Opifer per Ortem Dicor. FRIDAY EV'NG, MARCH 15, 1878.

The leading organ of the Opposition announces that the Dominion general elections will definitely take place in the next ensuing month of June. This, from reliable a source, must be accepted as authoritative. In all fairness the Ministry of the day might have reasonably espected a little longer notice from their opponents of this, to them, importants perhaps vital, event. It is just like the Tories, however, to steal a march on their opponents, and this springing of a general election on the present unwary · government, is strictly in keeping with the stealthy tactics of the present Opposition. For even as much notice of the approaching struggle as is imparted by the above intimation, the present Ministry and their supporters in the country, should feel duly grateful, and prepare themselves for the fray accordingly. It is just possible the Dominion Cabinet may yet muster presumption enough to prevail upon the Opposition to above fixed for that event by the Tory

If Kingston can only be saved from the unenviable distinctness of ever again becoming the despised and neglected pocket borough of a Tory minister of the Crown she will be freed from a political serfdom and degredation to which she has in all cocacience been long long enough subjected. So far as our experience of "Minister-Membership" has impressed us, we want no more of it as this particular been has been interpreted to us by Tory Administrators. THE MAN FOR THE EMERCENCY.

A retaliatory policy is evidently a game at which two parties can play, and, so far as our neighbours are concerned, we may be sure they will have their full share of 'innings' in the match. Taking the cue from Sir John Macdonald's retaliatory tariff cry, the N. Y. Herald is devising 2 retalistory scheme which shall render quite nugatory the late Halifax award of indemnity to Canada. Under the Treaty of Washington Canadian fish and fish oil were to be admitted free into the United States. It is now said that the new tarif Bill will be so amended or extended as to place a duty on the above commodities, notwithstanding the fact that they were directly exempted from any such impost by the provisions of the treaty If such a vicious and faithless suggestion be acted upon it will be quite in keeping with the repudiation mania, which seems to have blunted all sense of national and political henour among our neighbours Having resolved deliberately to violate their financial obligations it will be comparatively easy to trample upon the provisions of international treaties. While they are at it doubtless a little repudiatien more er less is of small consequence

By a slight additional stretching of his national conscience—if such a thing have any existence -- we may yet expect Uncle Sam to repudiate the award in toto, and tax whatever Canadian commodities were declared should be free by the Treaty Repudiation will be succeeded by a retribution of some kind some time. Failing other means of bringing the faithless Yankees back again to a sense of honour the people of Canada will look to Sir John Macdonald as the man up in whom postpone the time of the dissolution of this duty will devolve. Nothing could be the present House beyond the date more appropriate than for them to rehis hands. Such a revenge would be personally sweet to himself as well. It was

Railway Progress and Enterprise.

(By Telegraph To-day.) Washington, March 15. - The Consul at Winnipeg reports much activity in railroad matters in Manitobs. Canadian and English parties have purchased the first mortgage bonds of the St. Paul and Pacific RR, and propose to construct a porthern extension in Minnesota, from Red Lake River to the Manitoban frontier during the summer. They also propose to complete the Pembina branch of the Canada Pacific Railroad, to connect with the Minnesota extension, and by the first of next November it is expected that trains will be running from St. Paul to Winnipeg and twenty miles from the main line of the Canada Pacific at Selkirk; from this point contracts are in execution for the construction of the main line eastward to the Lake of the Woods, 110 miles equal distance, westalso under contract. The Consul thinks Germany. a mutually profitable intercourse between the Dominion and Eastern States would be greatly aided if the United States and Canadian Gurernments were to make international arrrangements for aiding the construction of a ystem of railways from Ottawa to Sault Ste Marie, thence to
