

The British Whig

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 15, 1878.

TRUTH.

They told me truth was in a well;
I looked to see your face so fair;
What disappointment me befell,
To find my face above was there!

So you were false, while I was true;
And then my own emotion showed away;
Hope's visions, all of amber hue,
Were broken—and the sky was gray.

Beneath that gray sky, roaming on,
I pass the wide world round and round;
The light of life for ever gone,
And bearing one unshaking wound.

I look on all the lakes and wells,
And gaze on every mountain's head;
One face alone my sorrow tells,
One only true—ah, me! ah, me!

CATARRH

NEVER-FALLING RELIEF
HOUSE OF COMMONS.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

IT is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimony ever offered in favor of the Radical Cure for Catarrh, that the Radical Cure for Catarrh is a most reliable and permanent relief. It is the only remedy that cures the disease, the first doses of the Radical Cure for Catarrh being sufficient to relieve the patient of all the most distressing symptoms. The testimony of physicians, druggists, and patients is unanimous in its praise, and it is evident in its power of relieving suffering from any form of Catarrh, and is entirely free from any of the dangerous and deleterious effects of the various other remedies. It is a most reliable and permanent relief, and is the only remedy that cures the disease, the first doses of the Radical Cure for Catarrh being sufficient to relieve the patient of all the most distressing symptoms.
