IS IT CURABLE 1

THOSE who have suffered from the various and a complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the amwer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED

can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANYORD's RADI I immediate relief afforded by SANYORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRY is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the masal passages is removed with a few applications, the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membraneous linings of the head are cleaned and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the ocid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

COMPLICATED CASE. Gentlemen, - My case is briefly as follows : I have and Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthema so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compet me to get up several times in the night to clear is and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of Banford's Radical Cubs. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no beadache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the Cubs on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the Radical Cubs. Very respectfully.

A Parisian Beauty's Revenge.

An English marchioness resided in the Legitimist faubourg, and avoiding the Napoleonites as 'low,' gave grand parties.

To one of these an English lady took, uninvited, a pretty French woman, a friend of the Empress. The pretty woman made hereelf conspicuous by her prettiness and flirtations, but the marchioness found out who she was and was disgusted. She said to her: 'I am so conscious of the honour you have done me in visiting me that I dare not expect a repitition of

The pretty woman grew pale, but smiled and ordered a cavalier to order her carriage. The pretty woman was clever, and finessed a ravenge. She bribed the marchioness' femme de chamber to give her the list of guests invited for the next soiree. Armed with this she prepared a circular note, which she despatched to each of the invited late in the atternoon of the appointed day-"The marchioness presents her compliments to so and so, and regrets that a domestic calamity will prevent her "etc." She then went to a great 'Mad Doctor,' representing herself as the daughter of the marchioness, and acting with the consent of her ladyship's family. She represented that her mother, the marchioness, was afflicted with insanity, and her maduess was in the delusion that she was always having great parties.

For instance, if Monsieur the doctor would go to her ladyship's hotel that evening, he would find her dressed in
