MEETING of M. D. Lancasterian School Society at 3 p.m. TENDERS for Drains, Sidewalks, Street Num bering, &c .. received at doon.

We are informed that "Mr. J.S. Ross ex-member, is the Conservative candidate" for the County of Dundas. Mi Ross will not be deprived of his title as ex member by the ordeal of the next election. Many are the Tory ex-members who are applying to the people for a revival of Parliamentary honours. They will be granted an indefinite lease of relief from the cares of public life.

The Western journals are beginning discover that the Tories of Ontario are just as deserving of the epithet "Taxationists" as lately were the Conservatives of Quebec. The term has been in use for some time in this region. The people hereabouts have had penetration enough to see that none were better entitled to the cognomen "Taxationist" chan the party which proposes to tax the poor man's food and fuel for the questionable benefit of the already well-to-do manufacturers. It is not going to work,

-this taxing the many for the benefit of the few. Tory and "Taxationist" are convertible terms. Protection is only the bait on the hook of taxation. That bait is too thin, however, and the 'look quite visible. The people are not thus to be caught. The arch angler is already doomed to disappointment and defeat.

The Tory journals have lately been quoting with much gusto from the Park hill Guette some stray phrase which seemed to reflect upon the Government. The organs thought, no doubt, they had got another Paris Star case in prospect. The following paragraph from the Gozette is sufficient to show with how much reason. It is not likely the Gazette will be further quoted by the Tory organs:

"The end of the present Conservative party, with allits antecedents of corruption and fraud, is at hand. Any Conservative party that may hereafter hope for success will require to throw overboard the present Conservative leaders, and start out with a fresh platform, without the fatal encumbrance of Sir John's sins to be held accountable for.

Weighted with so corrupt and unprincipled a leader as Sir John Macdonald undoubtedly is the Tories cannot win the race for power for which they are soon to enter. The Liberals of Kingston will do the Conservatives of the country a service, for which they a k no pay, and will get no thanks by putting a period to his political cateer, at any rate as member for King-

A BIT OF HISTORY.

Our contemporary has been supplying its readers with what it has been pleased to call a historical sketch of the 'facts' in connection with the removal of the Seat contemporary contends that it was a Reform Government which was responsible for this act, while we have pointed out that Sir John, at a banquet at Ottawa, took credit for having established Parliament there, and when "our member" (save the mark) made that famous speech at the Capital, he either meant what he said, or he deceived the people, or he did not know what he was talking about, which is not creditable to him in any sense. Now, we have carefully looked into the historical facts, and we have arrived at results which are more endurable than any which can be obtained by guess work and garbled extracts from prejudiced sources.

We find that the Provinces were united Capital, and in the new House the Reformers commanded a majority.

APOLITICAL PARALLEL.

The Octario history of the Tory party repeating itself in the province of Quebec. It will be remembered that about seven years ago the Conservative party in Ontario, just after the elections of that time, claimed to have secured a majority in the local Legislature even more strenuously and confidently than the Mail and a few of the never-say die organs of the party claim a majority now for the defunct DeBoucherville cabinet. When the Legislature met, the first test vote of straight want of confidence proved the parties to be pretty evenly divided, but the Reformers had it by a majority of one. Scarcely, however, had the Libe rals crossed the floor of the House than that majority began to grow, until it be came quite ample for the control of the Legislature and the efficient Government of the province, so manifest did it soon become that the Reformers were immeasurably superior to their Tory rivals in the art and habit of honest adminis tration. They have remained in power ever since, with a strong probability that their lease of office will be indefinitely extended. Once since their advent to power have the people given the Reformers Ontario their decided endorsement, with the certainty that the verdict of "well done" will be stil! more emphatically repeated at the next Ontario election. Similarly the turning point has been reached in the Province of Quebec There the battle has been successfully fought, though against tremendous odds. by the Liberal party. That they have won not only a moral victory but an actual majority is a fact conceded by even the Tory organs, except a few that are these were presented with a handsome ostrich-like, thrust their heads into the Board. However, it was only for half a mile, and can easily be explained from Hanlan's having had far too little practice in his new boat. At all events Plaisted, with his most determined efforts - and he did row for all he was worth-could not increase his lead one inch. When about an eighth of a mile had been traversed Hanlan began to creep up on Plaisted, and at 3m. 45 sec, from the start the pair were even for a moment, but only a moment, as Hanlan drew away from his antagonist, who was thus early decisively
