The Times says Lord Dufferin had the same facts before him and he failed to dismiss the Hon. Mr. Letellier. The Mackenzie Government, and the House of Commons which that Government controlled, took the responsibility of leaving the matter entirely to the Quebec electorate. The present Government, though pressed, took no action until coerced. The recent vote of the House was a strictly party vote. If, therefore, the Marquis of Lorne had accepted the tardy advice his Ministers gave him he would have been administering a censure not only to them but to their predecessors, to the last House of Commons, and to the late Governor-General.

These being Easter holidays there is consequently no change in Canadian stocks with the exception of Dominion bonds, which, as stated before, have declined two per cent.

QUEBEC.

Personals—Ice Bridge Accidents.

(Per Dominion Line.)

Quebec, April 16.—Baron Jules De Laventy, of Paris, is staying at the Russell House.

A young man, along with his horse and cariole, attempted, on Monday morning, to come to town by the ice bridge, contrary to advice. About a quarter of a mile from where he started he was seen by some men to go through the ice, whereupon they went to his assistance, and managed to save him, but the horse and cariole were lost. Shortly afterwards another footlardy thought he would try the same road on foot, but when nearing the same spot where the horse was lost, he too went down, succeeding, however, in clinging to floating pieces of ice until rescued by two young men at the risk of their own lives.

MORRISBURG.

Shingle Mill Burned Down.

(Per Dominion Line.)

Morrisburg Ont, March 15.—The steam shingle mill of Mr. C. D. Casselman, situated about four miles east of here, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss 2000; no insurance.

—The most magnificently conspicuous by his gallant and soldierly bearing at the marriage of the Duke of Connaught was the Crown Prince of Prussia. He wore the uniform of the white cuirassiers, which Prince Bismarck has made the visible ensign of power and military sway.

—Nearly half of the land of Scotland is owned by sixty eight persons, and more than three-fourths of its land by 580 persons. Again, there are 3,200,000 of its people who do not own a square foot of its soil among them. Incidentally, be it added, one-third of the people of Scotland—"Bonnie Scotland"—are living in houses of one room only!

OTTAWA.

Large Collection—Fort Frances Lock—Painful Accident—The Letellier Case—Hanlan's Success.

(Per Dominion Line.)

Ottawa, March 19.—The collection taken up on Easter Sunday in St. Patrick's church for the pastor, the Rev. Dr. O'Connor, amounted to over $400.

Mr. H. Sutherland, of Winnipeg, will be examined to-day before the Public Accounts sub-committee in relation to the Fort Francis Lock expenditure.

It is understood that the Hanlan Club of this city intend getting up a grand demonstration in honor of Hanlan on his return from England, should he be fortunate enough to come out victorious in the contests with Hawdon and Elliott.

At the Gatineau Point yesterday an accident of a most painful character occurred. It appears that a blind man named St. Jean picked up an axe with the intention of breaking a piece of wood. He arranged the wood to his satisfaction and then raised the axe. In the mean time a little girl approached him noiselessly, and instead of striking the wood he hit the unfortunate little creature on the side of the head, inflicting a terrible wound. The poor man was terribly agitated over the affair. Medical aid was at once summoned, but it is feared that the injures will prove fatal.

This morning a deputation from Russell, Carleton, and other sections waited upon the Minister of Public Works, to urge upon him the advisability of granting aid to the Coteau bridge over the St. Lawrence.

The newly appointed Chief of Police, Sherwood, leaves in a day or two for Toronto, Hamilton, and London, in order to become conversant with the police system of various cities. The Police Commissioners having decided to compare a complete code for the better organization and maintenance of the city police force. Chief Sherwood is about twenty three years of age.

Hon. Mr. Jolly Premier of Quebec, and Sir Francis Hincks, are to go to England immediately with reference to the Letellier business. It is probable that they will reach London in time to here that the Imperial Government has refused to interfere.

The trains from the east and west were pretty well crowded yesterday with members returning to their parliamentary duties after the Easter holidays.

The Commons lobby, which had been deserted since Thursday last, was as lively as usual yesterday.

MONTREAL.

Ice Bridge—Formidable Show and Some Alarm.

(Per Dominion Line.)

Montreal, March 19.—The ice bridge is breaking away. The ice last night piled up so high against the abatments of Victoria bridge that for the first time the caretaker was alarmed. The semiphore was broken off the bridge. It is expected that the ice will move out of the river, in a short time. There are immense jams between St. Helen's Island and the city opposite Longueuil.

TORONTO.

