PROTECTION IS BOTHWELL.

(St. Thomas Home Journal.)

The Tory taxationists, candidate in Bothwell does not appear to have made much headway in enlightening his supporters on the great trade question—judging from the following conversation which took place between a Ridgetown store-keeper and a country blacksmithe.

Taxationists—Mr. Anvil, we intend to increase the taxation of everything imported that we can manufacture or produce ourselves; we are going to keep the foreign articles out.

Anvil—What will you tax?

Taxationists—Iron, steel, nails, tools, screws, bolts, horse-shoes, and coal.

Anvil—(opening his eyes wide)—Anything more?

Taxationist—O yes! Flour, corn, grain of all kinds, woollens, cottons, shoes—everything.

Anvil—I buy and use everything you have mentioned. What are you going to do for me and other labouring blacksmiths?

Taxationist—What! Why there will be thousands of blacksmiths attracted into the country; wages will go down; everything else will go up.

Anvil—Then what will I, and my wife, and my children do? Everything I use will be increased in price! Everything I wear will be increased in price! Increased competition in labor will lower my earnings. Please tell me what benefit I am to get from protection?

Taxationist—O well, of course—ahem, ahem—of course, of course, the whole thing will have to be readjusted.

Anvil—Readjusted, you say! I call it robbery and starvation.

CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE.—Pretty nice work. Cleopatra's Needle, with the girders and iron jacket, weighs 202 tons. A fortnight ago they got it into position upon the girders and poised it so exactly that with his single strength Mr. John Dixon made the spex describe an arc of several inches. The pivot on which the immense mass is balanced is 27 feet six inches from the lower end of the monument. A calculation made before they began to raise it placed the theoretical centre of gravity at the height of 27 feet three inches.

THE WAY IT'S DONE.—The "Chieftain" says to his lieutenants.—"Tupper, you "hoodwink your fellow countrymen in "Nova Scotia; Tilley, you soft sawder the "New Brunswickers; Pope, you Bamboozle the Islanders; Morris, you draw "the wool over the eyes of the Manitobans; and as for myself, I will try my "well known powers of humbugging the "manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec." That is the way Sir John A Macdonald is conducting the electoral campaign.
