

At W. R. GORDON'S Grocery, Princes St., will be found all kinds of Groceries and Provisions on the close cutting cash principle.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, has long been a favorite with our people. Now that the St. Nicholas is soon to close, it is presumed that the Grand Central will absorb a still larger proportion of the Southern trade.

The Daily British Whig. Office: 100 Queen Street.

SATURDAY EVENING MAY 11, 1878.

When the crowning political injury of Sir John Macdonald's corrupt career, his now devoted and servile pocket organ denounced it as the grandest job ever perpetrated in the British Empire.

Not long since that paragon of elegant diction, the Kingston Daily News, took exception to the grammatical construction of a communication to the Whig.

Every cry that is now raised against Sir John personally (in the absence of which the organ again resorts to the although it characterized it at any rate as tendentious and characterizing of it as one used only "in desperation" at election times, the seat of Government cry, and the never-did anything for Kingston cry) has been utilized on former occasions, and on each the electors have given their verdict.

No wonder our contemporary objects to sentences that are involved and mixed. Its own style, of which the above is an elegant sample, is delightfully simple and perspicuous.

A TORY CUN SPIEKED. The extent to which John A. Macdonald and his local organ presume and impose upon public credulity is a matter of notoriety.

The extent to which John A. Macdonald and his local organ presume and impose upon public credulity is a matter of notoriety. During the last few days the organ has been quoting in its Chieftain column the words of a Reform Government removed the seat of Government from Kingston.

OUR ABSENTEE. In reference to an article in the Ottawa Times concerning non-residence in members of parliament, we have to say first, that we would only tolerate abstention so far as it is rendered necessary in the case of a Minister of the Crown, whose duties require him to reside at the Capital, or when the local and general interest can be better subserved by an outsider than by a resident citizen.

SARDINIAN ACCIDENT. The intelligence of the wreck of the Allan steamer Sardinian, involving a melancholy loss of life, the extent of which has not yet been ascertained, will excite a universal thrill of sorrow.

THE SENATE. It is appropriate enough that if the Tory party should bear away anywhere, it should be in the perfectly useless and practically obsolete Chamber of the Canadian House of Lords.

It is appropriate enough that if the Tory party should bear away anywhere, it should be in the perfectly useless and practically obsolete Chamber of the Canadian House of Lords. It seems to tally well with the respective instincts and traditions of the two rival parties, that the great Liberal party should prevail in the popular and only responsible House, while the really representative Commons, while the Tory element most anywhere asserts itself, it is at least appropriate that it should be in a chamber whose most illustrious atmosphere can never be stirred and cleared by the freshening breeze of public opinion, and where the voice of the people is never heard, except as it is dimly echoed from the popular House below.

PROBABILITIES. Fresh and fair westerly to northwesterly winds and fair weather with showers. For St. Lawrence fresh southwesterly to northwesterly winds, and fair, cold weather with local showers.

THE STRIKE by the labourers on the Chicago and Alton railway extension on Monday was for back wages, the men not having been paid for four weeks. They also demanded a dollar and a half per day, being an advance of twenty-five cents.

THE STRIKE by the labourers on the Chicago and Alton railway extension on Monday was for back wages, the men not having been paid for four weeks. They also demanded a dollar and a half per day, being an advance of twenty-five cents. A hundred of them went to the office of Timothy Meehan, a contractor, and asked him what he was willing to do, whereupon he drew a revolver and fired into the crowd, dangerously wounding John Gorman. Meehan gave himself up and was released.

ANOTHER HUMILIATION. It seems Parliament was not permitted to close without becoming once more the scene of Tory rowdiness. From the reports of opportunities of the prosecution it would appear that the ruffian passion for brute force argument was strong to the last in the breasts of the Tory leaders.

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT. Disgraceful Scene in the House.

SIR JOHN THE PUGILIST. Attempted Assault on Mr. Smith, M.P.

KINGSTON'S BOSS BRUISER. Ottawa, May 11.—The close of the third Parliament of Canada was one which will bring credit to Canadian politics.

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

THE SPEAKER'S ACCOUNT. The Speaker declared that the member for Selkirk was in order, and Dr. Tupper commenced to interrupt Mr. Smith in the most unseemly fashion, calling him a gentleman "liar," "traitor," and "other names of a similar polite nature."

WAR TELEGRAMS. Situation Little Changed Since Yesterday.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY. London, May 10.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain, Radical, announced that he would propose to discontinue the resolution concerning the Government's foreign policy.

CONSTITUTION OF SUPPLY. Mr. Fawcett, Liberal member for Hackney, gave notice that on going into Committee of Supply on the supplementary estimate, he would move that the House should vote on the supplementary estimate without further communication to Parliament.

NEWSPAPER REVELATION. St. Petersburg, May 11.—The Agency says all newspaper revelations respecting the Russian Revolution are hypothetical. The Government itself does not know the proposals. If Schorvaloff could have telegraphed or otherwise informed the Government, he would have been arrested.

SHOOTING REVOLUTIONISTS. London, May 10.—A Belgrade despatch, contradictory to the Prague reports, says efforts were made lately in favor of commutation of the sentences of Topolza and other revolutionists. The majority of the Emperor's Ministers and 22 others will therefore be shot.

IN GREAT AGITATION. London, May 10.—A Belgrade despatch reports Bosnia in a state of great agitation. The Russian Revolution is spreading and the insurgents force all Christians to join them or burn their villages.

MOBILIZATION. About sixty million florins about to be raised by Austria and said to be employed in anti-Russian armaments. It will be used to put by to serve as a permanent mobilization fund.

RUSSIAN RETURN. Athens, May 10.—A Turkish Minister has formed a resolution that they have full liberty to return to their homes, the Sultan having guaranteed an amnesty.

A CONTRADICTION STATEMENT. Berlin, May 10.—A special says the news from Vienna is generally warlike, and seems to indicate that Austria does not regard her prospects improved by the peaceful turn of the negotiations between England and Russia.

THE FRENCH FIZZLE. All Moonshine Nothing in the Reports. (By Telegraph Today.)

London, May 11.—A prominent Irish Nationalist reports only about 150 Frenchmen here. He laughs at Mulligan's stories about the French contribution of $2,000,000 for purchase arms.

London, May 11.—Prominent Irishmen and officials who were interviewed, protest that there is nothing in the French reports. Superstition is the only cause of the reports. There is a most serious lack of truth in the reports.

London, May 11.—Washington reports to the Times say Denis, who recently made the affidavit in the Florida case, left last night for Florida very much out of humor, and declaring that the Democrats had not been so far from the truth as the Republicans.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

London, May 11.—The Standard reports that the Russian Ambassador at Rome said the Cimbra was engaged to transport men and officers to America, where they would be taken to the mouth of the Amazon, this being 21 days shorter than the route across Siberia.

SARDINIAN BURNED. Explosion by Gas—Many Killed and Wounded—The Vessel a Loss.

London, May 10.—The Allan Line steamship "Sardinian," for Quebec, is on the entrance of Long Point Harbor, Long Point, Ontario. It is reported that an explosion of gas occurred, and that every effort to save the vessel proved ineffectual.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 10th. The vessel was completely destroyed, and the captain and a number of passengers were reported to have been saved.

London, May 11.—Many of the passengers of the Sardinian were injured by the explosion on the night of the 1