YOUNG MAN HANGS HIMSELF IN THE

SUICIDE.

The police on duty at the police station this morning were somewhat surprised on entering the cells to find that a young man named Charles Brooks had committed suicide by hanging. The deceased Treasurer, Mr. I. Simpson, Clarence was arrested on Wednesday night, on the street. There were present, the Presicomplaint of his sisters, who were afraid he would do some injury were he not placed in eustody. He was a tinsmith by occupation, and was a good worker, being latterly employed on the new residence which is being built for Mr. E. Chown, Brock street. He has been Evidently his General Superintendent of the mind was somewhat deranged. During the night he committed suicide. He fastened his merino necktie and suspenders together. > After being sworn in the jury inspected the body, which was laid out in the large cell off the police station. Peccased's clothing was in a very disordered state. Brooks was also barefooted. The neck, above where the neck-tie had been fast ened, was swollen. Under one ear there was a mark where the slip knot had been drawn tightly-a bruise of a bluish color. The cell was next examined. Here it was seen that from the grating in the door to the floor was only about three feet. After attaching the brace to the grating Brooks must have tied the handkerchief around his neck with a slip knot and then thrown his feet from under him, thus strangling himself. The jury returned to the police station and heard the evidence.

Police Constable Hinde testified that he was on duty and had visited the deceased during the night at 12 p.m. 12:30 midnight, 2:30 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. and at each time deceased had responded to said "all right." Witness had been London. The receipts of the Grand visit him often during the night as he ton would be an admirable site for such terrible burns inflicted with the intention was in a dangerous condition, caused by the excessive use of liquor. As stated above, about 10 p.m., deceased asked to be put in the dark cell. He had been talking during the day about poisoned and would not eat or drink any thing. About 4:30 a.m. witness visited him and found him sleeping. About s.m. he visited all the cells to see the men preparatory to handing them over to the next guard on duty. When ac went to the cell where the deceased was confined, he found a brace tied to the iron grating in the door, and when he attempted to lift it up he found that there was something heavy attach ed to it He at once surmined hat deceased had hung himself. Brooks was cut down as soon as possible and was quite warm. The Dr. was summoned, but when he arrived medical skill was useless A prisoner named Milligan had a conversation with Brooks about 5:30 a.m. when he said "he intended to cut his throat." The witness thought he was only deranged and would not carry out his threat. He heard no noise, and when the policemen opened his cell he (deceased) tumbled out. This was the only intimation he had of the deceased's sui thing further was elicited but that he had been called to attend to the deceased and could do nothing as Brooks was dead before he arrived.

The jury brought in the following ver dict: That the deceased came to his death at his own hands. The body was removed to his mother's house from which place the funeral will take place. The mother, who is lying very ill, has not as yet been informed that her son committed suicide, but she knows that he is dead. The news will be kept from her as long as possible, as it is feared she cannot stand the blow.

But that a mammoth caravansary is to be erected along the river and that its location will be at the ,000 Island Park we fell morally certain. This scheme has been talked for some time, and men of means, who feel sure that such a structure could be made to pay, appear to be quiet anxious to build. The building will probably be erected on the island near the dock.
