Cure Your Horses.—It is to the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition; experience has proved that Darley a Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy is the most efficacious and has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement. For heaves, coughs, colds and all diseases which affect the wind of horses it has no equal, nor is it equalled as a condition or regulati g medicine; it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite and softens the skin; in fact, so great is the improvement in the condit on and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same herse. The playing of the silver cornet band was very artistic, the execution of Miss Anna Theresa by this little lady was clear and sweet, and such as are seldom heard in solos upon this instrument. Prominent in the natrumental line was the saxaphone solo, "Old Folks at Home," beautifully rendered. The quartette of Ccarionas was a novelty. This is said to have been the first set of these instruments imported to this country. They are peculiar, not very musical, but odd, which makes up for all that is lacking in other respects. The orchestra of the company is very fine one, and the bell ringing will never cease to be popular. In the way of comedy, Mr. McKee was esteemed in his vocalism, and Mr. Jeppe and Miss Delano were the source of much amuse ment in their character sketches, which were, as represented, both refined and

It is full of fun and nonscuce, has a barely perceptible plot, rives every one ample scope for specialties and is as good as it is long. Flashes of wit are not infrequent in the play, and he fun is continuous from the beginning to the end. Miss Weathersby has boiled her company down to six people, all good and fully adequate to meet the require. ments of a successful ride upon "hobby." Nat Goodwin is certainly inimitable in every sense of the word and his imitations of dramatic celebrities are at: Miss Weathersby of course is good, and the support by Miss Fisher, Miss Jennie Weathersby, Mr. Browser and Mr. Stanton is much better than we often

OUR JIM .- Jim McLoughlin is to be commiserated. He is a young man of great ambition, but greatly given to misfortune. When in a recent love encounter he lost the hand of his admirer, and run to es cape the trouncing of an angry and jealous rival, he still hugged the belief that the sun of his glory should not set so long as he remained fleet-footed, bene. volent and buoyant. But all his hopes depended upon the rapidity in which he could travel in professional pedestrian matches. He challenged one Barnes of Toronto to a race; he was accommodated and on Saturday he came in sufficiently behind hand to lose his money and what little reputation he possessed. Of course we are satisfied this could not happen unless there was something radically wrong, or perhaps he had a sore foot, or bad start, and so on and so forth. We really do not know what Jim is going to d now. We fear he will have to return to his place among the "wolves," from whom he succeeded to win fame and for. tune. Alas! his hopes are fearfully and

A Remarkable Result.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION arises from a de line or deficiency of vitality in the natural bioplasm or germinal matter, and this deficiency manifests itself not only in a general wasting or atrophy of the whole body, but also in a peculiar degradation, chiefly in the lungs and lymphatic system, of portions of this bio plasm into a sluggish, low lived, yet proliferating matter, which instead of maintaining the nutrition and integrity of the tissues (which is the natural office of bioplasm) clogs them and irritates them with a substance which is more or less prone to decay, and eventually involves them also in its own disintegration and des To remedy this deficiency by sustaining the