Sailors' Union and Rate of Wages.

(Per Dominion Line.)

A meeting of sailors was held last night for the purpose of organizing a union. The rate for going through the Welland Canal was fixed at $1, and of sailing on Lake Ontario at $25 per month.

VERY LATEST.

London, April 16.—A Paris correspondent believes that if Blanqui is elected to the Chamber of Deputies, as is almost certain, he will be granted amnesty, and permitted to take his seat.

Paris, April 16.—No progress has been made in solving the Egyptian difficulty. The French and English Cabinets have taken no determination. It is not believed that the deposition of the Khedive will be attempted.

Vienna, April 15.—A great snow storm at Szegdin occured on Sunday which destroyed sixty pile-driving stands, and carried away and sunk rafts and lighters laden with provisions and materials. The rivers Theiss and Maros are again rising. Ten more corpses were recovered.

The Ile oblique Francais says: France and England will first demand, through the Sultan, the Khedive's submission to their wishes. This they will doubtless obtain, and through the same medium will impose on the Khedive guarantee against the renewal of such conspiracies as at present.

London, April 16.—A Vienna correspondent says that in view of the collapse the mixed occupation scheme foreshadows the possibility of a secret understanding between England and Turkey to prevent or diminish the consequences of disturbances in Eastern Roumelia.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—The name of assassin of the Czar is Alexander Solovieff. He is a school master of Torgpee, in the Government of Pleskov. He will be tried by the highest criminal tribunal. Prosecutor General Senator Leontieff who is charged with the preliminary inquiry has commenced his labors. The belief that the prisoner took poison is erroneous. He was severely injured by the populace, who would have killed him, but for the intervention of the police.

Distinguished Visitors.

It is understood that the Governor-General and the Princess will stay for three weeks in Quebec after leaving Montreal. Lord Lorne's father, the Duke of Argyll, is expected to arrive at the ancient capital in the second week in June, for a four-months' visit to his son and royal daughter-in-law. A week later they will greet Rear-Admiral the Duke of Edinburgh at Halifax, who will succeed Admiral Inglefield in command of the North American squadron. At Halifax the party will be joined by Lord Wharncliffe, Lord Colin Campbell (the Marquis' brother) Mr. Eustace Balfour—who will marry Lady Elizabeth, the Marquis' second sister in a few days—Earl Percy, heir presumptive to the dukedom of Northumberland and husband of Lady Edith, the Marquis' eldest sister, and probably Lord Rosebery and wife. There will, it is said, be gay doings at Halifax during the summer.—Free Press.

THE PRINCE'S TRIP.—Prince Louis Napoleon, being a good fellow, with the tastes of a young man of his years, has been bored by the pretensions and schemes of the French Imperialists, and has run off to Africa to escape them. He does not want to play Emperor, and is described as the typical young British subaltern of the best soil, and nothing more. He went to the Cape to get away from the people who talked him Sire, and who were all the time talking about watering Napoleon's grave with his tears. He went for a lark, because he could be with his old associates at Woolwich.

STRATFORD.—Umbertina, the Zulu chief who attacked and captured the British supply train at Intombe, seems to have a fair idea of strategy. He left his headquarters in Zululand, made a rapid march to British territory, attacked at a moment when the British were at a disadvantage, and captured or destroyed the supplies intended for the distant post of Derby. He then recrossed the line to his own fighting ground.

DAY'S EXTRACT OF MALT.

An Efficient Assimilator.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT FROM A MEMBER OF UNIVERSITY (TORONTO) SENATE.

KINGSTON, April 9th, 1879

These are to certify that during the past eleven years I have been at least once a week incapacitated from any kind of work, from very severe headache, arising partly from indigestion and partly from Neuralgia. About five weeks ago I began to use Dr. Day's Extract of Malt, and since that time I have not had a single attack. I consider it a most valuable assimilator, aiding and assisting very actively in digestion. It is no medicine, but a pure unadulterated food, and has done me more good than anything else I have ever tried.

April 7.

To the Electors of the City of Kingston.

GENTLEMEN,—

As the nominee of the Liberal Conservative Association of this city, I beg to offer myself as a Candidate for the representation of Kingston in the next Ontario Parliament. If elected I shall do all in my power to increase the efficiency of the Local Legislature, and use every effort to forward the interests of Kingston.

I pledge myself to give always on all questions a conscientious vote, ever remembering that although a Liberal Conservative, it is my duty to support any measures calculated to promote the prosperity of this Province.

Soliciting the support and influence of every elector favorable to pure and economic Government,

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant.
