The Incumbent closed the meeting. Before doing so, however, he made reference to the benefit of observing the day of intercession, and the blessing to be expected from such ob-

COST OF LIVING ADVANCING .- There has been a slight increase in many of the necessaries of life, and somewhat auddenly people find the sout of living wonderfully increased. Work unfor funately has not become more plentiful and the mechanics and laboring classes are not in possession of increased wages to meet the heavier demands upon their purses. If the 'N.P.' is responsible for the increased cost of merchandise the workingmen cannot admire it, since it has utterly failed to supply that abun dance of labour which enables the in dustrious wan to feel comparatively in dependent.

Missionary Service.

The annual missionary service of the Primitive Methodist Church, in connec tion with the church here, was held last evening. A good number assembled Considerable interest was manifested in the proceedings of the meeting. Mr. G W. Andrews occupied the chair, and during the course of the evening made a few pithy remarks. Rev. T. W. Jolliffe read the annual report. Reve. Mesure. Thomp son, of Sydenham, Walker, of Collinsby, a d Galbraith addressed the meeting upon the needs of the missionary work, and at the close of the service the audience responded to their appeals handsomely, by way of a large collection which proved to be greatly in advance of last year's contributions. The following collectors were appointed for the ensuing year Miss Alvina Smith, Miss Pugh, Miss Mc-Gowan, and Miss Smith. The audience dispersed at 10 p.m.

Barnum's Escapades.

We refer to Frank Barnum, the conductor of the Black River RR., and not to the great showman. We read much about him (F.B.) in the American papers but we cannot understand the movement of the man who disappeared from Was tertown, only to turn up in Kingston, and then, securing release, to vanish again.
