Kirk's Old Stand, Princess-st D. F. ARMSTRONG. April 5, 1878.

IS IT GURABLE? THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease sasumed by Catarra, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarra. Bronchitis, Asthma, Congha, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarra. Other sympathetic affections such as ticafness, impaired everight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarra, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the tiangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD's Radical County on Catarna is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, increased matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications, the ulceration and inflammation subdued and bealed; the entire membranous liaings of the head are cleaned and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrial diseases.

IT CAN BE CURED.

COMPLICATED CASE. Gentlemen. — My case is briefly as follows: I have had Gatarin for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthmaso bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being a bie to lie down and siven, and a constant dult pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrial matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of Samponr's Radical Cure. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, he cough, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the Cure on my specific, on my kidners, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done In my case is whelly the effect of the Radical Cure. Very respectfully.

Firensure, Oct. 14. C. H. LAWRENCE

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist. I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the Radical Curs of me, and from time to time made mefamiliar with his case. MURDERED BY HIS WIFE.

Fravers, a wealthy gentleman of Correll county, Va., aged 70 years. Capt. Travers was one of the best known old gentleman in this part of the State. The couple were married about eight months ago, and it was known that it was not a love match. Indeed, now, some of Mrs Travers friends recall the fact that his respect for her" by leaving town and she had playfully remarked before her marriage, "I will break the old man down | Now as to advising these young ladies, in six months and have his fortune all to the respected editor appealed to, says: myself." She was a dashing and beau- "Do not marry these young men." He tiful women when he married her, and is says to the first that, "while the young about 22 years old. On Saturday the old fellow remonstrated with her for her the crime of his parent, yet it is not defreedom with a gay young Baltimore swell, a former lover of hers, who had come to this part of the country to drum for his house. High words passed between husband and wife. Being a women of powerful physique, gard of law ? she took the body of her husband upon her shoulders, and threw it into the creek which ran through the yard. She then as the testimony of the chamber maid before the Caroter's jury shows, buried the bed-clothing and her robe de chambre, in order to conceal the evidence of her crime. She put the knife up the chimney, where it was found yesterday. The body of Capt. Travers was found in the creek on Sunday morning by two fisherman. Mrs. Travers was arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder. The body was traced from the parlor door of the house to the creek by the clots of blood upon the grass. At the Coroner's inquest to-day Mrs. Travers stoutly denied the crime, and said that her husband had left the bedroom at 12 o'clock in the night, and that he never returned. Jest as the jury were about to agree upon a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being murdered by some one unknown to them, the guilty wife burst out into a fit of crying, and acknowledged that she committed the fearful deed. She was taken to the county jail, and while there attempted to commit suicide by stabling herself in the breast with a pair of scissors. Intense excitement prevails in the community, for Capt. Travers was a very popular man, an ex-Summer Normal School. Jackson Presidential elector and a cul-

Coming Down. The Tory press are coming down gridually. At first they tried to gull their readers into the belief that they had a majority in Quebec, but since that they have been slipping down and backing out as gracefully as possible. True, some of them still try to keep up the delusion by changing those whom they classed as Ministerialists the day of nomination to Oppositionists now, but such tricks are too glaring to deceive any but the stupidet. The full returns are now in and except to announce the return of Mr. Price (Tory) for Chicountimi, and therefore to add him to the Opposition side, there is no change to make in the figures rational and economical. Its objects is imme | we published last week The Mail has a diste relief and eventual cure. It is based | Montreal telegram to the effect that it is quite likely that M. Very he came to Boston on official secret business. In case of war he understood that Only35 Cents per Basket the officers and men of the Cimbria were to be sent to the Rossian naval station in the Pacific, called Viadovitch, from which point vessels could be manned and sent to their destination expeditionaly. He complained of the close watch that had been kept on his movements, since he arrive), by English agents. Gripenberg said Rossis had 1,500,000 men, with 300, 000 veterans encamped in the neighbourheed of Adrianople and San Stefano. The Russian navy of course was not so. effective as England's, but was supplied with effective ordnance, and commanded by experienced officers. The only towns in the Russian Empire that the English could attack with a navy were a few places in Finland; but it case the studies of the two countries should come in could attack, he believes England would find she had made a mistake.

Whom Not to Marry.

There seems to be a disposition among roung ladies, who need a lvice on matrimontal matters, to run to newspaper editors with their troubles. A couple of uch troubled young ladies recently wrote to the editor of the New York Sun for advice. It is a singular face they did not think of their home clergyman as the proper person to seek. But they did'nt. One of these young ladies says sho is courted by a young man, prepossessing in appearance, intelligent, and possessed of every qualification for making a good husband -in her opinion. But she had just learned that the young mans' father had been obliged to leave the country on account of passing counterfeit in ney. The second young lady gave a similar description of her lover-such descriptions are invariably similar-but adds that he is in the habit of going on drunkin sprees; on which occasions he "shows "have his time out" in another town. man should not be held responsible for sirable that blood so tainted should enter into the veins of a new generation. 'to the second he says the drunkard who will quired in a good husband." We repeat

RUSSIAN CRUISING. - The possibility of war and she presence of a Russian cruiser on the coast of Maine, not two hundred miles from the sesport city of St. John. has suggested to the Telegraph of that place the necessity of something practical being done by the Dominion Government for the protection of the city. It seems that there are to be five 68-pounder rifled guns mounted on the battery at Red Head and five more at Fort Dufferin; but it is doubted if these will afford sufficient protection to the city. In summer, there is seldom less than from forty to fifty thousand tons of shipping in the barbour, there are banks close by worth plundering, merchants worth robbing of supplies, and a city worth burning. The necessity of preparing against a possible attack by Russian cruisers on Canadian commerce is evident. Besides this, it must be remembered that St. John not only commands the Bay of Fundy and its important commerce, but that its position at the mouth of a great river which
