POLITICAL HONORS.

PRESENTATIONS TO MESSES, MACKENZIE

BLAKE AND YOUNG

A meeting was held by the Reformers of the town of Guelph on Thursday af termoon, for the purpose of publicly presenting Messrs. Blake, Mackenzie, and James Young, M.P.P., with tokens of the esteem in which they are held by the adherents in Galt and South Naterior by the party with which they are connected. The present to Mr. Blake was that gon tleman's portrait in oil, that to Mr. Mackenzie was also the recipient a portrait in oil, both of which were the works of the late Adam Kay, purchased and given by the Reform workingmen of Galt. The gift to Mr. James Young was an evidently very valuable silver, tea and water ser-tor of the Reform party, of whom he "Experienced Nestor in persuasion skilled.

Words of honey from his lips distilled. As he was told by Hon. Mr. Holton was absolutely necessary to complete his political education. He had since been elected for the Local House, but, though in that Legislature, he would still take the greatest interest in Dominion matters. Concerning those matters, however, it would be unnecessary for him to say mnything in view of the presence of Mr. Mackenzie, who was the workingman Premier and the premier workingman, and of Mr. Blake, who well deserved the description of him given by the motto on the wall, for he was above all the ablest statesman and jurist Canada ever produced. Still be might remark that the promises of the scandal jobbing and of tice plandering Government, which had come into power on the question of the 'great national fraud," had not been carried out. Wages had been lowered. Stocks had gone down. The mechanic had not been benefitted, and the farmer had not got into the fool's paradise which he was promised. The only persons who had been benefitted by the Tory Government were the office seekers. The people had indeed been deceived, and, in his opinion, retribution would come sure and the end a lasting benefit, as the people had been charged that his object in poli box of them. tical life was the highest judicial office, but that had been offered to him and he had declined it. 000 in the course of half a decade. This large amount of money he did not invest but saved up in his own house, waiting for the day when the crash would come. Security made him to bold, about a fortnight ago he prosecuted his peculation with less than ordinary caution. The "error" in his book were discovered and his attention called thereto. He promised to explain it, but instead skipped out in the night time, and made his way across the border and to this city. His whereabouts are so nearly known that it is quiet probable that he will be arrested this morning. It is believed that he has most of the money stolen with him in Canadian bills and gold.

"A High Toned Thief,"

This is what the Chicago Times calls John McCrank, who is wanted in Bridgetown, Ont., for forgery, and who is believed to be in Chicago. Our contem-porary goes on to say, 'The arrest of this man has become almost a question of international importance and the Provincial authorities are unremitting in their inquiries and directions relative to his apprehension. It seems that he was an agent for some very large estate belon:

Mr. Holton, the Nes- cers has been frustrated. There can now be no doubt but that the finding of the court martial in his case was that he had been guilty of indiscretion in running away from the Zulu ambush, or, in other words, of cowardice, and the application of this was, that he was unworthy of a place in the British army, and ought to be dismissed from the service. But, as we have on a previous occasion ventured to assert, there was really no ground for the censure of him which the appoint ment of the court of enquiry and the subsequent court martial implied, and the finding of him guilty of indiscretion was simply a cruel method of shifting to his shoulders the blame which belonged to his superiors. Fortunately, Lord Chelmsford had the good thought of sending the young officer to England to receive formal sentence, and it will be gratifying to him, as it must be to the whole country, that Her Majesty's de cision is that he shall be permitted to join his regiment. And other decision. which should have conveyed reproach or censure, would have been a manifest in justice to Carey, and very poor satisfaction for the blundering which permitted the Prince Imperial to expess himself to the assegars of the Zulus to ambush.
