The old proverb as to the cobbler and his last is evidently unknown to, or ignored by, Mr. Moody. This preacher — who dube himself an "Evangelist," his Gospel coming rather expensive at times—in one of his clothing services at Springfield, Mass., advised young converts to eachew Freemanonry, Odd Fellowship, theatres, card-playing, horse-racing, novel reading, business partnerships, and marriage with unbelievers. He was particularly atrenuous on this last point, hoping that the time will come when ministers will preach against such marriages, and refuse to perform the ceremonies, as Mr. Spurgeon does. He also queried whether dea cons and other in the Connecticut valley who raise tobacco do it for the glory of God. This is to prostitute the pulpit and to condemn many things innocent in themselves, and only hurtful when abused, as indiscriminately as if they were all equally vile. Other things really bad he emitted to condomn, and why? Secause he was afraid. Astonishing Success. It is the duty of every person who has used BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and fact all throat and lung diseases.
