The firm of Harris, Son & Co. has been one of the most successful in our city.

From the first day on which they opened their establishment here for the manufacture of the Kirby Respers and Mow-ers, their business has continually aug-mented until they now find it absolutely necessary to erset another building quite as capacions as the one in which they turned out nearly two thousand machines torned out nearly two thousand machines this year. The contract has been let for a brick structure eighty by forty-two a brick structure eighty by forty-two feet, four storage high. The work has already been commenced by W. Watt, already been commenced by W. Watt, sen., the contractor, and will be completed soon. This fact is better than any theory about hard times and the suffering manufacturer. Not only does this firm show that prosperity is attending their energetically conducted business, their energetically conducted business, but others in town afford similar evitheir energetically conducted business, but others in town afford similar evidence.
